

BUTTER PRICES REMAIN STEADY ALONG COAST

Portland, Oct. 16 (UP)—Market for butter is just about steady locally. Last week there was a very liberal decrease in receipts from outstate points and centralized output was also smaller. There was no change in open prices for the day.

Since announcement was made that egg prices here would advance one cent, there has been considerable improvement in the buying and the volume of business has been substantially increased all around.

First carload of walnuts of the season has been reported in from California. Sales of Emerald budded to retailers are around 16c with No. 1 at 17 cents pound.

Local are expected within a week. Another spell of weakness has struck the potato trade here as a result of the conflict between fighting brokers of Portland. Yakima stock is being sacrificed and this has resulted in lowering the entire potato trade here.

Empress grapes are arriving from the south. The grape market up another nickel.

Concord grape movement is gaining with price unchanged. Fair movement of peaches out of storage at steady prices.

Sweet potatoes are generally lower. Bean market is weak for dry offerings, some lower.

Bananas are up 1/2c pound with a scarcity after the recent oversupply. Huckleberries are down about 1c pound.

WHEAT SLASH CONTRACTS DUE

Washington, Oct. 16 (AP)—The half million or more wheat-acreage reduction contract, expected here within the next few days, will be viewed by a national review unit, to be known as the county acceptance unit, Chester C. Davis, director of production of the AAA, said.

Chief duties of the group will be to check total acreage and production reported by each county and compare the totals with the federal crop estimates for the county. Before contracts for any county are reviewed, Davis said, the wheat section of the AAA will check and approve a budget for the county which will control production association.

The unit will be composed of 12 men, four to be members of the national wheat advisory council. They are: A. R. Shumway, Milton, Ore.; Walter Maddock, Bismarck, N. D.; Carl Ward, Salina, Kan.; William Settle, Indianapolis, Ind. Four will be state extension workers as follows: R. M. Miller, economist, Pullman, Wash.; C. F. Moore, director, Fargo, N. D.; Paul H. Stewart, agronomist, Lincoln, Neb.; C. E. Currier, crop specialist, Columbia, Mo.

The remaining four members are crop statisticians: Samuel J. Gilbert, Madison, Wis.; Julius H. Peters, Des Moines, Ia.; Paul C. Newman, Portland, Ore.; Harold E. Schwartz, Brookings, S. D.

MINT HARVEST TO BE 30,000 POUNDS

With the mint harvest just finished up in Washington and Oregon it is estimated there will only be one-third production for the states this year, or about 30,000 pounds of oil. In Michigan and Indiana, on the other hand, reports indicate that the crops there ran about 25 per cent over last year.

Oregon and Washington are said to have about a 25,000 pound carry-over to add to the 30,000 pound crop for this year.

It is stated growers out here are holding pretty well, although some is being sold to shippers. The market is said to be around $1.85 to $2 with eastern people reported to be selling readily but the market is really not established here owing to the scattered selling.

The acreage is down some from last year and new plantings are said to be in light, but the big cause for loss of production this year was the freezing weather of last winter.

CROP YIELD BETTER

Toronto, Ont. (AP)—A heavy grain crop yield is not expected to be heavy in normal years, the quality is better than first anticipated. In many counties threshing is well under way, while in others it is nearing completion. In most cases the yields vary from as little as 15 bushels an acre to 50 bushels, in the same districts. All, however, are below normal in volume.

FOREIGN CRISIS BRINGS ROUT IN STOCK PRICES

New York, Oct. 16 (UP)—Liquidation caused by the tense European political situation brought a rout to stock market prices today with trading picking up on the heaviness.

From a dull and lower start, the market suddenly felt effects of some trading from foreign accounts which desired to transform share holdings into cash.

At mid-session tickets were behind the market two minutes. Then this move died down some, but towards the close another heavy wave of liquidation hit the market.

There was a slight firming tendency near the close but leaders still were far below Saturday's close with U. S. Steel under 40 for the first time in several months.

Crains broke with stocks wheat selling off the limit. Cotton dropped about $2 a bale to the lowest price since August 16.

So far as domestic conditions were concerned, business reports were better today. American Telephone and E. I. DuPont de Nemours both reported increased earnings for the last quarter.

Stock sales today approximated 2,670,000 shares, as against 1,270,000 shares on Friday. It was the largest trading day since September 22.

Curt sales totaled 250,000 shares as against 400 shares on Friday.

Chicago, Oct. 16 (UP)—Jolted by downturns of securities, wheat prices underwent a sudden big tumble in the late dealings today.

Selling of wheat enlarged rapidly toward the last. Export sources were credited with being heavy sellers.

An unexpected increase of the United States wheat visible supply total added to downward pressure on the market and prices rapped the extreme limit allowed in a single day.

Wheat closed semi-demoralized, 4 1/2-5 1/2 cents under Saturday's finish, corn 3-1 1/2 down, oats 2 1/2 off, and provisions at 5 cents to 37 cents setback.

Grain prices advanced today after downturns at the start. Liverpool dispatches said European political conditions were considered bullish.

Continuation of— Paulus Canned Pack To Be 500,000 Cases Double Last Years

Racing along with four six hour shifts for the past two months or so, Paulus Brothers cannery with between 1300 and 1400 people on its payroll, has been eclipsing all of its past records this year.

Finished up for the season it is expected nearly half a million cases will have been packed in its plant as compared to 274,000, the best previous record for the plant.

Its weekly payroll for over two months has been running between $13,000 and $14,000 for labor alone and its local manager George Paulus estimates the cannery will have disbursed around $500,000 in the community for fruit, vegetables and wages by the time the season is over.

While the cannery still has a two or three weeks' run of pears in which it will maintain its present and the terms under which it can be secured.

This morning he received a reply from Harry Hopkins, federal relief administrator, and while the content of the letter was not given out, it was intimated that Hopkins recommended to the governor that a special session of the legislature be called to provide state money with which to match federal funds.

Hopkins, it was learned, informed Governor Meier that in the event any relief of the legislature is called the federal government will advance funds to meet relief needs up to January 1, by which time a state program should be enacted into law to raise money with which to match federal appropriations in the ratio of two dollars for one.

Federal advances up to January 1 are, however, made contingent upon action by the governor to call the legislature at an early date.

In the sources predicting November 20 as the probable date it was pointed out that November 27 is not a logical date, inasmuch as Thanksgiving falls in the middle of that week and the legislature would no more than reach here than they would want to turn around and go home for the holiday.

Objection was also voiced to December 3 as the opening date, as the session is expected to last the full 20 days permitted by law and that would bring the date of adjournment up to within two days of Christmas.

When the date is definitely fixed and the call issued the governor, it is indicated, will also issue a statement summarizing the situation making the call unavoidable and outlining possible means of meeting the unemployment relief problem and other matters to be considered by the lawmakers.

Relief of impoverished school districts, liquor control and revisions of the truck law are also to be discussed in the statement, it was indicated.

SUES PHYSICIAN AT MILLS CITY FOR $75,000

Trial of a $75,000 damage action for alleged breach of contract on part of a Mill City physician started in circuit court before Judge McMahon and a jury today. Lucy Dawes, by Joe Dawes, her guardian ad litem, is suing William W. Allen, Mill City physician.

She charges that she had a contract with Allen to care for her during childbirth and the time preceding and after. She declares he did not carry out his contract, that no one properly skilled was present at the time of her child's birth, and he failed to provide necessary care afterward and as a result she alleges she suffered so she was later confined to the state insane hospital. She asks $25,000 for gross reckless indifference she charges on the part of the physician, and $50,000 for breach of contract.

The physician denies the charges. He admits she called on him before birth of the child, but that she owed him a large bill and he refused to enter into a contract with her. He stated he was employed by the Hammond Lumber company, so told her, and that he might be otherwise engaged at the time of the birth of her child. He stated through his agent he did authorize services of another competent physician, but he says she refused to accept any other medical attention. He states five minutes after the birth of the child she was in a coma and he was called in at that time. He charges that if she suffered mental derangement it was due to a previous condition and not the result of his negligence.

Of today's meeting Congressman Martin said "The Colonel and Major Williams are familiar with Bonneville from an engineering angle. Senator McNary and myself are familiar with it from a political standpoint."

"We want to get together and coordinate our views. After all, there's much in common."

Colonel T. M. Roberts, said bids will be advertised this week for excavating to cost about $1,000,000 at the Bonneville damsite.

Test pits and drill holes at the site not only substantiate early surveys are even more favorable for the foundation structure than expected, Colonel Robbins said.

As soon as the first excavation work is carried out erection of the foundations will begin. The division engineer said construction of the ship locks on the Oregon side of the dam will get under way soon.

"We can build locks by the yard, you might say," Colonel Robbins explained, "and inasmuch as this will be done by hand, it can go ahead at any time we are ready to undertake it."

Lewisburg, Pa. (UP)—A total of 216,000 eggs are needed for the breakfasts of the inmates of the Northeastern Federal penitentiary for a year. A contract for the supply is again handling it this year for Paulus Brothers. A large quantity of dried prunes will be handled.

George Paulus states that every bit of canned fruit that has been or will be packed is packed on order and all has been sold. The cannery has a force working at top speed as well shipping fruit which is going out all the time but warehouses are still full of it for delivery as fast as it can be made.
