

HOP YARD SUIT HOLDS INTEREST FOR SILVERTON

Silverton—Of vital interest to the Silverton people is the suit being brought against John Morley by his nephew, F. M. Morley, who has been considered one of the largest individual producers of hops in the Pacific northwest. Over a period of 25 years, F. M. Morley has raised and sold more than a half million dollars worth of hops. Of this amount, the larger part of which came from England, the plaintiff has paid out between $25,000 and $50,000 a year in wages, most of which was distributed in the local community, placing the plaintiff among those individuals who have put into circulation among the working people large amounts of actual cash that has done immediate service.

The suit in question is concerning two 60 acre hop yards in the local community in connection with which there are leases involved. F. M. Morley says the assignment to John Morley was for only for a year, and asks an accounting, he also explains how the uncle came into possession.

Guy O. Smith, Salem attorney, for F. M. Morley, has filed a complaint against the uncle, John Morley, asking reassignment of leases on two hop yards, which he alleges, he assigned to the uncle in 1931, with the understanding that they were to be returned for the growing of the present season's crop.

The plaintiff names the Henry Zoller and the Klein brothers hop yards east of Silverton as those involved in the suit. These tracts each contain approximately 60 acres, and F. M. Morley declares that he has been the lessee since March, 1931. Both yards are considered among the best for production in the valley.

According to the plaintiff, the uncle came into possession of the yards by contracting, in May, 1931, to raise 100,000 pounds of hops for a London firm at 17 cents a pound, a deal that would have amounted to $17,000. This firm, the plaintiff states, was to have made two cash advances, one for $8,000 on February 15, 1931, the other, also for $8,000 on August 15 of the same year, but failed to do so.

Further, according to the plaintiff, complications were focalized when members of the English firm refused to advance the specific amounts, largely because, as stated in the complaint, they were not certain the plaintiff could produce and deliver the necessary amount of hops.

It was agreed, however, after a lapse of time, to allow the leases to be assigned over to the plaintiff's uncle, providing he would handle the crop, which he agreed to do, according to the complaint. But, the plaintiff adds, he agreed to make such an assignment, only for one year. The uncle, as a result of the transaction, as is declared by the plaintiff, was to receive two-fifths of the net proceeds, the plaintiff, the balance.

Thus, instead of returning the leases on the two yards, the plaintiff says, the uncle continues to possess, and so he, the plaintiff, asks that in addition to the yards being turned over to him, there be an accounting, and that he also receive $327 credit due him on the 1931 crop.

TURKEY RAISING FOUND PROFITABLE

Jefferson—Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Aupperle are finding their venture in turkey-raising very profitable at their farm on the Green's bridge road two miles southeast of Jefferson. Five years ago they started in the turkey business with three hens and one tom. Today their flock numbers 1400, one of the best strains of Monmouth bronze in the country.

The laying hens are selected and segregated from the rest of the flock—20 to the pen; 24 laying pens in all. The eggs are carefully gathered and some are sold to breeders for hatching purposes at 20 cents each during the first of the season. Some are saved and taken to Albany where the Aupperles have them incubated at the Burton hatchery.

Mr. and Mrs. Aupperle specialize in selling breeding stock to valley breeders as well as eggs for incubation and fowls for the market. Last season eight persons were occupied dressing turkeys for the holiday markets. They were sold to the Portland Produce company and through the turkey association.

Brooks—Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hardin and Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Long of Orville, Calif., are visiting friends and relatives in Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. Hardin are the parents of Mrs. Roy R. Cole of Eos.

INDEPENDENCE SAND, GRAVEL PLANT CLOSED

Independence—The Independence Sand & Gravel plant was closed this week so far as crushed rock is concerned, as the plant was condemned by the state labor commission as being unsafe. The company is permitted to empty its bins, where is stored a considerable quantity of sand and gravel and crushed rock. Large ground dumps of crushed materials and sand are available for public use but as far as operations are concerned the plant is closed.

This came at an inopportune time as the company is in the midst of large contracts for materials for highway construction in this county and also for materials for the Sheridan project.

This plant was established about 20 years ago and was operated for several years under the management of the late Marshall Pengra. For the past few years it has been managed under the management of C. G. Skinner, with C. K. Spaulding Logging company a large stockholder.

Just what will be done relative to the construction of a new plant Mr. Skinner is not prepared to state, but tentative plans for the reconstruction of a plant farther up stream toward the point of the island, which is their base of supply, has been in mind for some time.

The company owns considerable stretch of water front near their present plant and there is an inexhaustible supply of good gravel and sand which will be more modern and less expensive to operate.

It has been known for some time that the present plant was shaky but it was hoped by the management that present contracts might be filled before the order came to close down.

Author Of Salem Has Volume Ready

Jefferson—The Jefferson library is under obligations to Mrs. J. O. Postaine for a copy of the new book, "The Mystic Chain of Discovery," by W. T. Rigdon of Salem. Rigdon was one of the early residents of Jefferson and his book will be of special interest to local people.

Another very interesting feature added to the library recently is an article on the early settlement and development of Jefferson by Jesse Stetler Douglas, descendant of Jesse and Ruby Looney. This has been contributed by the historical society of Portland.

LATHAM SEEKS RECEIVERSHIP

Silverton—H. B. Latham, cashier of the First National bank that voluntarily closed its doors Monday, August 1, is among the candidates for appointment as receiver by the federal government. Business firms and professional depositors are endeavoring the appointment of Latham, feeling that he would be able to liquidate the institution in less time than would an outsider.

Both Senators Charles L. McNary and Frederick Stetler have expressed approval of Latham being named to handle the situation. It was reported Thursday that the receiver would be appointed by the close of the week.

The examiner, who came at the request of the president, T. A. Haight, and the board of directors, has practically completed his findings, and will leave as soon as the receiver arrives for work.

Haight, president of the bank, has accepted a position with the Reconstruction Finance company with headquarters at Portland, and began his work the first of the week. He came to Silverton about a year ago, displacing T. P. Ristagen as president. Haight served 13 years as an officer of the Federal Reserve bank at Los Angeles and has been connected with banking concerns in the east, previous to his coming here. Depositors seem to be keeping faith in a return of 100 per cent payment.

Fire Department To Be Discussed

Molalla—The city council and the members of the Molalla volunteer fire department will meet Monday night, August 15 to discuss ways and means of buying a lighter fire equipment that will be speedy. As it is the city is unprotected when the fire truck is on a country call. If a light and speedy equipment is purchased it can be used for the country calls. The purchasing of this equipment will depend on whether the farmers want this added protection or not.

Juvenile Grangers Name New Leaders

Silverton—Members of the Ankeny Juvenile Grange held their regular meeting recently at the grange hall with the new matron, Mrs. Frank Kleper, in charge. Officers were elected to fill the vacancies which have been made by youngsters moving away. They were filled as follows: Master, Keith Brown; overseer, Donald Kingsley; steward, Frank Brown, Jr.; assistant steward, Arthur Bainter. Plans were made for each member to bring material at the next regular meeting to make booklets for sick children.

School Date Set

Scio—Schools will open Monday, September 19, according to announcement of F. A. Gallegly, principal of the high school. Most of the teachers employed last year will return to the work here.

KRIEGER IS KICKED

Talbot—Frank Krieger had a very painful accident Wednesday afternoon when he was kicked on the leg by a horse belonging to Ernest Henningson. Krieger's leg was badly bruised but the local doctor found no bones broken.

Silverton—Mr. and Mrs. Wilmet Kester are spending this week as guests of their daughter and family Mrs. Oral Ray at Cloverdale.

MOLALLA CLUB PLANS ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW

Molalla—The third annual flower show which is sponsored by the Molalla Civic club will be held Saturday, August 27 in the gymnasium of the Molalla union high school during the afternoon and evening. Mrs. George Blatchford is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements and is assisted by Mrs. W. W. Everhart and Mrs. Frank Dicken.

All of the surrounding communities are invited to enter exhibits at this show. The exhibits are to be in place by 11 a. m. and each exhibitor is requested to furnish containers for their flowers. Ribbons will be presented to the winners in each group. As yet the judges for the flowers have not been chosen.

The flowers will be judged according to their classification. As a single of any variety, best basket or bouquet. Cosmos, best basket or bouquet. Dahlias, best single, show cactus, pruned, decorative, pom pom, or best basket or bouquet. Delphinium, best display, best one spike, best three spikes, or best basket or bouquet. Gladiolus, best display, best single flower of any variety, best basket or bouquet. Marigold, best basket or bouquet of each variety. Lilies, best spike or best basket or bouquet. Straw flower, best basket or bouquet. Zinnias, best display, best basket or bouquet of mixed flowers. Best display of flowers by any garden or community club. Best display of flowers by individual growers. Best single potted plant. Any other entries not listed will also be judged in their class.

SILVERTON BAND PLANNING CONCERT

Silverton—The next concert to be presented by Hal L. Campbell and his school band will take place Wednesday evening at the Coolidge and McClaine park. This will be the sixth concert sponsored by members of the community with the object of raising the public's musical entertainment, and also to keep the school band together during the vacation period. The plan has been most successful, as large crowds attend the concerts, and the band, by intensive rehearsals, have added considerably to their repertoire and experience as a concert organization.

Start On Berries

Mt. Angel—Frank W. Gillette, manager of the Mt. Angel Producers Packing company announced that the local cannery will start to can blackberries this week and will be able to take care of all of its members in this locality. There is also a possibility that later on they will also pack prunes. The price that the cannery will pay is not yet known, however, as the pack is pooled through the Producers plant.

BOEIMS ARE BACK

Lalish Center—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boehm and son, Clyde, returned Wednesday afternoon from Deforest, Wis., where they have been visiting Boehm's mother and other relatives since the first of July. Boehm's mother will be remembered by many here as she spent a winter here with her son several years ago.

Depot Will Close

Falls City—The Southern Pacific station will be closed here August 19. A caretaker will be appointed by the S. P. company to take care of the freight.

THISTLE SPRAY SUCCESS

Monmouth—Albert Tetherow of the Elkins community reports to County Agent Beck that he has had good results from spraying thistles with chlorate salt. Tetherow sprayed a patch of Canadian thistles July 4, 1931, and only a few at the edge of the patch have grown at all since. Tetherow has purchased more material for continued warfare on this weed pest.

Attendance Drive Will Start Sunday

Lalish Center—Church services will get back to schedule here Sunday after a two weeks' vacation due to the summer encampment at Jennings Lodge, with Sunday school opening promptly at 10 o'clock, announced Superintendent W. A. Starker. An attendance contest is being held. The boys and girls, "driving" separate cars, are on a vacation motor tour. Each side is allowed to go a mile for each member present. The trip started at Jerusalem and progress is indicated on a large chart. The girls are ahead at the present time.
