through the bonus commission.
Accompanying the letter was an opinion from the attorney general covering the situation in which the attorney general holds that the state is not required to pay taxes on property title to which is acquired by the state through fore-closure on a mortgage given to secure payment of a loan from the bonus commission. The attorney general advises that the state was owner of the property from the time it made a bid at sheriff's sale, although the holder of the certificate of delinquency claimed that the state did not own the premises as far as taxation is concerned until the sheriff's deed was issued.

ACTION ASKED,

Chicago, Feb. 6 (P) — Discontent attred the ranks of the mortgaged today while law-making bodies con-sidered emergency relief measures with sympathy but without concrete earlier.

Threats of violence accompanied preparations for tax sales at New Hampton and Grundy Center, Iowa, today. Leaders declared the gathering farmers were ready to take whatevers action necessary to protect their neighbors' property from the auticioner's hammer.

Milo Reno, president of the National Farmers Holiday association, was hopeful the change of administrations next month would be followed by a measure of relief. He was alient on the farmers' plants for the future if help does not materialize. The moratorium idea extended southward over the week-end to Louisiana where Governor O. K. Allen declared a legal holiday throughout the state Saturday to permit officials of the $64,000,000 Hibernia Bank's Trust Company to negotiate for a $20,000,000 loan from the reconstruction finance corporation.

Washingotn, D. C., and the appeal should be within four weeks from date of the notice, which was issued at San Francisco February 3 by Thomas M. Robins, division engineer in charge there.

The plan for canalization of the Williamette river has been a dream in the valley for years. A few years ago Senator McNary secured funds for a survey as to the feasibility of the project and since that time engineers have been going over the situation, data have been secured both as to costs and possible revenues to be derived from canal operations, and a survey made of the general advantages to be derived.

Barry today called the committee's attention to the investigation of charges by the senate lobby committee a year or two ago that senators had received money from those interested in the sugar tariff.

He testified a fair reading of the text of the article would have shown his purpose was to "proclaim the integrity of the congress as a whole."

Barry sald he would "unhesitatingly tender" an apology if his article was interpreted as "an attack on the integrity of the senate."

If he were guilty of an attack on the integrity of the senate, Barry said, he would resign. He was called to the stand at his own request.

In his written statement, Barry referred to a letter written by Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota, as chairman of the senate campaign expenditures committee to the late Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, then chairman of the lobby investigating committee. It contained a statement by S. S. Eveland that he believed Senator, Davis, republican, Pennsylvania, was "receiving money from Dahlberg (B. G. Dahlber, president of the Celotex company and other concerns) for favora which he, Davis, was rendering particularly during the tariff fight here."

Mr. Eveland, the letter said, "is of the opinion that many thousands of dollars were paid by Dahlberg to Davis," The lobby committee later in vestigated the case but review.
