FIRE CODE TO BE AGAIN GIVEN CITY COUNCIL

An indication that the fire code may again be placed before the city council by Alderman O. A. Olson, chairman of the fire committee, is seen in a report that Olson received yesterday from E. A. Taylor, deputy state fire marshal.

The Taylor report states that, during the first nine months of this year, Salem's fire loss on insured property has been 5.6 per cent, which is said to be 1.69 per cent over the state's average for cities with recognized fire fighting departments. The Salem average, it was said, is the same as that for the state as a large whole covers both city and rural property losses.

The report gives the actual loss on insured property in Salem as $32,995.03 up to October 1, and of this, it is said, $31,803.31 has been repaid by the insurance companies. On 419 per cent of the fires, Taylor said, no investigations have been reported.

Loss percentages as to cause of fires are listed as follows: Explosions or sparks from combustion 12.73; incendiary, 12.73; electrical or defective wiring, 5.9; hot ashes, coal or open fires, 5.84; hot grease, oil, tar and asphalt, 3.85. Several less frequent causes were listed.

Alderman Olson says that a considerable part of these losses could have been forestalled if there were provision in the fire department for a fire prevention program with regular thorough inspections as the basis so that fire hazards might be eliminated. He again suggests a fire prevention bureau with at least one full-time officer to keep records and make investigations.

Taylor's report covers 96 fires, with residences topping the list at 65 and business and office buildings next at 17. Losses were classified as follows: Dwellings, outbuildings and contents, $8738.73; barns and equipment, $235; mercantile, office, bank buildings, professional offices, contents and stocks, $18,070.88; textile and cleaning establishments, $1,713.64; hotels and other rooming places, $578.70; public garages and filling stations, $1085; restaurants, $2464.32; motor vehicles, $118.76.

day afternoon. Mrs. Palmer accompanied them.

The young people are well known in Silvertown, where they have lived for a number of years and attended the schools here. They will make their home in Astoria and will be "at home" after November 1.

Stayton--Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Bell were surprised Tuesday evening when a group of friends honored them on their 12th wedding anniversary. The evening was spent with cards and music.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fair, Mr. and Mrs. Sim F. Etzel, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Duncan, Dr. and Mrs. W. V. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Bell. Mr. and Mrs. Willis Brown called late in the evening.

Sidney--The Ankeny Women's club is holding its fall meeting on Thursday at the country home of Mrs. Enna Wintermantel. The election of new officers for the ensuing year was the main business.

Brooks--Miss Ellen Hackitt of Salem was a dinner guest of Mrs. A. M. Dunlavy Sunday. Other guests at the Dunlavy home were Mrs. Fred Batchelor of Salem and Mr. and Mrs. George Cole of Stayton.

Liberty Club Hears Paper on Germany

The Liberty Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. Shattuck Thursday in the absence of both president and vice president, Mrs. Stacey acted as secretary as the secretary was also absent. Following a short business meeting, a program was given, consisting of a paper on "Vagabondism in Germany," read by Mrs. Claude Carson; talk on France and Switzerland, Mrs. Shattuck; and a talk on the low countries by Mrs. Dallas. Mrs. Stacey and Mrs. Carson served refreshments.

Those present were Mrs. Scott, Miss Pearl Scott, Mrs. K. Holder, Mrs. C. W. Stacey, Mrs. R. D. Gibson, Mrs. Hoffnell, Mrs. Charles Russ, Mrs. Fair, Mrs. O. Brooks, Mrs. E. C. Free, Carolyn Carson and the hostess, Mrs. Shattuck.

Nuptials Said At Albany

Jefferson--At an impressive service Sunday, Oct. 8, in the Church of God at Albany, Miss Iris Edith Norman, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Norman, became the bride of Jesse F. Thomas, nephew of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Vaughn of the Parrish Gap district near Jefferson. The service was read by Rev. A. T. Green of Woodburn in the presence of a large group of relatives and friends.

Charles Mackey of Portland, brother-in-law of the groom, sang preceding the ceremony.

The bride wore a floor-length dress of white crepe with long veil held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower

LOSSES BY FIRE IN NATIONAL FORESTS LOW

Portland, Oct. 13 (AP)--An all-time low in fire losses in Oregon and Washington national forests was reported here today by the regional forester's office.

Total area burned in the north Pacific area this year has only 4,746 acres, compared with 34,283 in 1932. This compares with the all-time high of 695,253 acres burned in 1910 and the 328,659 acres in 1929.

Favorable weather conditions and better public cooperation were partly responsible for success in keeping the fire hazard down in national forests this year. C. J. Buck, regional forester said.

But one of the chief reasons for the low fire loss, he pointed out, was the presence of President Roosevelt's C.C.C. workers in national forests this year.

"The C.C.C. men have responded quickly and energetically to the fire fighting calls," he said. "New truck trails, horse trails and telephone lines constructed by them have improved opportunities to get men and equipment to fires before the flames gained headway." Buck added.

Campers and smokers fires showed decreases this year--campers' fires from 177 to 103 and smokers' from 254 to 223.

Incendiarism showed the most startling decrease, with 207 in 1932 and but 34 in 1933. This, too, is traced to the C.C.C. fighters, whose activities forestalled firebug efforts.

Jefferson--Miss Elizabeth Apperle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Apperle of Jefferson, was recently elected vice president of Phi Chi Theta, national honor society for junior and senior women specializing in commerce who have made outstanding scholarship records. Miss Apperle is a junior in secretarial science at Oregon State college.

The Phi Chi Theta organization has as its purpose the fostering of high ideals and cooperation among women in business careers.

Jefferson--Mrs. James Pate and Mrs. A. B. Hinz entertained members and guests of the Jefferson Woman's club at the Hinz home Wednesday afternoon for the first meeting of the club season.

The topic for the meeting was "Epochs of Progress." Mrs. C. M. Smith read the scripture lesson from the book of Genesis and roll call was answered by quotations from Proverbs. Mrs. H. D. Mars gave a paper on "The March of Civilization" and Mrs. D. Y. Hamill read a poem "Each in His Own Tongue." At the tea hour refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Miss Helen Hinz.

Guests for the afternoon were Miss Frances Chambers, Miss Elizabeth Looney, Miss Helen Hinz and Mrs. Paul Wackenberg. Roswell Wright was a guest during the social hour.

Member present included Mrs. Rex Hartley, Mrs. David H. Looney, Mrs. Eugene Finlay, Mrs. F. T. Glaser, Miss Eleanor Looney, Mrs. H. D. Mars, Mrs. Lyman Patton, Mrs. Fred Looney, Mrs. W. H. Sherman, Mrs. Karl Steiner, Mrs. Robert Terhune, Mrs. Herbert Looney, Mrs. V. D. Looney and the hostesses, Mrs. James Pate and Mrs. A. B. Hinz.

vicinity of Fairfield after Todd had telephoned the police that he had seen his boat on the river with two men aboard. Elmer Becker, another of the escapes, had been taken Monday at a farm house near Gervais. None of the three offered resistance when captured.

The first report that two shoeless men were seen near Hubbard came early yesterday from a woman at the park 200. Other reports of the same kind came during the day and each time officers arrived in the vicinity from whence came the reports they found they were a few minutes behind the pair. Indicating they were hiding in the brush. For that reason the search is still centering in that district.

At the state hospital a careful check of the shoe and slipper supply has been made, and all footwear accounted for. None of the three captured men had shoes when taken by the officers. Hence the barefooted men seen near Hubbard must be two more of the escapes, according to the reasoning of the police.

One confusing element in the search is the word of a Salem truck driver who told the police yesterday he was reasonably sure he had picked up Bowen on the Pacific highway north of Salem and taken him to Portland where he left the truck at Front and Alder streets. The driver said he did not know of the escapes until Wednesday night, which accounted for his delayed report.

Horse Kicks Youth

Hopmore--Chester Ashbaugh, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Cal Ashbaugh was kicked by a pony Thursday and taken to a doctor. Several stitches were taken in his face. He was alone in the pasture, climbed on the pony's back without halter or bridle, fell under the pony's feet.

MAKES MOTOR TRIP

Hopmore--Mr. and Mrs. Britt Aspinwall with Evelyn and Clarence, and Mrs. Aspinwall's sister, Miss Ina LaFollette of Sumner, have gone on a motor trip to southern Oregon and northern California to visit friends and relatives. They also expect to visit in Waldport before returning. Aspinwall have just completed their peach harvest of about 3000 boxes.

Brooks--Mrs. Ella Carpenter of Snohomish, Wash., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Sidebottom and family.

Another Degree Is Conferred On Smith

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 13 (AP)--An honorary degree of bachelor of laws from the University of the State of New York today was among the coveted possessions of former Governor Alfred E. Smith. In accepting the award, bestowed because he was a "devoted friend of our public schools and the benefactor of untold generations of children," the 1928 democratic presidential candidate warned against "false economy" in public education.

COAST RAILWAY NOT APPROVED

Washington, Oct. 13 (AP)--The Interstate commerce commission was urged today by M. S. Jamieson, ex-ambassador, to deny an application of the California & Oregon Coast Railroad company for permission to build 82 miles of railroad from Waters Creek, Ore., to Crescent City, Calif.

Jamieson said the road would run parallel most of its length to a fine public highway. He said estimates of the population and number of square miles the line would serve are excessive.

The railroad would be an extension of a line started in 1913. The original plan was to build a road from Grants Pass, Ore., to Crescent City. Fifteen miles of the line have been constructed.

Grants Pass built the first 10 miles of the line through an area of 200,000 in lands. In 1915 the property was deeded to the company under a contract requiring the company to construct certain new lines within specified periods of time. Under the contract an additional five miles was built and a considerable sum expended to rehabilitate the first segment.

But the company was unable to finance the remainder and last summer applied for a reconstruction loan of $5,718,565 and later sought a public works loan of a similar amount.

The road connects with the Southern Pacific at Grants Pass.

NO STRIKES IN LOGGING CAMPS

Seattle, Oct. 13 (AP)--The entire logging industry of the Douglas fir region of western Oregon and Washington operated in September without strikes, lockouts or other serious disorders, J. B. Fitzgerald, secretary of the joint committee on labor of the northwest area, reported today to the lumber code authority in Washington, D. C.

In only 22 instances was it necessary to notify employers of a code violation and of these, 15 have been adjusted, Fitzgerald said in pointing out that the office of the labor committee had received and answered 1,600 communications.

"Of the seven remaining, only one at Oct. 10 was likely to be carried to the point of legal proceedings against the employer," the report added.

The West Coast Lumbermen's association, administrative agent in the Douglas fir region for the lumber code authority, announced appointment of seven field auditors to aid lumber manufacturers to comply with provisions of the lumber code.

are being persecuted because of race, religious belief or political affiliations.

Adoption of the committee report followed an urgent appeal by President William Green for a "ringing protest against the German government that will carry cheer to our people over there."

Matthew Woll, a federation vice-president, also warned the convention that organizations were being set up "in our own country to persecute the Jews."

The convention heard Edward A. Hayes, new commander of the American Legion, exchange with Green a pledge that the two organizations would work together for the objectives they both seek.

Among these were listed a "human" hospitalization policy, continued restriction of immigration, opposition to communistic tendencies, and demands for a "sound and stable currency."

Green added that the federation would continue its "opposition to the recovery of Soviet Russia and the dispersal of the third international and ceases its efforts to stir up revolution in the United States."

A resolution was adopted instructing the executive council to seek congressional enactment of a federal license law to be enforced when temporary recover act ceases operation.

From Senator Harrison (D. Miss.) chairman of the senate finance committee, the convention received a telegram holding that "the spirit of the recovery movement demands the repeal of that portion of the economy act which reduced salaries of government employes and in coming session of congress I will favor restoration of this reduction to these employes immediately."

The report continued: "These are problems involving the governments of Italy, with its fascism, and Russia, with its communism, and China, with its chaos, all presenting a condition under which free trade union organization is impossible. There are other countries, too, which present problems of the same sort."

The convention emphasized, however, that it had no intention of being unfair to nationals of the countries mentioned who are in the United States.
