Radical New Kind of Antiseptic for Feminine Hygiene

Safer—and More Certain

Just think what it must mean to the fastidious, careful woman to have at least an antiseptic more powerful than any she has used before and therefore more SURE in its effect! And at the same time one that is absolutely safe and dependable that you can actually drink it! Many people do—night and morning—to protect against fetid breath from food poisoning in the stomach. Their physicians tell them to!

For your health's sake, insist on this unusually efficient new kind of antiseptic. You can get Kojene at Perry's drug store or any other first-class drug store. adv.
