

DALLAS CHURCH CHOIR TO GIVE SUNDAY MUSIC

Dallas — "The Thorn-Crowned King" an Easter cantata by Fred B. Holton will be presented at the Dallas Christian church Sunday evening by the choir of 30 voices under the direction of Mrs. K. E. Burke. Thirteen different numbers, including choruses, solos, duets, trios and quartets, tells the story of Christ's death, burial and resurrection.

The theme of the cantata is introduced with a chorus number "Let the Righteous be Glad." The second number is an alto solo, "He Chose the Cross of Shame," which will be sung by Mrs. K. E. Burke with violin obligato by Mrs. Robert Fisher.

A male quartet will sing as a third number "There Was No Other Way." This quartet is composed of Joe Garner, Chester Johnson, Gilbert Witcraft and K. E. Burke. "Be-trayed," an anthem by the choir will follow the quartet number. The incidental solo for this choir number will be sung by Joe Garner.

Mrs. Anna Dashiell will sing the theme solo, "The Thorn-Crowned King." "Let Him Be Crucified," an anthem by the choir with incidental bass solo by Gilbert Witcraft will follow Mrs. Dashiell's theme solo. A trio made up of Mrs. Anna Dashiell, Evelyn Lindahl and Ellen Boman will sing "Alas and Did My Savior Bleed," the well-known words of which were written by Isaac Watts. "They Laid Him Away," an anthem by the choir will be the next number with the obligato parts carried by Mrs. Anna Dashiell, soprano, and Mrs. Robert Fisher, violinist.

The ninth number, "Have Faith in God," a tenor and bass duet will be sung by Joe Garner and Gilbert Witcraft. The next number will tell of the resurrection of Christ. "He is Risen" will be sung by the choir with incidental bass solo by Gilbert Witcraft. Miss Genevieve Coad and Miss Alice McBride will sing the soprano and alto duet, "Glory in the Garden." "Jesus Lives," next to the last number will be sung by the choir with a mixed quartet composed of Mrs. Anna Dashiell, Helen Hill, Joe Garner and Stanley Tur-rell carrying the obligato part. The closing choir number which brings the cantata to a climatic close will be "Praise Ye the Lord."

Mrs. Robert Fisher will play a violin obligato for the cantata. By Godard, Mrs. K. E. Burke is directing the choir with the assistance of Doris Newbill at the piano, Will Caldwell at the organ and Mrs. Robert Fisher playing violin obligato parts.
