

PET PARADERS EXCEED HOPES AT SILVERTON

Silverton—Whether the attraction was Alfred Adams' offer of a free ticket to the Palace theater, the fact that thrills in the hope of winning a prize or just a natural desire to display their much beloved pets is a matter of conjecture, but entries in the American Legion pet parade lacked just four of being 300. The highest hopes had been 200.

The weather was ideal Saturday afternoon and the large playground of the Eugene Field school needed some dog, cat, goat and chicken supervision during the judging hour when those in charge found it necessary to add several volunteer judges to assist in awarding the prizes. Awards were made previous to the street parade, which was pronounced one of the finest. The judges expressed regret they were not able to award all entries as first as no easy job confronted them.

Serving as judges were P. J. Radigan, Mrs. G. B. Benton, Mrs. M. C. Woodward, Mrs. Virginia Rowen, Mrs. C. J. Towe, Fred Cavender and several who volunteered help.

Prize winners were as follows: Best—Poodle, Thumberg, first; Ina Weatherill, second; Norman Elliott, third; Cats—Vada and Vale Peterson, first; Anita Cluff, second; Belle Zetler, third; Rabbits—Betty and Tommy Williams, first; Peter and Peggy Heides, second; Edward and Norman Hansen, third.

Goats—Arline Torngren, first; Ophelia Leslie, second; Marvin Melby, third; Poodles—Silas Torgren, first; George Vachter, second.

Chickens—Thurston Greed, first; Miriam Cooley, second; Kenneth Thurstad, third; Birds—Phyllis Adams, first; Thelma Thomas, second; Alfred Schaback, third; Fish—Marjorie Weatherill, first; Harriet Nixon, second.

Various pets—Glen Lamm, turtle, first; Mary Parker, phoxant, second; Marian Ruth Walker, rat, third.

Smallest pet—Bernice Hannan, frog, first; Frances Mohl, tadpole, second; Largest pet—Silas Torgren, Jr., first; Orange Vachter, second; both poodles.

Most comical pet—Ruth Tinnel, chicken, first; David Chabers, dog, second; Best trained pet—Shirley Olson, first; Norman Elliott, second; Frank Miller, third; all dogs.

Best dressed pet—Helen Canada, first; George and Billie Kramer, second; Elmer Graham, third; all cats.

Most children from one family with pets—Five children of the John Ludvickson family.

Variety of pets from one family—Seven varieties from the Carl Stanton family; first, five varieties, John Ludvickson family, second.

Pet from longest distance—Harvey West, first; May Leslie, second; Lester Benoit, third.

Best original cat's costume—Patty Prather, first; Yvonne Service, second; Best original dog's costume—Glen Barker, first; Freddie Thumberg, second; Youngest girl bringing pet—Carol Day, first; Catherine Gladden, second.

Youngest boy bringing pet—Allen Zimmerman, first; Freddie Thumberg, second; Best decorated doll house or carriage with pet—Anita Cluff, first; Donald Hewes, second; John MacNeill, third.

Dr. A. J. McCannell deserves praise for the origin and success of the idea which has resulted in pet parades in Silverton for the past two years. He was assisted in general arrangements this year by Kenneth Hanson and Dr. William MacNeill.

The division was shown such an increase in popularity that there is limited a possibility of making Silverton the center of a district-wide pet show as an annual event. Business firms of Silverton cooperated by donating prizes from their stock on hand, displaying the prizes in their windows previous to the parade. An unusual feature of the affair was that no money be considered in prize awards and no one receive any compensation for assisting in the affair.

Hop Theft Still Remains Mystery
Aurora—State officers are still trying to find the thieves who stole 16 bales of hops from the H. G. Ziegler warehouse the first of the week. The hops were valued at approximately $2500, and they were taken from three different owners, two from one, ten from another and four from the third owner. As the hops were not insured for theft, someone will stand a heavy loss.

Entrance was gained through a window and a back door was opened and the bales probably loaded on a truck.

REUNION AT HUNSAKERS
Turner—Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hunsaker entertained with a family reunion at their home this week when a number of their children and their families were home, including Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hunsaker and family of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hunsaker and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Welborn and children of Toledo, Robert Hunsaker and Mrs. Charles Hunsaker of Corvallis. The latter is enjoying an indefinite visit with her parents at their Turner home.

VISIT ENDS
Lyons—Charlie Abel and son James, Mrs. Telfaro, and Mrs. Mae Biesley started for their homes in California Friday morning after an extended visit with relatives and friends. Mrs. Telfaro's home is in Alameda and the Abels and Mrs. Biesley are residents of Los Angeles.

GRADERS ARE GUESTS
Marion—Miss Hutton, teacher of the seventh and eighth grades, entertained the eighth grade graduates at her home near Dever. Games were indulged in and refreshments were served at a late hour. These present were Mr. and Mrs. Harley Labby, Mrs. Lester Slout, Miss Grace Peterson, Ethel Sherwood, Mary Ellen and Jane Lufky, Ellene Tryon, Katherine Schmidt, Cyril Spencer, Will Winn, Genevieve Lurson and Milton Labby.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS WILL BE SELECTED

Dallas—Two vacancies are slated to be filled on the school board when election day, June 19, rolls around. The terms of Mrs. Emma Craven and W. L. Soehren expire this year.

Mrs. Craven, who has been a member of the board over a long term of years, has definitely decided to retire and not seek re-election.

W. L. Soehren, the other retiring member, is seeking re-election and will be in the race, although to date his petitions have not been filled.

Mrs. R. S. Krasnow will be a candidate with the office and has filed to that effect, being the only one of a trio of prospective candidates to do so.

The third possibility is W. A. Boydston, present county treasurer, who, while his petitions are complete and ready for filing, has not definitely decided to run.

HAWK IS SELECTED HEAD OF LEAGUERS

Turner—The Epworth League society of Turner Methodist Episcopal church held an outdoor party Friday night along Mill creek near the Peterson country place, in conjunction with the annual election of league officers for the coming year.

John Hawk was elected president; Lillian Peterson, first vice-president; Kathryn Hawk, fourth vice-president; Lois Gunning, specialist; and Kathryn Hawk, pianist. A vote of thanks was extended to Lillian Peterson for her aid in making the Epworth League successful.

Out-door games were played and a well-earned roast enjoyed around the bonfire completing the party.

In attendance were Rev. and Mrs. N. Sherman Hawk, Lois Gunning, Alvin Garner, Rachel Garner, Margaret, Olaf Peterson, Marjorie Fowler, Homer Mitchell, Harold Fowler, Albert Jensen, Delmar Barber, Mabel Schifferer, Kathryn Hawk, Evelyn Jensen, Emma Denyer, Stella Barnett, Kenneth Fowler, John Hawk, Russell Denyer, Lorraine Barnett, and Katherine Sparks.
