

VARIED MATTERS OCCUPY COUNCIL FOR SILVERTON

Silverton—Many propositions were discussed at the regular session of the Silverton city council Monday night but little definite action was taken. The Stiff Furniture company was awarded the contract for furnishing light globes for use of the city from August 1, 1933 to August 1, 1934. Certain attractive rebates were accepted. No other bids were presented in reply to the advertisement for bids from the city recorder.

Many communications were received concerning the sewage disposal plant project. These were turned over to Mayor Garver as head of the committee on the plant for his consideration and report. The matter of providing suitable wood for the moveable cannery at the time of caring for surplus vegetables and fruit of the city and community for the benefit of those from the good-will who were furnished seeds and ground for raising gardens, was placed in the hands of the judiciary committee. The wood will be brought to town from the hills where several cords were cut during the slack winter season. The cannery will be in Silverton one day this week. The city also furnishes water for the canning operations.

Charles Reynolds of the judiciary committee brought up the question of preparing a city ordinance for licensing the peddling of bills. One of the Silverton citizens has built up a trade in distributing bills and it was suggested that he should be protected in it, as he was willing to purchase a license himself. When he works other towns in distributing bills he is charged a fee and thinks that it is only fair to home industry to be thus protected in his home town. The matter was left with the judiciary committee with power to act and he promises to present the ordinance at the next meeting of the forum.

The refunding of dance license to W. A. Garrett and to Henry Resler was not allowed. Numerous communications were discussed concerning early exterminations. The most feasible suggestions seemed to favor small stakes as garden pets. Ducks were praised as being bantam chickens. During the discussion, one councilman removed his coat and separated himself from an earwig that had become too friendly. This brought about a motion to instruct the recorder to contact those who were bothered with the pest and formulate an estimate of the cost for investing in the exterminators, acting accordingly.

SCIO HAZARDS TO BE REMOVED COUNCIL RULES

Scio—Fire hazards in the form of dead grass, weeds and other vegetation are to be eliminated as soon as practicable, according to instructions given to the proper committee at the August meeting of the Scio town council. Non-resident property owners are to be notified at once and local residents are expected to cooperate in the movement to defeat the fire demon, it was urged. "Water gurgling all night from hoses without nozzles can be heard in many sections of the city," stated Councilman N. J. Morrison, who urged prompt action in the matter. Mayor W. A. Ewing believed that even six hours with nozzle each day as is the custom now is too long a period; that from 6 to 8 o'clock in the morning and evening would be sufficient.

Pending adjudication by the state supreme court, no action is to be taken relative to the proposed refunding of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of Scio, it was decided, after hearing a report from attorneys in Portland who are keeping in touch with the situation arising from state legislative enactment last winter. Many municipalities in Oregon are in the same position as is Scio in this respect, it was stated. A resolution presented by the mayor in this connection was adopted by unanimous vote. Mayor Ewing announced he would keep in touch with the situation and report at the next meeting of the council. Councilman G. F. Bryan reported city hose in somewhat deteriorated condition, whereupon the matter was placed in the hands of the fire, light and water committee for investigation. G. S. Yerby of Portland explained to the council the quality and price of different hose manufactured by the company he represents.

Appropriate committees were instructed to look into the matter of a new rope for the city bell at the hall. Councilman Fred Roadarmel reported the sale of cherries on city property trees for the sum of $3. Payment of annual interest on bonds was authorized in the sum of $500. Only one beer license, that issued to Jones & Sweeney, proprietors of the Scio Confectionery, was reported, this having been issued in July soon after the adoption of the city beer ordinance. The license fee is $25 a year under the city ordinance.
