

HOP PICKING IN POLK YARDS DUE TO START SOON

Independence—Hop picking is just around the corner and that is no dream," said a hop grower here yesterday. His statement was prompted possibly by the rapid development in early fuggles and clusters during the past few days. The vanguard of the procession of hop pickers is already here and many have pitched camps on the Willamette river banks to await the word to go afield. The season will evidently open on the early hops about Tuesday or Wednesday.

Late hops are coming along rapidly and picking of them will start after the first of September. September 5 is the date now in the minds of many growers, unless heavy rains set in and bring them on sooner.

The crop as a whole looks better than for years and growers are putting forth special effort to take care of their crops in the way of general repairs to buildings, added equipment and extra labor.

Several new hop houses are under construction and extra crews of men are at work rushing them to completion. Fan systems are being installed in many instances to hurry along the drying process.

Camps are being organized and made more sanitary for the inhabitants, under the supervision of a government official who is on the ground.

Independence will have extra police protection during the picking season and a number of deputies will be stationed at or near the yards to assist in handling the large crowds expected this year.

Many growers have enlisted pickers far beyond their needs to give work to as many as possible and preference is being given Oregon labor.

Signing Of Armistice Second In Excitement At Woodburn Saturday

Woodburn—More excitement was in evidence in Woodburn Saturday afternoon than has been seen in 20 years when word came over the wires that the Woodburn Junior Legion ball team had won the northwest regional title at Pocatello.

All afternoon excited fans and Legionnaires gathered about the depot and the Independent office, where the results were being given out at the end of each inning. The crowds were very quiet and solemn until word came in the ninth inning that Woodburn had tied the score. From then on excitement was intense as inning by inning the game went on with no score.

Meals were forgotten and stores were deserted as employees and owners alike stood on the sidewalk waiting for news. When the final telegram came announcing that Woodburn had won in the 15th inning, a 4 to 3, such a yell went up as has not been heard in this quiet burg for many years. People ran up and down the streets, cheering and yelling, horns blew, the fire bell and siren added to the pandemonium and all faces were wreathed in smiles.

The celebration continued throughout the evening and a group of Legionnaires mounted the fire truck and sped to Hubbard and were presented with the keys to the city while the Hubbard fire truck, loaded with relatives and friends of the players sped to Woodburn to exchange congratulations.

Later in the evening Sam Yoder and Jake Hershberger paraded Front street with a gallon glass asking contributions for spending money for the team and in a few minutes collected more than $50, which will be telegraphed to the boys for this purpose.

Elaborate plans are being made by the Hubbard people to entertain the ball team and the Woodburn post when the team returns. A cabaret dinner will be served with a program and speeches which will be attended by people from all over the county. The entire proceeds of the dinner after actual expenses are paid will be turned over to the baseball fund of the Woodburn post.

Palmer played a piano solo and Mary Butler gave a reading. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Morley and J. W. Merfield served supper at the close of the meeting.

Dallas—The Hill Billies, led by Frank Dornhecker and Bert Curtis invaded the La Creole diamond Friday night for a kiltball game with a nine recruited from the group organized for the purpose some two weeks ago. For the greater part of the game it looked like another Pioneer victory as they scored twice in the first, once in the third and once in the fourth, while holding their opponents scoreless. In the sixth Curtis, on the mound, began to weaken, and was found for enough hits to tie the score. The score was still tied at the end of the seventh and went into the last half of the eighth still deadlocked but in the semi darkness Dallas drove over the winning run with only one down. A return game is slated for next Friday.

Only a General CAN RUN AT THE LOW PRESSURE NECESSARY FOR BLOWOUT-PROOF SAFETY

When your tires are Generals, you can run them with air pressure so low—they are PROOF against the blowouts common to higher pressure tires.

For high air pressure is the one great cause of blowouts—and only a low pressure tire can be blowout-proof.

Generals gently absorb the bumps and shocks that break and blow out tires of "standard" high pressure. They speed you in comfort and safety over roads you shudder to take at low speed with your present tires.
