

BOUNDARIES OF NEW SCHOOL DISTRICTS FIXED

The district boundary board today adopted a map and approved an order fixing the boundaries of the five districts of the county which in turn will comprise the new non-high school district which in itself will be made up of all of the non-high school districts of the county. This district will have charge of administering the county high school tuition fund law and transportation of high school pupils and will have power to levy the tax for these purposes. The functions are to be handled by a board of five directors, one each from the five districts outlined by the district boundary board today.

While the new law does not go into effect until June 9, the first election of the five directors is to be held June 19. By a strange quirk the law provides that notices must be posted 20 days before the election, but inasmuch as this would be impossible this year the court is proceeding to get the stage all set to go ahead as soon as the law is in effect. Residents of non-high school districts may become candidates for directors by filing petitions carrying 30 or more qualified signers. The board members stated today these petitions could be prepared ready for filing as soon as the law goes into effect and by outlining the various districts candidates will know from what districts they will run. But, even though the big district is divided into five smaller ones all of the voters in the big district will vote on all of the candidates. The smaller districts were laid off obviously to spread the membership of the board out over the county rather than having it all come from the most populous section.

The districts were mapped off so as to have all as nearly as possible of the same population. It is shown that the Mt. Angel section has the largest population of any non-high school district of the county. It was necessary also in making the map of the five districts to follow school district lines in all cases. So to meet the two requirements the county is considerably cut up in creating the five districts but inasmuch as all the voters vote on all the candidates boundary board members said this would make little difference as long as requirements of the law were followed.

JIMMY'S WIFE WEEPS IN COURT

Miami, Fla., March 21 (AP)—Weeping as she told of her efforts at a reconciliation with James J. Walker, Mrs. Janet Allen Walker testified in her divorce suit today that the former New York mayor left her four years ago and had refused to return.

Mrs. Walker testified emphatically that she was not seeking alimony. She said her husband has continued to contribute to her living expenses. "He has never been anything but kind in that respect," she said. "I certainly have," she replied, "but even this winter when I begged him to come down here, he refused."

After she had concluded her brief testimony, two real estate dealers, Louis P. Snedigar and J. J. Fretwell, Jr., testified they had known Mrs. Walker through real estate dealings with her, and that they had never seen Mr. Walker at her Miami homes.

Cornoyer, in charge of petition circulation in the Willamette valley. The approximate total of 46,000 signatures to the petitions were obtained in five days of actual circulation.

Whether the repeal measure will appear on the July ballot or be held over to the general election of November, 1934, hinges at this time upon the ruling of the attorney general, whose opinion as to the provisions of senate bill 256, enacted by the recent legislature to provide the special election, has been asked by the secretary of state.

Yesterday the secretary of state received the repeal petitions and accepted them upon the condition that the election act made proper provision for initiative measures.

Technical deficiencies in the election act, due to careless amending during the rush hour of the closing night of the legislative session, have caused the question to be raised as to whether or not initiative measures will be submitted at that time. In the original bill calling for the special election the date was set for June 6. When it got over to the senate the revision of laws committee, in order to give legal voters to invoke the referendum upon measures enacted by the legislature, advanced the date to July 21.

At the same time the committee voted to revise the bill, or rather to substitute the redrawn Bynon bill, senate bill 356, to provide that initiative measures also might be submitted. To this end they amended the title of the Bynon bill to specifically provide for the initiation and submission of initiative proposals.

On the final day the substitute bill went back to the house where the change to amend the dates was rejected and a conference committee was appointed. At midnight of the final evening of the session, only about an hour before sine die adjournment the conference committee met and went over the bill section by section. It approved the change in the title regarding initiative measures.

Repeal of section one of the bill directed the attention of the conferees to the fact that it provided for the submission of constitution amendments and measures by the legislature and such measures as the referendum was invoked against, but that the section itself did not mention initiative proposals. The omission was talked of and an amendment to correct it agreed upon.

The amendment does not, however appear in the engrossed bill and a comparison of the report of the conference committee with the engrossed bill today reveals that the amendment was not written into the report as filed with the clerks of the house and senate.

As it stands the special election act provides in the title for the submission of initiative measures but does not do so in the body of the act, although there is nothing in the wording of the act prohibiting the submission of initiative proposals. Unofficial opinion expressed about the capitol is to the effect that the intent of the legislature to include initiative is expressed sufficiently in the title.

In the event that the opinion of the attorney general is adverse and the secretary of state declines to certify the repeal proposal to the county clerk for a place on the July ballot sponsors for the repeal petition plan to mandamus the secretary of state to submit the proposal.

INVESTORS IN SECURITIES TO BE PROTECTED

(Copyright, 1933, by United Press) Washington, March 21 (AP)—Administration advisers are rushing work on a securities control bill to protect the investing public against "blue sky" stocks and bonds.

As soon as the details are completed, possibly next week, President Roosevelt will send a message to congress asking immediate passage.

This federal protective measure will cover both foreign and domestic securities.

It is expected to—

- 1—Require full publication of the names of promoters, the amount of their bonuses and commission, and the full extent of their financial interests.
- 2—Prohibit any concealment by promoters of material facts or circumstances surrounding the securities offered.
- 3—Place responsibility for full disclosure of the facts upon the promoters.
- 4—Require refunds with interest or cancellation of contracts where misrepresentation is disclosed, without requiring fraud to be proved.
- 5—Make those issuing false or misleading information liable to criminal prosecution for obtaining money under false pretense and likewise liable under conspiracy statutes.

The draft is being perfected for the president by Huston Thompson, former chairman of the federal trade commission. In that capacity he is using intimate knowledge of the methods used by unscrupulous stock and bond promoters.

Daniel Roper, secretary of commerce, and some of his assistants have been associated with Thompson in working out the proposal.

The president's advisers are drawing inspiration from drastic features of the British companies act of 1929. However, they will go much further, including foreign securities which are not covered by the British act. Lord Kylsant, one of the leading shipping men of the empire, was sent to prison on charges of misrepresentation to investors in his company.

The purpose of this measure is to save American investors from a repetition of the losses, running probably into billions which they suffered through worthless foreign bonds and pyramid stocks. It would not be retroactive so as to reach those involved in Insull, Krueger or numerous worthless foreign issues.

But it would reach a future case like the flotation some years ago of an issue of Peruvian bonds by a banking house whose own experts had warned that default on the issue was almost certain.

It would also reach a future case like that of the bank which after discovering that its Cuban sugar loans were bad, floated a stock issue to the public and from the proceeds bailed itself out.

confine premiums on what is being urged as the best investment. This would make room for the many new items always coming out, and thus will not let the premium list get too long. He added that payment of livestock premiums to out of state exhibitors with animals not applicable to Oregon would be eliminated if his plan is approved.

Canby Free of Debt Celebration Held

Canby, March 21 (AP)—Financial independence was declared in Canby yesterday. Flags waved, bunting floated on the breeze and crowds cheered as Mayor H. A. Dedman and City Treasurer John Eld burned the last municipal bond. More than 500 persons from outlying communities participated in the celebration. In a letter to the city Governor Meier eulogized Canby for having paid all bonds before maturity.

LEGION PLANS MOBILIZING IN EMERGENCIES

Organization of a strictly emergency committee whereby every member of nearly 1000 members of the American Legion can be contacted and rushed to meet any civic emergency was authorized Monday night at a meeting of Capital Post No. 9. Commander Allan Carson will appoint a committee of five to work out the details.

The proposed plan provides for the selection of a chairman in each precinct, who will have the telephone numbers or street address of every member of the American Legion in his district. In event of any emergency of any nature the precinct chairmen would be notified in a few minutes and within a comparatively short time, hundreds of ex-service men would be available. Attention to the plan was directed particularly at this time as a result of the community service rendered by the American Legion in the California earthquake area. The men would be available for any similar disaster, such as fire, flood, uprisings, penitentiary breaks, etc. The project has the approval of police officers.

"The American Legion is facing the greatest crisis in its history and there never has been a time when membership is needed as at present," Carl Moser, state department adjutant, told the post. "Fourteen years of efforts on the part of the American Legion have been erased by congress which has denied veterans and their dependants the rights they enjoy." Moser told the post that no information had been received from national headquarters relative to the purported statement in the press from National Commander Johnson, in which he requested posts to endorse, through resolution, the program presented by President Roosevelt.

Installation of Kingwood post at West Salem, March 21, will call a large delegation from Salem, with the drum corps in a formal appearance. The post also went on record as approving the stand taken in congress by U. S. Senator Frederick Steiwer and Congressman James Mott relative to veterans' affairs.

UTILITY'S ANSWER PLEADS BANKRUPTCY

Motion has been filed by attorneys for the Central Public Service corporation in the case brought against it by Sarah M. Hewitt in which it asks a stay of proceedings on the ground that the corporation was adjudicated a bankrupt on March 8, 1933. The affidavit filed by Clarence J. Young, attorney for the company, says it will probably be 40 days from that date before a trustee in bankruptcy may be appointed for the corporation and that the attitude of the trustee concerning continuing the defense of the case cannot be ascertained until he is named. The affidavit also states that the greater part of the evidence for the defense will be in depositions which have to be taken in Chicago and there has not been time to secure them.

In an answer affidavit Isham N. Smith, attorney for Mrs. Hewitt, asks that a trial date be set which will give the defendants time to prepare their defense. He says in his affidavit the case is brought for recission of contract relative to purchase of stock and for damages in consequence, that the basis of suit is fraud by the defendant in inducing the contract.

Quick! Stop That COLD!

Don't Let It Run Beyond the First Stage!

A cold ordinarily goes through three stages: the Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. To let a cold run beyond the first stage is inviting danger.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine taken at the first sign of a cold will usually stop it in one day. This famous tablet is effective because it does the 4 things necessary. It opens the bowels, kills the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and tones the entire system. Anything less than that is toying with a cold. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine today and accept nothing else. Now two sizes—30c and 50c—at all drug-gists. adv.
