

CREAMERES CHANGE WAY OF QUOTING

Portland, Ore., April 13 (AP)—Both the co-ops and the independent creameries today changed the method of quoting butterfat and instead of the country truck prices, will henceforth quote the Portland delivered price less shipping charges.

The new prices on cube butter are 15 cents higher all around, therefore the advance in butterfat is simply following the lead of butter with no real boost over the previous basis.

Trading in the egg market continues badly mixed as to price even though the major marketing concerns are quoting 14c for extras.

Market for dressed spring lamb is weaker, with an exchange of supplies due within the next 24 hours. Few sales are being made beyond 15c for tops; 16c being nominal received.

Owing to the extremely low prices ruling here shipments of asparagus from California have been greatly curtailed. Few sales of top quality are being made below 6c lb. for the day.

Owing to the fact that Idaho potatoes are little known here, the several cars already received, are moving slowly. Yakima stock is quoted up another notch here.

More strawberries are in from southern California and Louisiana. Both good.

Two cars of eastern beer due Friday morning delivery.

Rhubarb is about steady with offerings rather scant.

Good lettuce is practically off the market.

Texas wax onions almost cleaned up; local very slow.

MOST OF TEXAS MOHAIR SOLD

Portland, April 13 (AP)—News that most of the 1933 Texas mohair clip has been sold and is being moved to Boston, took the trade here by surprise today. The price of 13c on matured hair and 30c a pound for kid reflects the differential between old hair and kid offerings due to the fact that Texas had only a nominal supply of the latter.

The price of 13c for Texas mohair delivered in Boston would mean about 9c to the goat owner there.

The market for wool here continues to mark time, according to the trade. There has not as yet been sufficient business at any point along the Pacific slope to firmly establish prices, and none is openly quoted.

Shearing operations in both sheep and goat flocks are being retarded by unseasonably cold weather in the Willamette valley and the interior.

HOP MART QUIET FIRM AND STRONG

Portland, April 13 (AP)—Local hop market was quiet but very firm. The prevailing price, locally, for good grade 1932 hops was 29c pound. Deals in one-year contracts are ranging from 22c to 25c.

Foreign bidding was very quiet as foreign dealers have dropped out of the market during the past few weeks.

In Eugene two contracts calling for a delivery of 80,000 pounds of this year's crop for 20c was filed with the county clerk. Two lots of 40,000 pounds each are to be delivered to Washington, D. C., by the Hurd brothers, signers of the contract.

The prevailing jobbers price in Eugene is 28 to 29c pound.

Continuation Of— Beer Injunction

started selling the drink in his place of business last Friday and was arrested for a test suit upon complaint of Chief of Police Frank Minto.

Saturday the defense asked for and secured a temporary writ of injunction in the circuit court. The city prosecutor and chief of police were cited to appear in court Tuesday morning and show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent, but due to the absence of Judge Lewelling, who presides over the law department of the circuit court, the hearing was put over.

The injunction petition pleads that the city ordinance and charter declaring unlawful the sale of any "malicious" beverage is in conflict with both the federal and state constitutions and is therefore void.

In order that the issue may be finally and speedily determined the constitutional contention of the defense will be submitted directly to the court. By agreement between Kahle's attorneys and Chris Kowitz, city attorney, the city this afternoon will file a demurrer to the Kahle complaint in circuit court and arguments on the demurrer are scheduled to be heard by Judge Lewelling this afternoon at 3 o'clock, following which the issues will be submitted to the court on briefs.

The court's decision is not expected to be handed down until sometime next week.

In the meanwhile the temporary injunction still remains in force and federally licensed dealers can legally sell beer in the city if they can get it. At the present time there is no beer to be had in the city and wholesalers are unable to say when the breweries will be able to supply more. One wholesaler reports that he expects a shipment of bottled beer from California late Friday, but he does not know how much will be in the shipment. Another is anticipating the arrival of a supply from the middle west but, likewise, does not know what part of the ordered carload he will receive.

With the completion of roads to the new ferry across the Panama canal at Balboa next year it will be possible to travel by vehicle from Panama to the Costa Rican frontier.
