WALNUTS TO BE 70 PER CENT OF LAST YEAR CROP

Pending an accurate estimate by the various California local walnut associations the central office is anticipating that this year's crop of walnuts will approximate 70 percent of last year's with better quality in prospect, says the California Fruit News. The recent hot weather has caused some damage to both quantity and quality in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys and in the interior districts of southern California. The coastal districts were not affected and the damage to the total crop of the state probably did not exceed 5 percent. The California Walnut Growers association reports July sales of unshelled walnuts the heaviest in their history. Shelled walnuts have been continuing to sell briskly and they are now sold out, with exception of two of the lower grades. It is anticipated that there will be a complete sell-out of these by October, when the shelling plant starts operating on the new season, when final distribution of returns to growers will be made. Carlyle Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers association, arrived in London the latter part of July on a survey of possible markets in northern European countries for California surplus walnuts. A preliminary report of these prospects should be forthcoming next month. Negotiations are under way between the California and Oregon walnut industries for the preparation of the code and agreement under the agricultural adjustment act. No definite proposals, however, have as yet been reached.

CHICAGO GRAIN ORDERS STATIC

Chicago, Aug. 14 (AP)—Unable to get execution here on selling orders because emergency rules served as a barrier, grain trades moved business mostly to Winnipeg today. As a consequence, prices in Chicago became virtually meaningless.

Interest hinged largely on a meeting of senior partners and executive officers of Chicago grain houses to be held late this afternoon. Out of the meeting it was hoped would come suggestions for a solution of difficulties under which the trade was laboring.

All grains closed nominally at the same as Saturday's finish.

BUTTER DROPS ONE CENT PER POUND TODAY

Portland, Aug. 14 (UP)—Drop of one cent per pound on butter and butterfat at a special session of the produce exchange Saturday, was in effect today.

Trading in the egg market is without special feature for the week's opening. Top quality stuff is being well maintained as to price while receipts of this character are decreasing.

Quite liberal supplies of California Elberta and J. H. Hale peaches are reaching the street and demand appears quite favorable with quality above normal. Only very scant supply of The Dalles Crawfords and Elbertas is arriving.

Only a small lot of apricots remains available here and the 1933 deal is about closed with the exception of the local stock, which is scant. Demand is again showing and prices are held steady to firm.

Somewhat better trend was reflected in the tomato trade for the day. Offerings were more liberal but demand was even better and further improvement in the price was shown generally.

Further liberal increase in offerings from Yakima and The Dalles caused another slash in cantaloupe prices for the day with few sales of standard crates up to the dollar mark. Quality is now very good.

Lemons are down 25c case.

Shortage of bananas is more severe.

First marblehead squash is offering at 2c lb.

Sweet potatoes are down to 8c lb.

Red Malaga grapes are offering at $2 lug.

Onions are about steady for Walla Walla offerings.

OUTLOOK FOR DRIED FRUIT IN SOUTH IS GOOD

The general future outlook for the dried fruit market is bright, in the view of practically everyone, says the California Fruit News. Prunes are in good shape here under the general pool control. This will also this year provide for keeping practically all of the off-grade prunes out of the general consumers' market and there will doubtless be none but standard quality prunes available, under present plans. The European markets particularly, and to some extent the domestic, did not think that the prune pool arrangement would go along. There have been so many false starts on these things. Consequently, stocks were allowed to run down during the late spring. Export shipments of prunes have been restricted, both through the import trade embargoes and tariffs of foreign countries and through the disinclination to believe that the pool would be continued in full effect. The reduced value of dollar exchange abroad, however, has made it cheaper to buy our fruit in many markets. On the other hand, however, financial exchange restrictions in some countries have handicapped business.

These things will tend to straighten out, of course, with time but they have been very confusing. The latest estimates of the prune crop, both in California and in other prune producing sections in the world, make it look as if there were going to be less prunes to be consumed between now and a year from now than the world supply the past 12 months—particularly when the diminished carry-over is considered.

STOCK PRICES DRIFT EASILY TO LOWER BASIS

New York, Aug. 14 (UP)—Lack of demand brought a decline of fractions to 2 points throughout most of the stock exchange list today in dealings totaling around 1,000,000 shares.

Trading was dominated by professionals.

Uncertainty over commodity prices restricted trading. Grains did nothing because of restrictions, which expire tomorrow, but it was believed in some quarters new restriction would be imposed. Cotton lost ground and all other commodities declined with sugar down sharply.

Losses in stocks extended to more than 3 points at mid-session. Toward the close some support developed. Trading continued dull to theend of the session.

The American gold mining stocks gave a demonstration of strength in the early dealings. Homestake mining soared 23 points to 268. Friday the issue closed at 245 up 12½ points on the day. Alaska Juneau also was higher, but it lost part.

Sales totaled 1,220,000 shares, against 1,343,000 shares last Friday. Curb sales were 230,000 shares, against 243,000.

Dow-Jones preliminary averages: industrial, 96.53 off .94; railroad 48.50 off .69; utility 30 up off .55.

The United Press daily commodity price index broke to 100.30, the lowest level since July 1 when the total was 99.81 per cent of the 1930-1932 average. Sharp breaks in grains were responsible for the dip of nearly 4 points in the index since Friday.

Incentive for purchase of some of the gold mining issues was the treasury ruling that the companies could tak advantage of the higher gold price in the London gold market.

Canadian gold mining stocks have for some time profited by the action of the Canadian government in allowing them the differential between the pegged price of gold and the price prevailing in the free market at London.

Steel operations were reported unchanged at 54 per cent of capacity by the magazine Steel. U. S. Steel at one time was down 2 points. It rallied late in the day.

calling list today. Tomorrow Mr. Roosevelt plans to go over the whole picture with his recovery council.

The president yesterday obtained reports of progress on the public works and industrial reorganization programs from Secretary Ickes and other offciials.

He paused today to receive another report on the London economic conference at luncheon with Chairman Pittman (D., Nev.) of the senate foreign relations commitee and Chairman McReynolds (D., Tenn.) of the house foreign affairs committee, two of the delegates.

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania was another on today's calling list.

The giant pinions of NRA's blue eagle were held today by officials to be hovering over a quarter of the nation's 40,000,000 workers.

Because the president has accepted much of the advice already given to him by Johnson, the expectation was that Mr. Roosevelt would approve an elaboration of the idea the administrator is advancing now, like in his St. Louis speech last night when he said:

"If you see a place where there is none and you do any kind of business there you have a right to ask: 'Brother, where is your blue eagle?' And (if the answer does not to you seem fair) take your business elsewhere. If every person * * * did that for a week, there would not be a store or a shop or factory in this whole country without its blue eagle."

Meanwhile, in the absence of data on which to base correct figures, NRA officials declined today to estimate with any claimed attempt at accuracy, how far they had come toward their original goal of putting 5,000,000 unemployed back to work by Labor day. But their guesses ranged as high as 1,500,000 and as low as 200,000.

Score upon score of codes have been submitted, five major industrial plans approved, 40 to 50 industries authorized temporarily to substitute their own unapproved codes' hour and pay conditions for labor provisions in the Roosevelt blanket code.

Through temporary measures, such as that, NRA officials estimated fully 10,000,000 workers were or soon would be affected by the blue eagle. They carefully explained they did not mean that 10,000,000 new workers had been or would be hired, because of what had so far been done.

The most recent substitution in the blanket code enlisted, officials said, 1,500,000 employes of the electric light and power, telephone, natural gas producing and manufacturing, canning, construction, corn products, paper and pulp and other industries.

Among the industries to which authority previously had been given by Johnson to enter into the blanket agreement with labor sections of their own proposed programs, are millions of other workers.

Miss Carnelia Cardwell and Miss Florence Jory spent a few days visiting Mrs. Floyd Monroe at Hammond's camp No. 26.

"Well, I knew how he felt about it. I like to smoke before breakfast myself, and besides, he was so darned honest about it that I told him to sit down and I'd pay for his breakfast."

"That," said the reported, "was a good deed."

"But here's what I'm getting at," the state official went on. "There's a story in that man. He looks to me like a man with a career. I size him up as an old timer. Interesting men, the old timers. He has all the earmarks. Let me buy you a cup of coffee and you sit down there on the next stool and get his story."

"Oke," said the reporter.

The reporter sat down and stirred his coffee as he sparred for an opening. The state official sauntered over to the lunch counter, wished the grizzled man good luck and went out.

"You know that man?" said the reporter to the other.

"No," the man grinned. "Who is he?"

"He's a state official."

"The hell!" He was taking the last slashes at the steak.

"What work do you follow when you're lucky enough to get a job?" the reporter bored in.

"I've done just about everything."

"Ever work in the mines?"

"No, that's one job I never worked at. These fried potatoes are sure good."

The reporter sipped his coffee and tried again.

"How long you going to be around?" he inquired.

"Anyway till after hop pickin'."

"When did you blow in?" the reporter asked, trying to use hobo language.

"You mean when did I come to Salem?"

"Yeah."

"O, hell, I've been here four years."

The reporter swallowed his coffee and went out.
