

FUTURE FARMER BANQUET EVENT WILL BE FRIDAY

Silverton—Fifty-eight parents and sons and a number of invited guests plan to attend the banquet Friday evening given under the auspices of the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America at 6:30 o'clock in the dining room of the home economics department of the senior high school. It is regretted that the limited entertainment quarters will only allow one parent, either father or mother, to attend.

Robert Goetz, superintendent of schools, will be a special guest and also a parent accompanying his son, O. D. Adams of Salem, state director of vocational education; Earl R. Cooley of Salem, state supervisor of agriculture; Herman Kramer, principal of the local senior high school; P. J. Roubal, principal of the junior high department; Dr. R. E. Kleingard, of the school board directors; Miss Little Madison, Mrs. Anna Powell, Eldon Fox, whom the boys chose as guest speaker, and Mrs. Fox.

Fox was a helper in promoting this phase of club work when first established and was one of the leaders in the agricultural club before the change was made to the national association. He will tell of experiences in the show circuit of pure bred live stock at exhibitions in the western and central parts of the United States and Canada.

Material for the banquet is being furnished from the farm homes of the F. F. A. members, and will be prepared and served by Miss Grant, home economics teacher, and her co-workers. The entire affair will be informal and served simply.

Herbert Jones, president of the local F. F. A. chapter, will act as toastmaster. Over half the Smith Hughes pupils are members of the F. F. A., though membership is optional. The annual banquet is one of the requirements of the national F. F. A. program common to each chapter in the United States and Hawaii.

The banquet will open and close with the regulation F. F. A. ceremonies, recognizing the emblems, the owl, the plow and the rising sun.

Talks will be limited to a few minutes. Those speaking will be Eldon Fox, Palmer Torvond on F. F. A. activities out of school, including tours, judging, public speaking, etc.; Laurel Hanson, on the show circuit; Harry Way, training in agriculture, and Tom Miller, on cooperation in agricultural projects.

Vocal numbers will be given by Harry Way, Thorvald Hanson, Palmer Torvond and Elmer Thompson, and clarinet solos by Palmer Torvond, with Mrs. Powell accompanying.

Bernie Oas, Sanford Davis and Elmer Thompson compose the banquet committee and Norris Langner, William Seifert and Clyde Parsons are on the program committee.

During the banquet the sweater emblems will be awarded to this year's stock judging team, Fred Schmidt, Bernie Oas and Carl Loren.
