BUTTER MART STEADY ALONG PACIFIC COAST

Portland, Nov. 21 (AP)—Trading in butter is steady with government buying of fresh surplus creating a firm tone in spots. As a result of the government purchases lower scores were boosted ½c on the exchange.

There is a weaker tone all through the egg market. Despite efforts to maintain the nominal quotations now listed for fresh stock, most local sales are reported lower and in line with easier conditions elsewhere.

Only a very draggy tone is showing for potatoes here despite much talk of strength imparted by the artificial advances at country points. Buyers are purchasing only their most immediate needs and these are being taken care of by former prices.

Still another carload of cranberries is due from the eastern bogs within a day or so. Already four carloads have arrived, which gives far bigger outside supply than obtained from local bogs. Prices nominally steady.

Cabbage prices are being advanced with purchases of rather fair volume at $20 ton at country points.

Lettuce market is fairly steady at late prices. Cauliflower market is fairly steady at late prices. Cauliflower and celery sales continue firm in carlots. Hothouse tomatoes firmer and appear a trifle higher.

Cheese market continues to show slight easiness. Apple trading still very slow with prices a trifle weak.

WHEAT PRICE RALLIES TODAY

Chicago, Nov. 21 (AP)—Late rallies in wheat prices today lifted the market to materially above yesterday's finish, but the gains failed to hold.

Enlargement of speculative buying accompanied the advance, and was attributed to reports in some quarters that notwithstanding denials the wheat crop damage developments in Argentina were severe. British and Canadian advices tended to confirm Argentine damage.

Wheat closed nervous at ⅛ decline to ¼ advance compared with yesterday's finish, corn 3-8 to 1 cent down, oats unchanged and provisions unchanged to 32 cents lower.

Influenced by unconfirmed reports of Argentine wheat crop damage from yellow stripe rust, grain prices averaged a fraction higher early. Uncertainties of the monetary situation were apparently a check on buyers, with higher gold quotations at Washington and new rise in sterling having put little immediate stimulating effect. Opening at ¼ off to 5-8 up, wheat later showed advances all around. Corn started unchanged to ½c higher, and subsequently held near the initial limits.

ASK RECEIVER FOR LINN SECURITIES

Portland, Nov. 21 (UP)—C. C. Bryant, receiver for the First National Bank of Albany, today filed suit in federal court asking that a receiver be appointed for the Linn Securities company of Albany.

He alleged that the company owes the bank $15,500, owes other creditors $124,000, and that its assets are worth only $6000.

The suit will be argued Friday.

the power of any future legislature to discontinue the payments provided in the act in question. Assumption of indebtedness, in the ordinary acceptation of the word, means for one person to bind himself to pay the debt incurred by another. . . The legislature no doubt felt that it was just and equitable to grant some relief to a highway improvement district unduly burdened by taxes on account of having constructed a highway which it was the primary duty and obligation of the state to construct.

Justice Campbell in his dissenting opinion says: "That Chapter 298 Oregon laws 933 violates sec. 8, Art. 11 of the Oregon Constitution and also violates Sub-section 7 of Sec. 23 Art. 4 of the Constitution, which provides against special and local laws for laying, opening or working on highways." The writer is firmly of the opinion that the provisions of the constitution above referred to, were especially intended to prohibit the kind of legislation enacted by Chap. 298 Laws 1933. I do not wish to be understood as saying that the state could not take over certain roads and incorporate them into the state highway system and in doing so make allowance to the district that built the roads, but they may only be done by a general law made applicable to all districts where the facts are the same." Chief Justice Rand concurs in this opinion.

Justice Rossman concludes his dissenting opinion with this statement: "But, regardless of whether it is an assumption of the district's debt by the State, I feel clearly satisfied that the act contemplates the bestowal of a favor upon one district in violation of the above Constitutional provision. This precedent will enable all debt-burdened municipalities to apply for individual favors. I therefore dissent."

There remains unpaid on this bond issue the sum of $120,000.

Among other decisions was the case of Frank Monner, administrator, appellant vs. J. A. Starker. Appeal from Marion county. Judge L. G. Lewelling affirmed. Action for damages for personal injuries resulting from automobile accident. Opinion by Justice Bean.

Mehama—Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Peterson and children of Corvallis were visitors Sunday at the home of Clinton Phillips.

Pugh Is Director

Jefferson—A special school meeting of the Millersburg district was held recently at the Millersburg school house for the purpose of electing a director to fill the vacancy caused when Albert Johnson moved to Junction City. Floyd Fisher and Earl Murdock were in charge of the meeting with Mrs. L. W. Drager serving as clerk. J. M. Bennett, Linn county school superintendent, was present and gave a short address. J. W. Pugh was elected director.

TURKEY POOL OPENS ALBANY NOVEMBER 22

Roseburg, Ore., Nov. 21 (AP)—The final November turkey pool by the Oregon Turkey Growers will start tomorrow at Albany, McKinley Huntington, president and manager of the association, reported today. Loading dates are as follows: Albany and Lebanon, Nov. 22; Eugene, Nov. 23; Roseburg and Oakland, Nov. 24.

November shipments have been very light, only three carloads of birds having been received by the association up to the present time. The turkeys have been late in maturity and growers have been killing only prime stock. Mr. Huntington reports that quality has been higher than usual, and that the birds are running to larger sizes than in ordinary seasons, due to the long range season. Contrary to published reports, he declares, the market is rapidly absorbing large sized birds and no difficulty has been experienced by the association in sales.

Only light receipts are expected for this week's pool, but it is expected that a normal shipment will be made in the first December loadings scheduled as follows: Roseburg, and Myrtle Creek, Dec. 5; Oakland, Dec. 6; Eugene and Cottage Grove, Dec. 7; Albany and Lebanon, Dec. 8; McMinnville, Dec. 9; Portland, Dec. 8.

A second December pool is scheduled from the 13th to the 16th, with Portland loadings set for the 19th.

DART GAMES WILL PAY $100 LICENSE

A license fee of $100 a year would be assessed against operators of dart amusement games operating in the city by an ordinance bill introduced at the city council meeting last night by Alderman O. A. Olson.

By special dispensation of the council Mrs. Christine Buttrick will be allowed to operate a popcorn wagon near the street curb and near the State theater on Church street. Mrs. Buttrick had some difficulty in reaching an agreement with the theater management, but both she and Don Young, representing the theater, told the council this had been adjusted. The theater management retains the privilege of making effective a protest on 30 days notice if it develops that the wagon is detrimental to the theater. An ordinance affecting the case was introduced, given three readings under suspension of rules and passed.

Mayor Douglas McKay introduced an ordinance bill for repeal of the ordinance prohibiting the parking of trucks in the fire zone. The ordinance has never been enforced and is held unsatisfactory.

The council passed the ordinance for a $60,000 bond issue to refund city hall bonds dating back to 1894, provision for payment of which has never been made.

TURNER TELEPHONE DIRECTORS GATHER

Turner—The board of directors of the Turner Telephone company met recently, holding the first meeting since January of this year. An accumulation of bills, most of which were credited on the dues of the subscribers for labor and supplies, were taken care of. Only a minimum amount of repair to the lines will be attempted owing to the limited amount of finances available at the present time. While during the past year a number of patrons have discontinued use of their phones some are now arranging to be connected on the lines again. The company, which is a mutual corporation, serves about 70 subscribers at the present time. Board members at the ecting were Frank Schampier, president; Fred Denham, C. A. Bear, directors, and E. S. Prather, secretary. Fred Miller, the other director, was unable to be present.

Glenn Niles Named In Charge Of Works Under Federal Funds

Glenn C. Niles, auditor for the county relief committee, has been named civic works administrator for Marion county under the new set-up to handle the funds for civic works administration in this county and will be financial agent and disbursing officer for all those funds under action taken by the county relief committee.

That committee will meet tonight for the purpose of giving a last-over to the projects proposed to be launched in Marion county whether by county, cities or school district and it is expected tonight the final applications will be ready for the approval of the committee. The committee tomorrow will take the applications to Portland where they will be presented to the civic works administrator for the state for his approval. All that is needed is his approval. While a copy of the applications will go back to Washington, this is only in the nature of a formality for the record there as approval of these projects is not needed at Washington, members of the relief committee state.

Four copies of the applications are required, one for the relief committee here, one for the state civic works administration, one for Washington and one to the veterans bureau at Portland. While the state civic works administration has charge of alloting the projects, the veterans bureau will have charge of distribution of all funds and handle all of the finances. It is expected that this bureau will work in co-operation with Niles here and that it will countersign all checks issued by Niles for any expenses on any of the projects.

The committee tonight will put its final O. K. on applications of the county for 12 or more projects, for the city for such projects possibly as repairing the city jail, grading on Summer street, and cleaning out of a number of ditches as well as Mill creek and possibly tackle the unsanitary conditions surrounding one of the river sloughs. The proposal for a new water main for Silverton will also be passed on as well as proposals for work to be done on playgrounds at Leslie and Parrish schools including new tennis courts, swimming pools, horseshoe courts and other athletic developments. Work for Parrish school will be done largely on Olinger field, according to plans.

The county program is clearing projects on the North Santiam highway above Mehama and other pieces of road work spread about over the entire county. Two other road projects besides the North Santiam are mainly widening and ditching. The North Santiam will be for clearing the proposed right of way along the Santiam river from Mehama up to Mill City, as it is proposed to route the new highway down this side of the river.

Continuation of—
Water Proposal

Elliott that acceptance of the city's proposal is impossible, and that to attempt such a deal would be to invite injunction proceedings by bond holders of he company on the ground that the security behind their bonds was being impaired.

The city's offer stated a purchase price of $950,000, of which $903,000 was to be paid through an exchange of city water bonds for bonds of the company, and the remaining $47,000 in cash.

In rejecting the offer the company explains that the outstanding bonds of the company are a blanket issue against all of the properties of the company in Oregon and Washington, and that of the total value of the properties approximately $1,300,000 is represented in the Salem plant.

On this basis the only manner in which the company could accept a price of $950,000 and preserve the security behind its bonds would be to receive the purchase price in cash, enabling it to go on the market and buy at current quotations bonds of the company in the approximate amount of the value of the plant and retire them.

The company's alternate proposal of negotiations through a bond house now take the limelight as a result of the rejection of the city's offer. This plan contemplates that the company shall give an option to a selected bond firm for purchase of the properties at an agreed price. The bond company would then undertake to market whatever amount of city bonds would be required to net $950,000 to the company, underwrite and consumate the transaction and turn the title to the properties over to the city.

This would enable the city to comply with the terms of the PWA loan of $1,500,000 for the construction of a mountain water supply system.

"The only out that appears feasible at present," said Mayor Douglas McKay today when informed of the rejection of the city's offer by the water company, "is for the city to push its application to the public works administration for an additional $950,000 loan for outright purchase of the plant.

"It has been suggested by some members of the council that the city should send a representative to Washington to see to the city's interest in the matter. I believe that we have the very best man available in Washington right now, meaning Senator McNary, and that he will give the necessary time and can be depended on to see that the city's interests are taken care of.

"As for the water company's alternative proposal to the city that it be paid enough city bonds, at the present market prices of about 87 to equal $950,000, I believe the people of the city would voice such a protest that the deal could not be put over. This would be an actual payment of about $1,100,000 face value of bonds.

"Of course there is the alternative of condemnation. But that has been repeatedly objected to, and justly, I think, because of the time it would take to get a condemnation case through the courts.

"I am not surprised at the water company's rejection of the city's offer."

RETURN FROM WASHINGTON

Turner—Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Talbot have returned from a two-weeks' motor trip to Seattle and Spokane, Wash., where they were guests of their children, Mr. and Mrs. LaRue Stevenson and son Ronald and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Waggonner, also visiting with Mr. Talbott's sister and family. The return trip was delayed by the sudden illness of Mr. Talbott, who was unable to return home at the time planned.

Slot Machine Theft Brings Indictment

Two true bills, one of them a secret indictment, were returned by the Marion county grand jury in Judge McMahan's court this morning. The true bill made public is an indictment against Jack Campbell, proprietor of the Checkerboard Service station near Gervais and charges him with the larceny of a nickel-in-the-slot machine from Ross B. Clark and Charles Pabst, owners of the Silver Eagle Tavern. Harry Craig recently pleaded guilty to a similar indictment and it is charged Campbell was in an automobile with Craig.

Four not true bills were handed down as follows:

Juan Anchita, Pilo Trolo and George Naimabo were relieved of a charge of burglary not in a dwelling and of taking a suitcase, men's clothes and $32 in money from Joel P. Tadina.

E. O. Martin was relieved of an assault and battery charge lodged by Carl W. Benson.

Another not true bill favored Nick Sabe who was investigated by the grand jury on a charge of trespassing on premises of Pauline M. McGuirl a mile north of Hubbard.

Another not true bill was in favor of George Duffield and George Hyslop investigated in regard to alleged taking of 600 grain sacks, property of H. Steinboch.

PHILHARMONIC TO PLAY AT CAPITAL

A much finer setting will be available for the first concert of the Philharmonic orchestra season scheduled for Thursday night, December 7, according to announcement today of the management. The Capitol theater has been secured for the opening performance. In past seasons the orchestra has been compelled to use the armory which is not adapted for symphony programs either from a music standpoint or for the comfort of the listeners.

Jacques Gershkovitch, who directed the orchestra during last season will handle the baton again this year. Rehearsals for the opening performances have been under way for some time.

Mildred Roberts, violinist who recently returned from abroad after four years of study, will play the Beethoven concerto with the orchestra. The concerto has many brilliant and difficult passages, making it possible for soloist and orchestra to display their skill.

Silverton—Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Larson all day Sunday were their son, Clifford Larson, Mrs. Larson and their son, Dickie, of Oregon City.

HERE'S THE IDEAL BARTENDER

This robot barkeeper, who will shake a cocktail but never take a drink, was exhibited at the National Hotel Exposition in New York. Ruth Young tried a sample of its efficiency and commented on the time it will save the busy hostess. (Associated Press Photo)

STOCK MARKET IRREGULAR IN DULL TRADING

New York, Nov. 21 (UP)—Conflicting factors were at work in the stock market today to bring a highly irregular tone to prices and dull trading.

Better business reports, good dividend action and a falling dollar augured for higher prices. Possibility of a heavy storage tax on whiskey in Pennsylvania, a lower market for United States government bond market and profit-taking worked for lower prices.

Meanwhile there were strong spots in other sections of the list. The rails firmed up in morning trading to cheer the chartists who have advised no wide uplift can get underway until the rails join in the movement. Canning issues soared on improved business. American Can hitting 100 for the first time since 1931 and near the close held a point gain just under 100.

The remainder of the list was mixed. U. S. Steel held closely around its previous closing level of 45 and near the close showed a fractional decline. American Telephone eased slightly.

J. C. Penney ran up to a new high of 53¾ and at that point was advanced 2⅛ points. Plus signs predominated in the rail group with N. Y. Central up fractionally at 37⅜, Pennsylvania ⅝, higher at 28¼ and B. and O. showing the same gain at 25⅛.

Oils were mixed with Standard of New Jersey fractionally higher at 47.

Sales on the stock exchange were 1,800,000 shares as against 1,890,000 shares yesterday. Curb sales were 247,000 shares as against 239,000 shares yesterday.

Dow, Jones preliminary averages showed industrial, 100.32 off .96; railroad, 39.95 up .50; utility 23.40 off .22.

days, the place would be filled by appointment of the governor, subject to confirmation by the house in which the vacancy occurred.

Senator Dunn opposed the substitute bill on the ground of existing conditions in Jackson county and that it would cause too much delay as the situation needed immediate correction. Senator Woodward joined in the protest, declaring that the Washington county court did not want to function.

A fine political hand was seen in the bill by Senator Burke who charged it had politics "all up and down the line." Senator Zimmerman declared the Washington county court had no objection to making the appointment. There is undue alarm according to Senator Bynon, who said the chief executive already has appointive powers to fill vacancies in the U. S. senate, supreme court and that there was no reason to believe he could not be charged with filling those in the legislature.

The senate unanimously passed S.B. 160 dealing with the degrading of milk and giving the farmer the right to appeal from the decision of an inspector.

Looking towards further economies, SJR 3 was introduced, authorizing the joint ways and means committee to review the budget and to hold in abeyance any action on liquor licensing until the committee reports.

Elimination of the $7.50 annual license for trolling from the fishing code is asked in SB 13 by Franciscovich.

Public hearings are getting an early start in this session, and it was announced only two hearings would be held on truck and bus legislation, one this afternoon following adjournment and another tomorrow afternoon after adjournment. Both senate and house committees on roads and highways would sit in on these hearings.

Another hearing on unemployment will be held soon, while it was reported about 800 unemployed from Portland would be here in mass Thursday to demand relief.

Repeal of the so-called "gin" marriage law passed by the 1933 session, and a measure to create a Willamette valley sewage district for the entire valley, were introduced in the house today.

The former measure was brought in by the committee on health and public morals while Representative John Lewis introduced the sewage purification district proposal.

Joint resolutions introduced provide for appeals to federal officials to approve appropriations for predatory animal eradication and to urge larger locks be installed at Bonneville than those now proposed.

Lava Bear Captive Attracts Attention

Lakeview, Ore., Nov. 21 (AP)—A specimen of the lava bear, rare little creatures that inhabit the high plateaus and deserts, was on display in the Fort Rock district today. It was full-grown, for all of its 50 pounds, and very much alive.

The little bear was trapped by L. E. Oster, a rancher. Although lava bears generally are believed to be brown, this one is coal black.

About 10 years ago a lava bear was shot in this district, and another of the species had not been taken until Oster made his catch.

INDEPENDENCE FOLK VICTIMS

Independence—Several Independence folks are reported ill or injured during the past week. Homer Mills, forerly of this city, is now in the tuberculosis hospital in Salem and his condition is considered critical. Mills has been employed on highway construction work on the coast during the past few years, part of the time with R. L. Houck construction crew.

The little five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prehm, living south of town, fractured her right leg when she fell from her tricycle while at play.

Mrs. E. M. Wunder fell into a lily pool near her residence the first of the week causing some injury to herself, besides getting a cold dip on a cold foggy day. She had been working about the pool placing some rocks and flowers when a stone upon which she stepped to balance herself gave way and she plunged in. No serious damage was done to pool or goldfish, although the the greenery was somewhat disarranged.

Alva Dickinson, son of George Dickinson of Highland, was operated on for appendicitis at the Salem General hospital last week and is getting along very well from last reports. He is at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dickinson. Alva has been attending high school this winter in Independence.

Mr. and Mrs. John Walker of the Greenwood district received word this week that their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harry Walker, in Unity, Saskatchewan, Canada, had an operation for appendicitis last week. Mrs. Walker visited here two years ago and made many friends, who will be glad to hear of her speedy recovery.

Miss Hetty Jane Ottinger is recovering nicely from injuries received recently when a horse she was riding fell. Hetty Jane lives in the Oak Point district.

Harold Tilberg, who was injured on the Rogers dairy truck last Sunday is improving slowly and it will be some time before he will be able to be out of the house. He received a broken arm and crushed pelvis besides other bruises.

REVIVAL CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED SUNDAY

Independence — The evangelistic meeting scheduled for this week in the Methodist Episcopal church opened Sunday evening with Rev. Bollinger from Oak Grove as the speaker and who brought a thoughtful and impressive message to the large attendance. As a special feature of the evening's service two numbers were given by the trumpeters from Willamette university, Mr. Roeder and Mr. Kempel, they captivated the audience with their rendition of "In the Garden," and were roundly applauded also on their second number, "O, Come All Ye Faithful."

The chorus choir opened with its theme song, "Saved, Saved, Saved," and for a special number Rev. Aschenbrenner sang "The Prodigal Son," assisted by the chorus. There will be special features in addition to the sermons each evening and all are urged to attend. Young people are invited to assist in the chorus.

FREER OFFERINGS OF TURKEYS MADE

Portland, Nov. 21 (AP) — A more free offering of turkeys at country points was indicated by reports to the trade here today, and greater activity is predicted for the next day or two. Wednesday is the deadline for southern shipments.

It was said, however, the demand for the birds is being supplied even with the current light supply.

No change in price was suggested.
