SHADINESS OF PRICE IN LOCAL MART

Portland, Ore., Oct. 21 (AP)—Unwillingness of Portland to pay a premium for butter above 91 score is indicated in the almost general price shading for 92 score cubes and prints in the local trade.

While general quotations on cube butter were reported as fairly well maintained on the local market, the top score was dragging wearily with sales forced at the reductions.

There continues a fair demand from outside points which is enabling the trade to clean up fairly well but in general the market appears to merely be holding its own although under bullish influence of storage speculators.

Butterfat values continue steady to firm but are generally unchanged in range.

Market for eggs continues to reflect general steadiness and strength in spots for fresh stock but the bulk of the sale continues in storage goods. Prices are unchanged.

Trading in cheese continues to reflect steadiness at Tillamook with prices maintained. Some northwest stock is still looking for a home and is being offered at extremely low figures.

Efforts to put heavy hen buying prices up to 15c lb. appear to have failed here with receivers claiming their inability to secure a movement above 14c lb. There is no change in mediums and lights.

Market for old hen turkeys is easier with 18c the general top and 16c for old toms. New crop hens and toms are ranging mostly 20-22c lb. for No. 1 birds. Some country purchases are reported.

An advice received here says that the price on late Howe cranberries has been named by Wisconsin distributors at $8 per bbl. which is the same price as the exchange named for early blacks from other eastern states. Local cranberry market continues very slow.

There was no change for the day in country killed meat prices but veal are still in a big oversupply with considerable carryover from yesterday. Hogs and lambs are steady.

Sale of onions at Willamette valley points are still restricted with dealers negotiating with China and the Philippines for additional stocks. However the Orient is not seemingly anxious to pay an advance for late delivery.

A few small lots of fresh crabs are arriving.

Halibut market appears a trifle firmer.

Potato trade is confined mostly to Oregon stock with Yakimas experiencing difficulty especially on the poor stuff.

Oyster sales have slowed up considerably with talk of higher prices.

Cold weather in the east is expected to stimulate sales of cauliflower and lettuce for shipment.

Grape trade is unusually weak with depression especially shown for wine offerings and for Concords.

IDAHO HORSES ON BLOCK AT BIG SHOW

North Portland, Oct. 21 (AP)—University of Idaho entries brought the highest prices to date in the sales of fat stock at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition here.

The grand champion fat sheep was purchased at the auction by O. M. Plummer, manager of the exposition, for 25 cents a pound. Next highest price was 16 cents a pound for the champion shorthorn steer. In the hog alleys, Idaho university also took top price when Swift and company bought its champion barrow at 10 cents a pound.

A carload of Aberdeen Angus steers, entered by Congdon and Battles of Yakima, Wash., brought 9½ cents a pound when bid in by the States Steamship line.

CLEARING STARTED ON SANTIAM ROAD

County Judge Siegmund, Commissioner Porter and Roadmaster Johnson who were up at the camp on the North Santiam highway where road clearing work has started on a new section, yesterday picked up a pick-axe, shovel and clevis from a wagon whiffletree which were part of the equipment used when the railroad was being constructed into the mountains 46 years ago. While the handle were rotted off the shovel and pick the implements themselves were in almost perfect condition. By coincidence the camp which has been pitched by the road grading contractors is almost on the spot where the railroad construction crew had their's and remains of the old rotted down construction camp can still be seen.

The officials stated work is now under way on the clearing job although not quite fairly organized. A shovel is at work at the start of the clearing, one team and some men and the contractor asked for more men. The camp is at Pamelia creek.

SALVAGE GOLD IN SUNKEN STEAMER

Brest, France, Oct. 21 (AP)—The salvage ship Artiglio, giving up the undersea quest for the golden treasure of the sunken liner Egypt for the winter was laid up here today after bringing up a total of $3,750,000 in gold from the wreck. In April, the Artiglio will set out from Brest to seek the remaining treasure aboard, estimated at $1,600,000.

PACKING PLANT BUSY

Liberty—The Jory Packing plant is at work packing prunes with a full crew. This plant gives employment to a number of people during the winter months and its policy is to employ local people.

WHEAT PRICES RALLY FROM EARLY DECLINE

Chicago, Oct. 21 (AP)—Increased complaints of dry weather in western Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma did a good deal to rally wheat prices late today from early declines.

Another bullish factor was evidenced movement of wheat to terminal markets both sides of the Canadian boundary was sharply falling off. For the first time in several days, there were indications of liberal amounts of North American wheat taken for export.

Wheat closed unsettled at ¼-¾ decline to a shade advance compared with yesterday's finish, corn ¼-¾ up, oats unchanged to a shade lower, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 2 cents.

Wheat prices tended downward early today, influenced by bearish action of securities. Upturns of Liverpool wheat quotations had little apparent influence as an offset. Opening ¼-½ lower, Chicago wheat futures underwent additional setbacks. Corn started at ¼-¾ advance and receded somewhat.

HOOVER WORKS ON GRAIN ISSUE

Chicago, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Chicago Tribune says negotiations are reported under way between President Hoover and the Chicago board of trade on the question of lifting restrictions on trading in grain futures with the view of easing the market situation.

The Tribune recalls that P. B. Carey, president of the board of trade, and other representatives had a conference with President Hoover three weeks ago in Washington. Since then, the Tribune said, it had been learned on what appeared to be good authority that President Hoover had instructed Walter Newton, one of his secretaries, to confer with Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde, who was said to have looked favorably on the board of trade's plans.

Restrictions on trading in grain futures have been complained of for years. Under present regulations all open trades of 500,000 bushels of wheat, corn and oats, and 200,000 bushels of rye, must be reported to the grain futures administration.

The negotiations under way, according to the Tribune, would, if successful, provide for the handling of these reports by the board of trade clearing house.

"There have been conjectures also," the Tribune said, "that if the restrictions on futures trading are eased, an agreement might be reached with the government whereby the board of trade might give the federal farm board subsidiary, the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, the privileges of the clearing house."

MILLS OPERATE AT 21.4 OF CAPACITY

Portland, Oct. 21 (AP)—The 117 mills reporting to the Western Pine association for the week ending October 15, operated at an average of 21.4 per cent of capacity as compared with 19.5 per cent the previous week and 20.2 per cent for the year to date. During the week 53 mills were operating at an average of 36.7 per cent of capacity and the balance (64 mills) were down.

Production for the week amounted to 29,713,000 feet, while shipments totaled 42,264,000 feet, and orders were 38,497,000 feet. Unfilled orders decreased 3,767,000 feet.

Current new business increased 857,000 feet, or 2.2 per cent over last week. Production increased 1,855,000 feet, and shipments were 1,092,000 feet more than the week before.

For the year to date orders were 28.4 per cent under the 1931 orders for the same period, shipments were 29.8 per cent less than they were a year ago, and production showed a decrease of 35.9 per cent under 1931 production for the corresponding weeks.

HOP CROP LIGHT MARION AND POLK

The federal crop reporting bureau in Portland in connection with its latest bulletin on the hop situation gives the following summary on conditions in Marion and Polk counties:

Marion county: "Crop was generally light with the picking season lasting about seven days compared to 12 in 1931, or about a similar ratio depending upon the size of the yard. Hops were of medium size generally, although the size varied greatly. Yield in some yards was not over 40 to 50 per cent of last year. In some cases the hops did not close and were hard to pick. Where the sizes ran smaller, many of the hops were light and fluffy, weighing out around 42 pounds per box. Mildew damage was extremely variable with estimated damage ranging from two to 50 per cent. Some inclined to attribute light small hops to unfavorable spring weather. Late clusters were generally poorer than early clusters which in some yards, on favorable land, yielded up to 3,000 pounds per acre. Mildew caused uneven blooming and maturing (but hops were cleaner picked this year than ever before). Yields are generally below last year and very few got as many hops as they expected. Most yards fell 30 to 45 per cent short of last year although some only 10 per cent short of a year ago. Hops dried out in ratio of about one pound to four pounds green, some were lighter."

Polk county: "Hops were of average size generally although the size varied greatly, with damage from mildew and blight and cold weather during the growing season ranging from 20 to 50 per cent. The droughty conditions of the latter part of the season probably accounts for part of the short crop. The supply of pickers was too plentiful and the suggestion is made that the public be informed though publicity mediums when sufficient pickers have been hired."

COLD STORAGE HOLDINGS OF TURKEYS LIGHT

Corvallis, Oct. 21 (AP)—The lightest cold storage holdings of turkeys in the United States for this season since 1921 are shown in the October 1 report which reveals only 2,591,000 pounds held on that date, according to the federal market survey bulletin issued today by the extension service of Oregon State college. This figure, it is pointed out, is 18 per cent under last year at the corresponding period, and 45 per cent below the average.

"Both present supplies and the estimated probable production this season," the report said, "are taken into account in establishing market values and no official turkey crop estimates have been issued yet. The outlook for future values is still uncertain. Argentine imports this season have been but a fraction of last year, with the movement now about over.

"Early turkey prices on a Portland f. o. b. basis were published during the week ranging from 20 cents for No. 1 young toms 13 to 16 pounds and young hens seven pounds or over, down to 13 cents for No. 2 hens and toms. These prices are somewhat under those of a year ago."

"Pacific coast egg markets were a little unsettled during the week," the report said, "but only minor price changes occurred either east or west. Pacific coast eggs continue to top the New York market at 39 cents. Production generally declined a bit but gained slightly in Oregon and Washington."

DEALS MADE IN REAL ESTATE

That real estate is moving in Salem is shown by the report of 18 recent deals made by the Leo N. Childs company, local realtors. The 18 properties involved a consideration totaling approximately $110,575. The transactions are as follows:

PORTLAND BANKER DIES SUDDENLY

Portland, Oct. 21 (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Saturday for Carl G. Liebe, 59, investment banker, and sportsman, who died suddenly Thursday while awaiting treatment in a doctor's office.

He left home Thursday morning, apparently in good health. An hour later, bothered with what he believed was a sudden attack of indigestion, he went to his physician. While waiting, he collapsed on a couch and died a moment later from a heart attack.

Liebe had been in the investment businesse here for 20 years. His widow, two brothers and two sisters survive.

WOOL PRICES HOLDING FIRM DEMAND SLOW

Boston, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Commercial bulletin will say tomorrow:

The demand for wool has been slow but there have been piecings-out sales in a small way of nearly every quality at prices which have been fairly well maintained, on the whole, although it must be said that the market is still in favor of the buyer.

Some three million pounds of fall wools have been sold in Texas at prices reported as ranging from 10 to 11¼ cents.

Manufacturers are reporting slower business in piece goods but they are still operating well towards capacity in old contracts and are expectant of a resumption of business in light weight fabrics in the couse of the next few weeks.

The foreign markets have been slightly in favor of the buyer this week, Australia being down nearly five per cent. Bradford reports fair business at slightly lower prices.

Mohair is slow and unchanged.

The bulletin will publish the following quotations;

Scoured basis:

Oregon—Fine and f. m. staple 44-46; fine and f. m. first combing 41-42; fine and f. m. clothing 36-38; valey No. 1, 40-42.
