

FLAX INDUSTRY EXPLAINED FOR SCIO GATHERING

Scio—The two linen mills at Salem are leaders in their lines in the United States, according to Lyle P. Bartholomew of that city, who discussed the flax and linen industries in detail at the February meeting of the Scio Parent-Teacher association. Samples of the finished product were displayed and explained by the speaker, who headed the delegation from Salem which put on the entertainment program for the evening. The Willamette university speaker who was to have addressed the meeting was unable to be present, Bartholomew stated. "Twine for fish nets and many other staple articles are manufactured at Salem. Table and bedroom linens lead the best markets, the speaker said, and the mills are now negotiating for a half-million-dollar order. About 70 persons are employed in the mills when they are operating at capacity, it was stated. Competition with Russian linen, an alleged inferior product of peasant labor, is a serious handicap to the operation of the Salem mills at this time, the speaker explained that seven centimeter dollars worth of such goods are dumped into the United States every year. It was also stated that the Willamette valley produces more flax per acre than does the old country and that the quality is equally as good.

Bartholomew also exhibited many samples of building material, including outer structural supplies and many interior finishings. "Oregon logging mills will never operate on as large a scale as formerly for the reason that imitation materials now are manufactured at lower prices than the old lumber products demand," he said. Cement-sawdust compositions and other substitutes and imitations were shown and explained. Old stumps are being treated and mixed with cement for walls and finishings, he stated, and many compositions are supplanting shingles for roofing. Bob Hutcheon and the "Pop-Eye Quartet" of Willamette university, staged a program of songs and skits, with Miss Hutcheon as accompanist. Hutcheon is a native of Scotland and appeared on the stage in kilts and other apparel of the fatherland. The quartet was composed of Louis Magin, Ralph Foster, Robert Smith, Earl "Shrimp" Henry, David Smith and O. F. Wilson, all of Salem, accompanied the men to Scio.

Doris Klint, vice president of the local Parent-Teacher association, presided during the session. She announced that pupils from the third, fourth, seventh and eighth grades would furnish the program for the March meeting of the association. A skit from the glee club operetta was staged, and a song service led by Miss Gardner closed the session. The treasurer reported $11.53 as net proceeds of the annual teacher banquet January 21 and a total of $119.22 now in the treasury.

Girls' Sewing Club Meets Adam's Home

Woodburn—The regular meeting of the girls' 4-H sewing club was held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Adams Friday afternoon. The girls decided to have a contest on the stage work, the finishing first to be entertained by the losers. Captains are Marybelle Adams and Leota Howe. The mothers will be invited to the entertainment. Miss Sylvia Tehle, vice president, presided over the meeting and Miss Jean Beers assisted as secretary.

Mrs. Fay Improves

Silverton—Mrs. Mary Fay is much improved and the fractured bones of her knees are commencing to knit, according to the report of the attending physician. Mrs. Fay, who is nearly 80 years of age, fractured both knees when she fell at her home recently. She had been active in church societies of the Methodist church until the accident, although she has for some time been confined to her wheel chair. Mrs. Elsie Campbell, her daughter, reside with her.

League Has Party

Silverton—About 24 young people attended the party Saturday evening given by the Epworth league at the Methodist church parlors. The Valentine motif was carried out in games, decorations and refreshments. The theme was St. Valentine's day aboard ship, with Rudolph Shenko as captain. Supper was served on the ship's "dining salon," a screened off raised platform, decorated for the occasion. The Misses Katherine Harrison, Grace Folsom and Orma Day planned the affair and were in charge.

PLAN SEWING PARTY

Silverton—Mrs. Ted Hobart is planning an informal sewing party and tea Wednesday afternoon, March 1, for a group of about 15, which has been meeting frequently to sew. Mrs. F. J. Roubal had planned to entertain the party Tuesday but was unable to do so on account of the continued illness of her small son, Theodore.

MINSTREL IS FRIDAY

Marion—A minstrel show will be put on by the sch. of Friday evening. The proceeds will be used for athletic outfits.

Hayesville Sewing Club Girls Guests

Hayesville—Mrs. Hazel Marshall entertained the girls in the 4-H sewing club and their leader, Miss Pitts, Saturday afternoon. Sewing and social conversation was the afternoon's diversion. Projects were checked by the club advisor and a few sewing cards signed. The girls are studying color and will answer roll call at their next meeting by naming a warm or cool color; the meeting to be at the home of Vivian Williams.

Present were Vivian Williams, Adelle Frey, Betty Green, Dorothy Green, Carmel Stupler, Beatrice Stamen, Jean Stettler, Bernice Stamen, Alma Carrow, Carol Stupler, Evelyn Eggen, Miss Pitts, Marcella Frey and the hostess, Mrs. Marshall.

MEN DIRECT CLUB SESSION

Hayesville—Sanding room was at a premium Friday evening when the president called the community club to order for the monthly meeting.

Committees appointed to attend to the club meeting were: For arrangement of the program, Mrs. Ruth Reynolds, Pauline Denny and Elmo Frey. The reception group will consist of Mr. Schroeder, Mr. Williamson, Mr. Stevens, Mr. Eggen, Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Greene. To decide on the refreshments will be Mr. Albert Stettler, Mrs. W. McMillon, Mrs. Talmage, Mrs. F. Williams and Mrs. E. Collins.

The program which was arranged by Mrs. Elsie Frey and her committee was composed of varied numbers, all parts being taken by women of the community. A skit entitled "Valentine Memories," portrayed by character in an artistic frame was well received as was also the reading by Hilda Martin. "Beans and Bells" of Hayesville which was a colonial costume drill presented by eight women of the community was very effective. A novelty dancing number was given by the Hughes sisters and a violin solo by Bernice Robertson. "Grandmother's Crazy Quilt," the leading parts being taken by Mrs. Beers and Mrs. Koller, reviewed numerous pieces in the quilt by individuals, the entire act being worked out in pantomime. As a closing number a short two-act play entitled "Dr. Cure-All" was given. Mrs. Marshall took the leading part of the doctor in this concluding number.

SHERIDAN ARCHERY CLUB NEW FEATURE

Sheridan—An archery club has been formed in the high school under the direction of J. E. Morrissey and meetings are being held each week in the high school manual training room. The membership is limited at present to 15. Much interest is manifested, as no such club has ever been organized here before. Vern Huddleson, commander of Sheridan post American Legion, assisted in the organization. Huddleson is in charge of a similar club in Williams.

Wearing Apparel Needed By Store

Silverton—The Welfare store was again crowded Saturday when a staff of eleven helped distribute food and clothing to the unemployed of the community. An urgent need exists, they report, for besides eatables and general wearing apparel, clothes, shoes and stockings for children, especially of the ages of 14 to 15 years. Approximately 572 persons are receiving public help in the Silverton community alone. The five regular staff members of the store include Mrs. L. L. Stewart, Mrs. Ed Holden, Mrs. Stewart, Mr. Brown and D. L. Walker.

Orchestra Wanted

Silverton—Twelve boys of Scout troop No. 2 are practicing to perfect their 12-piece orchestra under the direction of Fred Pakera. A dance was sponsored by the troop Saturday night for the purpose of furnishing music and supplies for the group and was a success. The boys hope to appear at the Boy Scout rally at Salem in June.

WILLIAMS VERY ILL

Silverton—Mrs. Arthur Williams returned home over the week-end from Portland where Williams is in a critical condition at the Veterans' hospital. His case was diagnosed as a bone tumor located in the front part of his head and pressing against eye nerves and muscles. An operation was not thought possible at present. Mr. and Mrs. Williams' two children are being cared for by their maternal grandparents.

STAYTON FORUM HOLDS MEETING

Stayton—The regular meeting of the Stayton chamber of commerce held at the Murphy Gardner lumber office was largely attended and many items of interest to the community were discussed.

Five new members were added to their growing numbers. The subject of an advertising and word of mouth campaign for urging local people and the business houses to buy home and Oregon products was vigorously stressed. It was shown that numerous local manufacturing enterprises were handicapped financially due to the fact that the local people were using out-of-town products. It was shown that Stayton has a bakery that puts out a better product of bread and pastry than can be shipped in local flouring mills, woolen factories and many other home products that if the local consumption was increased that it would be a life-saver to them. The matter was turned over to the industries committee.

The matter of 1934 calendars was also brought up and referred to the board of directors for their decision. A committee was selected for the wait upon the branch banking bill, now pending in the state legislature and to contact those interested in the securing for Stayton of a good sound banking institution. The Boy Scouts work was also endorsed and referred to the board of directors.

SILVERTON BAND TAKES TO JAUNT

Silverton—Hal Campbell, band instructor, was presented a box of cigars on his birthday by Vincent Well on behalf of the band classes in honor of their esteem. The class discussed ways and means of raising funds to defray costs incidental to the trip to Eugene for this year's state band contest, instead of the usual rehearsal.

The band has earned a reputation for novel entertainment and will maintain that reputation if plans formulated at the meeting are sanctioned. The probability of stepping up another grade was also discussed. Silverton band was eligible to play in "C" grade last year but stepped up higher and won the "B" grade contest. Only the matter of "A" grade equipment will prevent the band entering the lists and competing with the larger schools.

Valentine Party Held Aker's Home

Lashby Center—"An Affair of the Heart," a Valentine party was held by the young people's society on Friday night at the H. B. Aker home. Games and contests formed the evening's entertainment. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Boehm and Clyde, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Starker, Mrs. W. R. Daugherty, Bernadette Daugherty, Berns Jones, Jim Sewell, John and Eva Dow, J. F. Linn and Benton Lodges Of Odd Fellows Gather; Lebanon To Be Next Host

Scio—Approximately 20,000 members of the Odd Fellows order in Oregon are carrying on in the work of benevolence and charity, according to R. H. Jonas of Prineville.

It was gratifying, the mayor said in opening his speech, to offer the freedom and the imaginary key of the city to visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. "The Independent Order of Odd Fellows is judged by the uninitiated by the actions of its members," the speaker said. "Institutions for detention and correction do not contain many good members of the Odd Fellows order, which is based upon the Bible, and therefore does not materially or spiritually err if the basic principles are consistently practiced."

Other speakers of the evening included J. K. Weatherford and A. W. Bowersox of Albany, and L. D. Porter of Corvallis, all past grand masters of Oregon; Mrs. B. M. Bond of Halsey, vice-president of the Oregon Rebekah assembly, and Joe Formick of Salem, a leader in lodge work in Oregon.

Fire Chief Hero

Scio—Fire Chief Charles A. Pinkava of Springfield, N. J., rescued 10-year old Chester Smith, who was marooned on a small island of rocks and logs after falling into the icy waters of the Rahway river a few days ago. Mr. and Mrs. Pinkava visited in Scio two years ago with the family of their aunt, Mrs. J. F. Kunkka. The fire chief also saved a woman from a burning building a short time ago.

GRANGE HEARS ART DEBATED

Union Hill—The February business meeting of Union Hill grange was held at the hall Friday night. A 7 o'clock supper was served before the meeting by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Butler, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Carter and Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Darby. Mrs. Marie Flint McCall, state lecturer, attended the meeting.

At the lecturer's hour roll call was responded to by quotations from Washington or Lincoln. A stunt directed by Mrs. McCall, a reading by Mary Butler and "Old Black Joe" by Mrs. W. M. Tate and Mrs. Carter accompanied by Mrs. Groen and acted out by Verna Scott in costume completed the program.

Mrs. McCall, Mrs. Henry Peters and John Merrifield were judges for the debate which followed on the question, Resolved, "That the art of man is more pleasing to the eye than the art of nature, and voted the negative side winners. Debating were: affirmative, J. O. Darby, Miss Eleanor Paddock and Mrs. Arthur Muir; negative, O. W. Humphreys, Mrs. Myra Fischer and Mrs. Virgene Scott. All of the speakers had carefully prepared their arguments and according to the judges the decision was hard to make.

LEGION HALL BENEFIT SLATED FRIDAY NIGHT

Moumthout—Of interest to the people of Moumthout and community is the announcement of an evening of entertainment under the auspices of the Civic organizations of this city. The combined efforts of these bodies will provide the attractions of the event which has been set for Friday evening, February 24 and will include a dancing party and other entertainment features to be held in the I. O. O. F. hall. The occasion is an outgrowth of a representative meeting for the purpose of devising a way of obtaining proceeds to be utilized in equipping the Legion hall.

To the Business and Professional Women has been assigned the task of advertising the event. The Civic club has been appointed to decorate and take charge of the refreshments while Moumthout Post and Auxiliary will direct the ticket sale. A committee of individuals, including Mrs. J. B. Alverston, Mrs. C. Powell, Mrs. W. L. Smith, J. B. Lorence and P. E. Chambers has been named to engage the orchestra and provide other features of the program.

SCHOOL PATROL POLICE GUARDS ARE UNIFORMED

Silverton—Twelve boys of the 5A group of the Eugene Field grades of which Miss Hannah Olson is principal, compose the personnel of the patrol system which serves as police guard in traffic and guide to the younger pupils of the school. This system has been in effect for four years and is arranged in three squads of four boys each with a corporal for each squad.

For the first time in the history of the patrol system the boys are assuming the appearance of uniformed officers. The Huntington Rubber Mills of Portland have presented the patrolmen with white caps and the teachers have made them white belts resembling Sam Brown belts. At 11:30 and 2:30 o'clock dismissals of the school group these uniformed patrolmen are seen at the corners of the blocks on special duty with their white caps which resemble the style of over seas caps set at a jaunty angle low over one eye.

Lieutenant Walter Lansing of the state police helped organize the system and announced that Silverton is the only school that has kept it up during the four years. Lt. Lansing will talk at the assembly of the grades the first day of March. The personnel of the group are: Capt. Joe Kirk, Lt. Robert McDonald, Billy King, Harry Wilson, Edgar Lovett, George Hayes, Max Blust, James Demas, Donald Palmer, Robert Leonard, Vernon Dougherty and Dorsey Tweede.
