

LOCALS

Loading a shotgun with tapicoa and shooting it at prowlers is one way to stop thefts from a corn patch. That's what a farmer did in the vicinity of Painter's woods last night. He scared the thief all right, but also the whole neighborhood, with the result that some one reported to the state police that a hold-up had been perpetrated in the neighborhood by two automobile loads of men armed with pistols and rifles. The farmer wasn't molested by the officers.

A report of conditions as they exist at the high school in connection with fire hazards and prepared following an investigation by employees of the state fire marshal's office may be presented to the school directors when they meet tonight at the administration building on North High street. A similar survey was made last winter and a new fire alarm system was installed. The battery of boilers which have been added to during every alteration in the structure, has come in for a great deal of criticism from city and state inspectors, who claim a fire hazard obtains. Complete rewiring of the building has also been recommended. Chairman Neer believes construction of an entire new heating plant in a separate building would be an act of economy.

FIND RANSOM PAID BY URSCHEL

Minneapolis, Aug. 8 (AP)—Police and federal operatives united today in a search of the twin cities' underworld for the actual kidnappers of Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma millionaire.

The finding here of part of the marked ransom money paid for Urschel's release, prompted the search and three men were arrested by federal operatives. The full amount paid Urschel's kidnappers never has been revealed.

The three held incommunicado were Sam Abranick, whose true name is Sam Kronick, Minneapolis; John C. Walker, whose real name is Charles Wolk, and another booked as Sam Frederick. His real name was believed to be Nelson.

Though none of the three were charged with the actual kidnapping, they may, authorities hope, supply a clue leading to the arrest of Urschel's abductors.

Bank officials identified that part of the currency that passed through their hands as part of the Urschel ransom by serial numbers on the bills.

Urschel, 40, oil millionaire, was freed by his kidnappers July 31 upon payment of ransom that never has been specifically named.

The kidnappers originally demanded $200,000.

He was abducted July 22 from his home.

G. A. Nye, mail clerk for the capitol buildings over a period of many years and who was seriously injured as a result of a collision between his automobile and one driven by A. N. Moore, was brought downtown Monday when an X-ray examination was made of his head injuries. The result of the examination had not been determined Tuesday forenoon. The wounds on Nye's head are healing rapidly and although the swelling has subsided from around his left eye, the vision has not returned.

Mr. Day is a member of the lower house of the Oregon legislature and has been prominent in southern Oregon for many years.

NUT INDUSTRY CODES DRAFTED TO COVER COAST

Codes for both the filbert and walnut industries are in the offing and probably will be adopted before October 1, in the opinion of W. H. Bentley, general manager of the North Pacific Walnut Growers association, who was in Salem calling on association members and officials today.

Bentley stated that if codes are adopted the walnut code will probably cover the entire coast industry while of necessity the filbert code will cover only the Pacific northwest, the only place where filberts are grown in the country.

The code, he stated, if enacted, he is certain will carry provisions for handling surpluses of heavy crop years, in fact this will be the main feature. These will be controlled under a general board of all the packers of the group for that purpose and for walnuts the committee will probably have headquarters in San Francisco.

Bentley stated filbert prices will not be fixed before August 23 and walnut prices probably not before October 1. Filbert prices will rule higher than last year. In fact, spot prices for old filberts have advanced 5 cents a pound in the last three months and word has just received from New York brokers is very optimistic over filbert price situation. The price of walnuts, he said, should be up 3 cents over last year, anyway. The Oregon walnut crop will be 50 per cent short and California will have but 65 per cent of last year's crop. The Oregon filbert crop will be exceptionally fine, he stated, and reports from all over are of a fine stand of these meaty nuts.

Mr. Bentley was accompanied to Salem by Ira Powell, well known Monmouth man and nut grower.

STUDY FINGER PRINTS TO IDENTIFY SLAYER

Fingerprint experts were delving into the state penitentiary records today in an effort to establish the identity of the slayers of Night Watchman Milton Howard Jones here early Sunday morning.

Discovery of two sticks of dynamite, fuses, a sledge hammer and a box of caps near the packing plant yielded fingerprints and evidence that a safe-cracking had been planned.

Several persons have been detained for questioning, but no arrests had been made. District Attorney William Trindle stated today. Jones fired four shots at the intruders, but was fatally injured by their return fire. On his deathbed he said he believed one of his shots knocked down one of the men.

Otto Hunt was re-elected president of the local Ohio association last Sunday when approximately 100 former residents of the Buckeye state gathered at the municipal auto park for a day of recreation. The occasion was the third annual picnic. Other officers elected were Elmer E. Snyder, vice-president; Hazel Snyder, secretary and W. F. Neptune, treasurer. Mayor Douglas McKay of Salem and Rev. H. L. Grafions, Presbyterian minister of Gervais addressed the assemblage during the day. Several games and contests were held while a pie eating and apple eating exhibition brought out a lot of fun. A bounteous basket lunch was served at noon.

Second Petition Offered by Council

Second application will be filed by the city of Salem with the public works administrator for a federal loan to cover the proposed sewage disposal plant for Salem. A resolution to this effect was adopted by the city council last night.

The new application will go direct to Marshall Dana of Portland, public works advisor for the northwest. It asks for a loan of $450,000. The resolution was introduced last night by Alderman R. A. Boatwright.

ANCIENT LAW BLOCKS RELIEF

Washington, Aug. 8 (AP)—An almost forgotten law forced the Roosevelt recovery administration today to consider whether American farmers are to receive $190,000,000 this fall in theory only or in cash.

If the farmers get the cash, farm relief will progress on schedule. If they get receipted bills, the experts fear they will be at crop reduction plans to jeopardize the whole agricultural recovery program.

Attorney General Cummings has prepared a decision on the legal aspects of the crucial statute, which was adopted by congress in 1875. The law provides that the government cannot make any payments to an individual without deducting whatever money he owes the government.

If the law is not circumvented, many farmers will get no cash. Farmers altogether owe the government nearly twice as much as the government plans to pay in wheat and cotton benefits. The agricultural adjustment administration intends to pay cotton farmers $100,000,000 in return for crop reductions. It hopes to pay wheat farmers $90,000,000.

On the other side of the ledger, farmers debts to the government include crop and seed loans of $139,000,000 agricultural credit corporation loans of $150,000,000 intermediate credit corporation loans of $85,000,000 and liens against growing crops of several millions more. Most of these loans come due this fall.

STREWL HELD FOR O'CONNELL KIDNAPING

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 8 (AP)—District Attorney John T. Delaney announced today a warrant had been issued for arrest of Manney Strewel charging him with the kidnaping of Lieut. John J. O'Connell Jr., Strewel acted as go-between in delivering the $40,000 ransom money and arranging for young O'Connell's release.

Delaney said Strewel would be arrested at Monticello, N. Y., where he was to be produced in supreme court late today on a writ of habeas corpus.

Delaney signed the warrant. His announcement came barely two hours after an Albany county grand jury handed down a sealed indictment in the O'Connell case.

The care of indigents continues to take a considerable time of the staff of employees of the Marion county health office. Dr. Vernon Douglas, county officer stated today. Many persons visit the office daily or ask for home treatment. Type of service rendered includes everything from a toothache to arranging for facilities in maternity cases. Many local doctors donate their services in caring for persons who are without funds, Dr. Douglas says.

MINING MEN BACK TO WORK

Uniontown, Pa., Aug. 8 — More than 100 heads of United Mine workers locally, representing about 20,000 miners, voted unanimously today to return to work in the soft coal fields of southern Pennsylvania.

The action was taken in a rising vote after Edward F. McGrady, labor advisor of the national recovery administration, delivered a stirring appeal to the men to support President Roosevelt's recovery program.

McGrady flew to the coal fields from Washington at request of General Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator.

Several hundred persons, many of them strikers, milled about the streets as the decision was reached.

The men have been on strike for more than two weeks, demanding recognition of the United Mine Workers of America.

Opposition to the return-to-work plan failed to materialize after McGrady's appeal, brought directly from the administration in Washington.

BLANKET CODE FOR PAPER TRADE

Portland, Aug. 8 (AP)—The Portland paper trade conference, consisting of wholesale distributors of paper in Portland and Salem, and the flour millers comprising the Pacific Northwest Millers' association, each has signed blanket codes under the NRA provisions.

The paper trade conference adopted a blanket code pending approval of the code prepared by the national conference, it was announced last night by Chris A. Bell, secretary. Members of the group are realigning salary and working schedules. Companies affected by the action include Blake, Moffitt & Towne, Carter Rice & Co., and Zellerbach Paper company, all of Portland, and Rahn, McWhorter Paper company and Rodgers Paper company, both of Salem.

The flour millers' blanket code will be effective under the national industrial recovery act until a permanent agreement is completed. Several meetings had been held by millers in this territory before an agreement with the national federation code was reached.

HENDRICKS ASKS PAY RESTORATION

Alderman Paul R. Hendricks believes the city, the counties and all other municipalities should line up with the rest of the population in supporting the NRA program, and to that end introduce an ordinance bill at last night's meeting of the city council to restore salaries of city officials back to the level that existed before the 10 per cent cuts made last winter. Hendricks said restoration of the old level of compensation would increase the city's payroll approximately $1300 a month.

At the next meeting Hendricks said he would introduce a bill to restore wages in the street department, for the janitors and the incinerator workers back to the old figure.

Gilbert L. Lindley pleaded not guilty in justice court Tuesday to a statutory charge. He was unable to furnish a bond of $500 and was held in jail. He was to undergo a sanity examination.

ESCAPED CON TO BE RETURNED HERE

Sacramento, Cal., Aug. 8 (AP)—Douglas L. Day, escaped Oregon convict will be returned to Oregon to serve out the remainder of his sentence, it was announced today.

Governor Ralph signed Day's extradition papers. The convict is being held in Los Angeles for Oregon authorities.

Day escaped from the Oregon penitentiary July 29, 1930. He had been sentenced in Multnomah county April 7, 1925, to serve 12 years on a charge of assault and battery, being armed with a dangerous weapon. Remainder of his term is six years, eight months and ten days.

M'KAY PLEADS FOR EFFICIENCY

Need of a more efficient system of city government, with the city manager method favored, was expressed at the Kiwanis club luncheon Tuesday noon by Mayor Douglas McKay.

A city should be run like a corporation, with the voters as stockholders and a board of directors (council) directing affairs with one man, the city manager, at the head of the concern to coordinate all departments, he said. Efficiency is due to either competition or supervision and it is under the latter head that a city functions, Mayor McKay said.

Under the present set-up of seven wards and two representatives from each the city administration is conducted as a side line by the aldermen and mayor, each of whom has his own business affairs to look after first. High taxes are not caused by the state, but originate in the city, school districts and county, he asserted. The commission form of government often develops petty friction between members and is not always for the best interest of the municipality, he claimed.

The board of directors of the Salem Y. M. C. A. met Tuesday noon to listen to monthly reports. Some discussion of plans for the fall was also had. The question of securing a physical director for the winter months is expected to be taken up by the personnel committee within a short time. Two or three plans have been tentatively considered.

Everywhere it's "Change to Super SHELL"

NOW . . . WITHOUT FORMER 3¢ PREMIUM

You would expect such extra mileage, such steady smooth power only from gasolines that cost more per gallon. But this new Super Shell sells at the regular gasoline price. The entire former 3¢ premium is off.

No wonder—East and West—millions are changing to it.

Super Shell is a concentrated gasoline especially developed to give you extra mileage. By new processes in Shell's western refineries, the wasteful parts in ordinary gasoline are taken out. Into Super Shell go only petroleum's most efficient working parts.

This improved Super Shell gasoline makes motors easier to start. It curbs knocks amazingly—not one other gasoline selling at its price has as high an anti-knock rating. And Super Shell is packed with power.

The first time you fill your tank, you'll notice a difference. And you'll be urging your friends—as millions are—"Change to Super Shell."

Says a Cord owner: "For years nothing but the premium gasolines would suit me but I find that Super Shell works just as well. Why should I pay more than Super Shell's regular price?"
B. LaFollette, Seattle, Wash.

Says a Plymouth owner: "On a trip to Los Angeles, I tested four different gasolines at high speeds. I got my best mileage from Super Shell—16 1/2 miles per gallon. The best I got from any of the other three brands was 15 1/2 miles."
P. L. Ashe, San Francisco

Says a Hudson owner: "We swear by Super Shell. Our fleet of supervisors' cars and trucks covers the entire Northwest, and from our records we know Super Shell gives us more mileage than any other gasoline we ever tried."
H. H. Fletcher, Kennewick, Wash.
