Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 28 (AP)—Rallying the American federation of labor against the "evil of racketeering," Secretary of Labor William D. Doak told the convention today, "the time has come to call a spade a spade."

In a post-address interview with newspapermen, the secretary said his wife last month had received a telephone message warning her that if Secretary Doak made a scheduled address in Brooklyn he would be killed.

"Racketeering grows from what it feeds on," he said before the convention, "and it has spread from the minor fields of graft to violence on the greater fields occupied by virtually all our large legitimate industries."

The secretary urged the convention to take a stand for a five-day work week and six-hour day. The department heads, he said, has forced work to open a safe and virtually all those preying on unsuspecting aliens.

EAGLE OFFICIALS PLACED ON TRIAL

New York, Nov. 28 (AP)—Conrad Mann, Kansas City business man and former republican national committee man from Missouri, and three co-defendants went on trial today before Judge Frank J. Coleman, charged with violating the federal lottery laws.

Mann, head of the fraternal Order of Eagles, is being indicted by Judge Coleman on charges of promoting a Washington court rulling upholding denial of his radio license that "we expected this decision, because of certain political connections."

An attempt by counsel for Mann to have the indictments dismissed on the grounds there was insufficient evidence before the grand jury failed. Judge Coleman also refused to grant the defendant the privilege of seeing the grand jury minutes.

Examination of talsman began shortly after court convened this afternoon.

One of the talsmen admitted knowing anyone connected with the case, Judge Coleman ordered an adjournment until 2 p. m. tomorrow, at which time the talsmen were to be further questioned.

BYRD RETORTS TO MR. JOHNSON. Boston, Nov. 28 (AP)—Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd feels "complimented" by the charges that he is a "stalking horse."

In replying to a statement made in Richmond, Va., Saturday night by Louis A. Johnson, national commander of the American Legion, Byrd felt "constrained to thank Commander Johnson for his mild statement, that compared to the statements of a million veterans here have been making about the country, is a grand and wonderful compliment."

Johnson had spoken of Admiral Byrd as "unwittingly and unintentionally" the "stalking horse for the one person out of 7,900 of our population who is against the Veterans of America."

Admiral Byrd, chairman of the national economy league, said that if he was a "stalking horse" as charged, "then I am stalking for the suffering masses of the unemployed."

The admiral said he respected the "sincerity of Commander Johnson's statements because I know him to be a real patriot," and he expressed appreciation at "the commander's elevating me to the rank of a stalking horse for the greatest nation in the world outside of the United States."

Repeating to Johnson's statements concerning the national economy league, Admiral Byrd reiterated his belief that "the people of this country must combine, as in war, to cut the cost of government."

ROBINSON PLANS SENATE GROUPS

Warm Springs, Ga., Nov. 28 (AP)—Senator Robinson of Arkansas, democratic leader, said today after a visit to the cottage of President-elect Roosevelt, that he expected to set up several unofficial committees before the short session opened to begin the formulation of legislation on farm relief, beer, budget matters and the reorganization of government departments.

The senator was one of a large group of visitors who talked with Mr. Roosevelt. He returned to the cottage later for an afternoon conference on general legislative matters.

In the other group were Henry A. Wallace, an Iowa agricultural editor, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., of New York, and L. Wilson of the Montana State Agricultural college. They were called here to discuss farm relief with the president-elect.

Robinson said he thought the chances for the enactment of legislation legalizing beer at the special session were good and that he regarded a filibuster as the only thing that might stand in the way of passage. He added that he did not know of any one in the senate who would be likely to lead a filibuster.

The unofficial committees which Senator Robinson proposes to create would make a study of the subjects to which they would be assigned with an idea of expediting the passage of measures along those lines.

Continuation of—VANDEVORT TO

(FROM PAGE ONE) delivering the liquor, and the police, particularly "the head of the police department," with confounding gambling. Reports are that the ministerial association did not receive Hartwell very cordially, and that Rev. B. Earl Parker of the First Methodist church objected to his charges as "eleventh hour" campaign activity.

Officer Winslow heard about the Hartwell charges and an altercation between Winslow and Hartwell followed shortly afterward on the street.

The next development was Hartwell's appearance before the city council last Monday night, where he claimed he had been unjustifiably "beaten up" by an officer. At the demand of Alderman Vandevort, who defended the police, Hartwell read the assertions he had made before the ministerial association.

The exchange of language between Vandevort and Hartwell was heated.

TWO FILIPINOS UNDER ARREST

Two Filipinos were before Justice of the Peace Hayden today following their arrests Saturday night, which were part of an aftermath of a party at the home of Mrs. Rose Farlow, 637 North Front street, and a woman, Carmella Carino, is also under arrest and held in custody at the Salem Deaconsess hospital.

One of the men, Justo Llanes Singson of Salem, is charged in justice court with being in unlawful possession of a loaded pistol, and on possession of a house, and on possession of a pistol. In justice court, after advising with his attorney, he took 24 hours in which to decide on and enter his plea.

The other Filipino, Paustino Dulca Miseros of Portland, is charged with being in unlawful possession of metal "knives." He pleaded not guilty and bail was fixed at $100, which was not furnished, and he is held in jail.

The charge against the woman, also of Portland, is being drunk and disorderly. As far as known the weapons were not furnished by the men at the party at the Farlow house, but were found in their car. The officers were called to the house, however, to quell a fight. The Farlow home was one of the places visited by members of the Eddy family and others preceding the fatal shooting of Lloyd Eddy by Harry Expanding alias Coleman last spring. The Farlows at that time lived at a different place from their present home.

HIGHWAYS FUNDS USED FOR POLICE

County Clerk Boyer expects to meet with County Clerk Dillard of Lane county tomorrow in connection with details of the state convention of the clerks but will also inquire of Dillard as to the basis of a bill for $14,647.32 which Lane county has rendered to the state highway commission.

According to the report from Lane county, Dillard sent the bill to the highway commission claiming that that much money has been withheld from Lane county's share of the one-third refund on automobile licenses and was used to assist in paying costs of the state police. Dillard is quoted as saying the district attorney of Lane county has held that Lane county's share of the fund cannot be drawn on for this purpose.

County Clerk Boyer states that there is no evidence in Marion county's share of the highway fund that such deduction has been made, but Lane county may have received its last refund from the fund not yet received by Marion county. If there is a basis for it undoubtedly Marion county will render a similar bill for what it thinks is due this county.
