Many Salem people have been inquiring as to the meaning of Gymkhana, the name of Jim McCleave's big contribution to the free two-hour night show in front of the grandstand during state fair week, September 4-9. The word's pronunciation and meaning are interesting. Gymkhana is pronounced "jim-ka-na" with a soft sound on the two "a's" and the accent on the second syllable. The dictionary definition of the word is: "A meeting place for athletic sports and games, especially for races and games on horseback; also, the place where such a meeting is held."

TO LICK RACKETEERS WITHIN 60 DAYS

New York, Aug. 14 (UP)—A relentless, unceasing war against racketeers would succeed in 60 days, Lewis E. Lewis, world-famous warden of Sing Sing penitentiary, told the senate committee on racketeers today in advocating drastic action to rid America of gangster evils.

"I think if they don't declare martial law against racketeers then there'll be lynch law, and if there'll be lynch law then martial law is sure to follow anyway," Lawes declared passionately.

"There isn't any question that these men are affiliated with politicians—and I think that some political organizations are racketeers themselves."

This remark provoked applause.

"This is a war against racketeers—and I thing that if the war is properly waged the racketeers will be licked in 60 days."

COOS BAY BRIDGE PLANS COMPLETED

Marshfield, Aug. 14 (UP)—Revised plans for the mile-long highway bridge over Coos Bay were given final approval today at a meeting of State Bridge Engineer C. B. McCullough and members of the Coos Bay port commission.

The vertical clearance of the Coos span is to be 144 feet at mean low water on a width of 245 feet, and 136.2 feet on a width of 400 feet. Original plans called for a 136.8 foot vertical clearance on the entire 400 foot width.

The plans, which are to be presented to the United States district engineer at Portland tomorrow, were altered at the request of the port after shipping companies had indicated previous plans did not meet their maximum requirements.

McCullough said this afternoon he believed the contracts for the entire $4,000,000 coast highway bridge program would be let by January 1. The five bridges are expected to bring employment for 700 men, and will take two years to complete.

PLAN FOR TOUR OF DRUM CORPS

With W. K. Weidenfeld of this city making preliminary arrangements, the state-wide campaign to send the local American Legion drum corps, national champions on a tour of the country as an advertising feature for the state, was officially gotten under way today. The "swing around the circle" of the drum corps has the enthusiastic backing and endorsement of Governor Meier, Senator Steiwer, Congressman Mott, Major Joe Carson of Portland, Mayor Douglas McKay of Salem, Mayor Tom Mahoney of Klamath Falls and other officials and dignitaries.

Local headquarters will be established Tuesday or Wednesday in the Bligh building. The campaign will include the selling of stickers to business firms and when all employes of a firm buy stickers the organization will be given a card signifying it is for the drum corps 100 per cent.

The contemplated tour calls for 21 days on the road. The amount of money required for traveling expenses and purchase of all new equipment totals $12,000.

56 HOUR WEEK FOR DRUGGISTS

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP) — A 56 hour work week was proposed today by the National Association of Retail druggists in a code of fair competition submitted to the recovery administration.

Hours of operation of stores would be limited to 52 hours per week unless operation hours were less than 52 before July 1, 1933.

The maximum hours would not apply to drug stores employing not more than two persons in towns of less than 2,500 population which are not part of a larger trading area. Registered pharmacists and executive employes would be expected from the 56 hours week of other employes.

Minimum wages of $15 a week in the north and $14 a week in the south in cities of 500,000 population and over were proposed. In cities between 250,000 and 500,000 the minimum would drop to $14.50 in the north and $13.50 in the south becoming, in communities between 2,500 and 250,000 of population $14 and $13 respectively.

In towns of less than 2,500 population the druggists proposed to increase all wages by not less than 20 per cent provided such increase does not exceed $12 a week.

HOBOES PLAN FOR RECOVERY CODE

Chicago, Aug. 14 (UP) — Several hundred hoboes paused in their wanderings long enough to attend their national convention here today and immediately set to work on an NRA code which they hope will win them a Blue Eagle.

Squatting on the floor of their convention hall, the restless delegates listened to the exhortations of their president, "King Jeff" Davis.

"Cast your crumbs forth on the water and you may get a chicken sandwich back," Davis advised his followers. "Never try for another man's job. Never, above all, work for nothing."

Davis called on his followers to pledge allegiance to President Roosevelt's recovery program. He promised that hoboes would not indulge in unfair competition.

SALLY RAND FALLS FROM SPEED BOAT

Chicago, Aug. 14 (UP)—Sally Rand added two more startling episodes to her fan-dancing career today—she quit her job at the World's fair and then fell into Lake Machigan from a speedboat.

Miss Rand, who was fined in court last week after her nude performance drew the fire of Mayor Edward J. Kelly, left the World's fair job which skyrocketed her to the front pages as moralists protested against her dance, to return to the stage, she declared.

She was on her way to the fair grounds to get her last pay check when she fell from the speedboat. Coast guards rescued her after she had been in the water several minutes. She was none the worse for her latest "stunt."

COUPLE LOST ON BEACH THREE DAYS

Seaside, Ore., Aug. 14 (AP)—Naomi Swett Commers, Portland artist, and Benjamin Medofsky of that city, who had been missing since Friday on Tillamook head, returned to Seaside today. Parties had sought them since Friday evening when they did not return from a hiking trip on the head.

Miss Sommers and Medofsky were suffering from exhaustion and cold and from minor cuts and bruises when they made their way out of a forest and found themselves on the edge of the Seaside golf course.

They had intended to hike to Cannon Beach Friday but after passing the summit of Tillamook head, found many large trees across their path. In going around the trees they missed the trail. They encountered heavy underbrush, many logs, swamps, mud and a heavy fog. When the sun broke through the fog this morning they obtained their directions and made their way out of the forest.

To the Editor: I saw published in your paper of August 10 a program for the early slaughter of 5,000,000 hogs in order to create higher prices for pork. I also read where to curtail the production of cotton Texans were plowing up fields of cotton, which has cost them considerable work, besides seed for which they were to receive a bounty and a promise of higher prices for less in the future. And the cutting down of wheat acreage on the same plan. The dumping of billions of bushels of surplus from two last years crops, because they could not find market for it.

This year's crop is the smallest in 35 years. It appears to me that by cutting acreages, slaughtering hogs and destroying cotton that in the two-year period as stated in papers it will be next door to a famine throughout our beloved nation. (Even now, men, women and children have not a sufficiency of bread and meat and clothing.)

If I understand the object of the NRA, it is to raise wages and not prices.

France is paying a bounty for increased acreage of wheat—U. S. will pay a bounty to be refunded for reducing crops.

I, for one, believe in planting all the ground I can possibly seed, then in case of a failure I might have enough to carry me through and help another. I would request all God-fearing brothers and sisters to read carefully the book of Obadiah and the 13th champter of Revelations—give it full consideration in the light of prophesy. The distresses of these are at hand, and the coming of the Lord is not far in the future.

"He that endureth to the end shall be saved."

REV. C. HUDSON.
Woodburn, Ore., 8-14-33.

To the Editor: A forum in the Capital Journal of the issue Aug. 9, criticizing the Salem barbers for organizing a code which includes a 50 cent haircut, it's laughable both of the fact the person that wrote that article is so misinformed and declined to sign their name.

The NRA is asking that all industries and trades shorten their hours creating more jobs to put more people back to work to bring the purchasing power back. It is also asking that they all receive a decent wage or income for their labor. It's true, barber shop owners paid a larger guarantee wage when haircuts were 50 cents before. But they compelled journeyman barbers to stick around barber shops longer hours than now under the new barbers' code. Barbers have been cutting hair the past couple years for 25 cents because they were human enough to see that the people with their indecent income could not even afford a 25 cent haircut, and 98 per cent, if not 100 per cent of barbers who did cut hair for 25 cents the last couple of years went behind and lived partly on savings which they saved in good times.

A quarter century ago 95 per cent of men and boys, ages from 16 to 100 got shaved in barber shops eight or ten times per month, and he who shaved himself was laughed at by everybody. Today it's just the reverse, 95 per cent shave themselves with a grubbing hoe they call a safety. Safety to the pocketbook only. And during this depression girls and women have been getting 15 cent haircuts in beauty parlors together with a curl or a wave.

A quarter of a century ago the entire overhead costs of conducting a barber shop did not exceed $12 per month, today its few barber shops operated under less than a $40 overhead cost. The 25 cent haircut is no more practicable today than $1 per day for workmen. Give the barbers back the shave trade the safety razor robbed them of, and the $12 monthly overhead shop and barbers will go back to 15 cent shave and 25 cent haircut.

R. D. TURPIN, Barber.

PLAN TO SCARIFY SILVER FALLS ROAD

A county caterpillar this morning was sent into the Silver Falls section to scarify the old Silver Falls road or Ridge road, formerly the south entrance to Silver Falls before completion of the new secondary highway. This road is about two and a half miles long where the work will be done and serves a farming community. The road is marked by large boulders which in many places have worked themselves up above the surface and it is expected these will be torn out by the caterpillar, then worked down into the base of the road and gravel will be put on.

A delegation appeared before the court today asking that this road be established on the same standard as a market road but this will not be done, road members stated, the road to be put in shape for two way travel.

WOMEN FAIL TO COLLECT WAGES DUE

The pay due about a dozen women who were employed by Young & Wells during the cherry packing season is waiting for them at the office of C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner, at the state house.

At the end of the packing season the women, for some reason failed to call for their pay. The packing firm deposited it with the labor commissioner, and still they haven't called to get it.

Mr. Gram said today that they may get their pay whenever they call for it.

JAIL GANGSTER FOR KIDNAPING URSCHEL CASE

7 —Jail Gangster

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—The department of justice announced tonight that an escaped convict, Albert L. Bates, arrested in Denver today, was the George Bates sought by the government in connection with the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, of Oklahoma City, July 22.

Bates, a 35 year old escaped convict, had used the name of Albert L. Bates as one of seven aliases, the department said.

Attorney General Cummings announced earlier that Harvey Bailey, caught in a raid near Paradise, Tex., Saturday, had a large amount of marked ransom money paid Urschel kidnapers, and that Bates and George Kelly also were sought as members of the kidnaping gang.

Kelly, the attorney general said, has been positively identified as one of the kidnapers. He was said to be traveling over the west in a 16-cylinder automobile. Bates was described as one of the occupants of the car.

Wanted in Washington, Nebraska, Nevada, Utah and Michigan for escape, burglary and bank robbery, Bates also had been traveling under the names of James O. King, George Davis, George Harris, Roy Harris, Bernard McLaughlin and Bernard Hughes, the department said.

Three others have been arrested and have confessed participation in the Urschel kidnaping, justice officials disclosed today, but they refused to mak epublic their names.

PREDICTS SUCCESS OF RECOVERY ACT

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 14 (AP)—William E. Sweet, former governor of Colorado, here to speak on the national recovery act, believes the day of huge fortunes is over "and the day of a limit on wealth is at is "neither state socialism nor fashand." But the NRA, he said today, cism. It is the new deal."

"We propose to accomplish in many respects the same things that are proposed under fascism and state socialism but all within the structure of democracy and capitalism," he said. "The present function of capitalism has depended too much on the exploitation of labor. This must cease. The welfare of our people must come before profits."

He called the administration program a "bloodless revolution" of economics and declared "the success of the NRA depends upon the cooperation of industry. Present indications point very certainly to a virtual 100 percent NRA membership for industry."

HEALTH CONDITIONS ALONG RIVER PROBED

An investigation into the conditions existing along the east bank of the Willamett river near Independence was being made today by J. E. Blinkhorn, county dairy and food inspector. A number of families have moved in on the tract of land awaiting the opening of hop picking, it is stated. Since arrangements for sewage disposal are particularly primitive it is feared those camped along the river may be the victims of disease.

Two years ago following the close of hop picking, a number of families, virtually stranded continued to inhabit the camp ground. Last year a number of cases of malaria developed in the neighborhood.

So far the health department has been unable to locate the owner of the property.

HAWLEY COMPANY HAS $150,000 FIRE

Milwaukie, Ore., Aug. 14 (AP)—Smoking ruins were all that remained today of the wood-cutting plant of the Hawley Pulp & Paper company, swept by fire early Sunday. Though an official estimate of damage was not obtainable unofficial sources placed the amount at between $100,000 and $150,000.

The fire, of undetermined origin, spread quickly after discovery and the Milwaukie fire department, on the job in a few moments, was limited in action by equipment and could do little but portect nearby property.

Charles C. Mullan, 66, fire chief, was overcome by heat and smoke and was taken to Portland Sanitarium, where his condition is reported not serious.

MOODY TO STAY IN STATE POSITION

Ralph H. Moody of Medford will continue as assistant attorney general in place of the late William S. Levens of Salem, Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle announced late Saturday following a conference with Moody.

Moody was placed in charge of the state's prosecution in the murder trial of L. A. Banks of Medford, after Levens died suddenly. Subsequently Moody handled the prosecution of a number of Jackson county persons who were charged with theft of ballots.

Van Winkle said Moody will wind up the details of the Jackson county prosecutions and then make his headquarters in Salem. He will fill permanently the position vacated by Levens' death, though his duties may not be precisely the same in the reorganization, Van Winkle said.

Moody was Portland general attorney for the Southern Pacific company about 20 years ago, but retired because of ill health and moved to Jackson county. He is the son of Z. F. Moody, one of Oregon's early governors.

CAMERAMEN REAL HEROES OF CUBAN REVOLT

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—A thrilling and nearly tragic story of adventure and adversity was pieced together today from cabled bits of Havana news—the story of the heart-breaking battle of Associated Press staff photographers to fill an "assignment" against odds of revolution, bloodshed and rioting.

As the last of a relay of planes dropped to Newark airport at noon with a realistic pictorial account of the Cuban revolt it marked the successful conclusion of another phase of another "newspaper story" that cost many thousands of dollars and almost cost the lives of two Associated Press cameramen.

Seymour Ress, Associated Press photographer, lost his camera and precious plates Saturday afternoon at the hands of an hysterical mob which descended upon the Pan-American Airways dock to prevent the escape of Colonel Orestes Rerrera, former secretary of state.

As the pilot took off in a hail of bullets, with the secretary and his wife safely guarded, the infuriated mob bore down on Ress and destroyed his camera and plates—which were to have gone to Miami aboard the plane.

At the point of pistols and rifles, they forced him into a machine and after handling him roughly, threw him out in the outskirts of Havana.

Another Associated Press camera man, Jose Garcia, who last week was dragged to safety as he was photographing the massacre of celebrating Cubans by soldiers before the presidential palace, dug out from vaults duplicate "shots" of the rioting of the week-end.

These pictures, taken almost at the same time and places as those of Ress, were prepared for delivery. Other pictures, obtained from Havana newspaper members of the Associated Press, were included.

Despite the fact news reel cameramen and other photographers were keeping films locked in vaults for safe keeping during the rioting, the Havana "A.P." staff at once made preparations to fly their second batch of pictures to Miami for distribution over the United States.

CLEANERS AND DYERS ADOPT NEW CODE

Prices for cleaning, pressing and dying returned Saturday to prices that prevailed in 1932 at a meeting of the newly organized Salem Association of Cleaners and Dyers. A code or fair competition was adopted which forbids the offering of rebates to customers.

Under the price schedule adopted cleaning and pressing of men's suits are listed at $1, pressing alone to be 50 cents. During the "war" that has been waged for a number of months suits were pressed for 25 cents.

E. H. Kennedy was elected temporary president of the organization and Chester Foreman temporary secretary. Willard Lange and Stanley McDonald were named a committee to work out an association code.

Government Camp, Ore., Aug. 14 (AP)—Lawrence Gott, 17, of Wamic, Ore., was drowned in Frog lake, eight miles east of here, Sunday, while fishing with a companion, Bobbie Davidson.
