Continuation of— Detroit Banks —From Page One

borious reading of confidential reports into the records the senator digressed for a moment to assert he was "reliably informed" that check kiting has been going on between the Detroit banks as a regular practice."

He explained that he was informed that on one occasion the First National deposited with the Detroit Trust company at $6,000,000 check just prior to a statement and that the trust company returned the favor when the First National was ready to issue its statement.

"I am reliably informed this was a common practice," he testified, "and I urge you Mr. Prosecutor, to inquire into it and discover whether it is still going on or when the banks stopped the practice."

Senator Couzens revealed that the source of his hitherto unlabeled facts regarding closed Detroit banks came from the federal reserve bank at Chicago. The senator said the files of the bank were made available to him "at my request."

"Why, then, were these bank records available to you and not to us?" Prosecutor Harry S. Toy queried.

"I don't think the government has refused you the records," Senator Couzens replied. "They did refuse to send witnesses. But I might add that I am a federal official."

The senator then asked permission to read into the record a statement of a federal official regarding the banks but refused to reveal the name of the letter's author. The request precipitated a lively encounter between Prosecutor Toy and Attorney General Patrick H. O'Brien with the latter threatening to oust Toy from the inquiry. Toy said he was "in here to stay," and cited sections of the statutes to support his contention he is a vital part of any such grand jury probe.

Depositors in the closed banks will never get their money back until the bankers themselves repay the huge loans outstanding against them, the senator charged as the session neared its close.

Offering to tell the courtroom why "depositors are unable to get their money right away," the witness read from bank records the amounts of loans granted to officers and directors, but refused to name the borrowers.

"Here's a prominent surgeon who borrowed $177,000 from First National. The federal examiner says the loan is hopelessly involved. A wealthy patient, however, may take care of it."

"One of the Grosse Points elite," the senator added, "borrowed $669,695.87 from the same institution. Examiners requested that $269,000 of the loan be written off, but this was not done. This loan was handled by Wilson W. Mills."

Couzens explained that much of the millions of dollars outstanding in loans to bankers was carried on a 'continuous basis."

EGG PRICES FLUCTUATE ON LOCAL MARTS

Portland, Ore., Aug. 21 (UP)—Egg prices fluctuated here today except in extreme top grades. Market for butter was without quoteable change in the price, market for cheese continues to reflect weakness here and in the East. Storage accumulations are chiefly against the immediate market.

There continues weakness in the market for light and medium weight hens in the live poultry trade but heavy stuff and broilers are inclined to hold rather well.

Market on tomatoes received a backset during the day with greatly increased offerings from Yakima as well as liberal ones from The Dalles. Sales of No. 1 grade were made down to 35c box.

Still further spurt of strength is suggested in peach prices here. Prices are steady to 5c higher in spots on Elbertas and J. H. Hales with limited local canning offerings firmer.

Green peppers in oversupply and sharply lower.

Sweet potatoes down ½ to 1c lb.

New potatoes are active for locals, at unchanged prices.

Mountain huckleberries are down to a dime a pound.

Cucumbers slightly more active for both pickling and slicing.

Apple market is trifle slow but unchanged in price.

Watermelons are steady.

Dillard cantaloupes are lower at $1.85. Others general 85-90c.

BLIGHT LOSS IN NUTS HEAVY

This is the worst blight year in the history of Oregon walnut industry, according to County Inspector Van Trump, who has looked over a considerable number of orchards in various parts of the county and heard reports on many more.

"Crop reports get shorter and shorter," said the inspector. "The nearer to harvest the smaller the crop, seemingly from reports I get.

"From some orchards in the hills I have had reports of as high as 80 to 90 per cent damage from blight while 50 per cent damage seems to be about the normal report.

"Whatever condition is the true cause of the walnut blight it certainly is working its havoc to the fullest this year and the complete extent of the damage done to the crop will not be known until the harvest season is finally over."

OYSTER GROWERS RAISE ALL PRICES

Portland, Ore., Aug. 21 (UP)—Large Pacific oysters have advanced to $1.25 a gallon, effective at once, it has been agreed by oyster growers. Wholesalers and retailers have been notified.

It is said an even greater price rise will be shown in resale to consumers. Retail will be 45 cents for quarts and 25 cents for pints, compared with as low as 25 cents previously for the former and 15 cents for the latter.

No price has as yet been named on Olympia, Willapa and Yaquina offerings.

Oystermen are now woring on their code.

PRUNE PRICES TO FIX WAGES OF PICKERS

Roseburg, Ore., August 21 (AP)—Prices to be paid laborers in the prune harvest will be largely dependant upon prices received by growers for their fruit, it was agreed here at a meeting of representative growers. A tentative schedule, however, has been adopted, providing payment for pickers at the rate of three and one half cents per box on Italian and date prunes, with one half cent bonus for pickers who remain throughout the season. Wages for pickers on petite prunes, which are of a smaller size, will be one cent higher with the same bonus consideration. Minimum wages for common labor will be $2 per day and for drier men $2.50 per day. The growers agreed that higher wages will be paid if the price for prunes justifies.

Silverton—Mrs. Nels Langsev of the Evans Valley community was hostess to a number of relatives on Friday afternoon at her home for a coffee party. The guest list included her aunt, Mrs. Tina Royce of Portland, another aunt, Mrs. A. A. Grinde, her mother, Mrs. R. B. Bentson, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Harry Bentson, all of Silverton.

Union Hill—Mrs. J. W. Merrifield is in Silverton at the home of her mother, Mrs. Heater, who has been seriously ill.

BOSTON WOOL
Boston, Aug 21 (UP)—Business remained spotty in the Boston wool market today. Prices continued very firm with medium wools especially strong due to their scarcity. The U.S. Dept. of Agri. said: Asking prices on domestic wools are firm and unchanged from last week. The undertone of the market is particularly strong on 56s 3-8 blood wools, as a considerable portion of the recent interest has been on this grade. Inquiries continue somewhat scattered. The estimated receipts of domestic wool at Boston reported to the Boston grain and flour exchange during the week ending Aug. 19, amounted to 2,610,000 lbs., compared with 10,477,500 lbs. during the previous week.

GRAINS SLUMP WEARILY TODAY

Chicago, Aug. 21 (AP)—Grains sagged wearily today after a moderate advance at the opening. Trading was erratic, sporadic selling forcing prices gradually backward with each succeeding rally failing to gain back all lost ground. Lack of interest by outside buyers forced both wheat and corn back at one time to three cents below Saturday's finish, but rallies wiped out part of this loss. Provisions were moderately active and slightly higher with hogs.

Wheat closed fairly steady, steady to ⅝ cent lower than Saturday's finish, corn steady to ½ cent down. Oats steady to ¼ cent off, and provisions steady to 10 cents higher.

Grain opened comparatively steady today, in the absence of any news affecting the market. Some weakness at Liverpool was generally ignored here. Wheat started steady to 1 cent higher, but later a wave of selling carried prices down more than 2 cents a bushel below Saturday's close. Corn was steady to ½ cent lower and later declined with wheat.

GRAIN QUALITY HIGH

Silverton—Threshers finished the work on the James Sorensen farm near Marquam Saturday. The yield both in wheat and oats is well above average and the quality is splendid. The slight rains of Friday night were not sufficient to delay threshing in this community.

ON FISHING TRIP

Hazel Green—Mr. and Mrs. Alvin VanCleave and children Marvin, Geneva and Daryl, accompanied by VanCleave's father are making a fishing trip near Prairie City. During their absence Mr. and Mrs. Milo Bennett of Gervais are living at the Tom VanCleave home.

Falls City—Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kaegi of Dallas spent Friday at the home of their nephew, Chauncey Ferguson and family.

PACIFIC COAST HOP CROP PUT 167,000 BALES

Frank Needham, well known local hop man and dealer, estimates a hop crop of 167,000 bales on the coast after trips through the hop growing sections of Oregon, Washington and California. His latest trip was through California with his partner, James E. Taylor, who left San Francisco for the east while Needham returned to Salem.

He states the California yards look fine with a probable 50,000 bale crop in this state. He places the Oregon crop at 90,000 bales and the Washington crop at 27,000 bales. Yakima yards also look fine, he states, and he says he saw baby hops up there which were planted in April which he predicts will go a ton and a half to the acre.

While the coast crop, he says, will be much larger this year than last this is also offset by the fact that there are numerous breweries which will be in the market for hops which were but a figment of the imagination last year and he considers the outlook fine.

His partner, Mr. Taylor, he states, has opened offices for their hop firm at Cleveland and Chicago and is expected to be in New York today or tomorrow and will open offices there.

STOCKS CLIMB 1 TO 6 POINTS LED BY STEEL

New York, Aug. 21 (UP)—Stocks gained 1 to more than 6 points today as sentiment improved in the financial district. Trading continued light and the rise came through reticence to sell rather than an enlarged demand.

Wet stocks made the best showing on the wet victory in Missouri and indications that the 18th amendment might be repealed before the end of the year. Gains in the group ranged up to more than 6 points with American commercial alcohol the feature. Commercial solvents was active and strong, one block of 10,000 shares selling at 39½ after which it moved toward the 40 level. Schenley, U. S. industrial alcohol, National Distillers, Liquid Carbonic and Standard brands rose 1 to 3 points.

Steel shares led the market at the outset following adjustment of differences over a steel code. U. S. Steel ruled strong throughout the day. Oils had a period of activity and strength, netting gains of fractions to a point. Code clarification was a factor in that group also. Rails improved on better than anticipated gain in car loadings, although the rise was due mostly to coal and ore loadings.

Stock sales today totaled approximately 1,560,000 shares as against 2,090,000 shares last Friday. Curb sales today totaled 238,000 shares as against 305,000 shares Friday.

Dow, Jones preliminary averages showed, industrial, 100.19 up 1.8; railroad 49.67 up 1.12; utility 30.58, up .37.

There were many favorable items for the market. The international institute of agriculture in Rome forecast a wheat shortage that would bring a rise in wheat prices; department store sales gained; Du Pont declared the regular dividend; the sugar quota was nearer adjustment; coal production increased in the week ended August 12; the dollar was easier; individual roads continued to report favorable loadings reports; wages advanced for unskilled labor, adding to purchasing power.

On the adverse side was the order of the public service commission reducing electric rates in New York. It affected utilities but had no apparent influence on the remainder of the market. Losses in utilities were held to small amounts.

The grain market was steadier than recent sessions. Wheat moved over an arc of more than 2 cents and closed off ¼ to ⅝ cent a bushel but well up from the lows. Other grains were unchanged to fractionally down. Wheat at Winnipeg was off ⅜ to ½ cent. The New York cotton market ruled steady, while silver and rubber made small gains.
