

RURAL CARRIER LEAVES ACTION AFTER 30 YEARS

Independence—Percy J. Dickinson of this city, who has served for 30 years as a rural mail carrier on route 2, out of Independence, has retired from active service and will receive compensation of $100 per month for the balance of his life from the government. Dickinson requested that he be placed on the retired list, his 30 years of service having been completed July 1 and his request was granted. He served two days beyond the required time, not having received official notice of his retirement.

P. R. Black, substitute carrier on that route has taken over the duties and will carry on Dickinson's early service on route 2 began when he carried mail out of the Parker office and when that office was discontinued he was transferred to the same route out of the Independence office carrying continuously for 23 years from Independence. He started as a substitute carrier July 1, 1903, for John Anderson, from the Parker office, and on August 15, 1907, the change was made to Independence. Anderson resigned, and Dickinson received the appointment. When he first took over the route it was but in extent and the compensation was $600 per year, but was soon advanced to $720. Up until the move to cut governmental expenditures Dickinson received $1800 per year and an allowance of 4 cents a mile for the operation and maintenance of his car, the distance having been increased until now it is 46 miles. Estimates would indicate that he had traveled over that period about 300,000 miles or approximately six times around the world. It required several horses in the earlier days to provide the motive power for these routes.

In 1912 Dickinson tried out an automobile, a two "lugger" Reo. It proved so expensive to operate that he returned to horses and in 1918 he purchased a Ford for the mail service, but he had to keep horses for a part of his route during the winter months for several years more, or until the roads had been improved to such an extent that he could operate a car the year round. Dickinson has a son, D. H. Dickinson, who is a city carrier in Portland, with whom he has been visiting the past few days. He has also a daughter, Mrs. Ira Boone, at Astoria, Calif. He lost his wife a few weeks ago.

A visit to his old home in South Dakota is a tentative part of his program for the summer, going directly there from California after visiting his daughter. He came to Independence in 1902 with his father, "Uncle John" Dickinson, and other members of the family.
