LINCOLN FORMS ITS OWN GROUP OF 125 PERSONS

Lincoln—One hundred and twenty-five persons joined forces to effect a permanent organization for a community club here, adopting a new method of government as a permanent feature. No president was elected and with the exception of a permanent secretary-treasurer no offices will be held by anyone. The committee system of handling each meeting was voted a success after giving it a month's trial, and a new committee was nominated from the floor to have charge of the December meeting. Members of this are Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Durham, Mr. and Mrs. George Boyd, and Miss Lois Vernon and the school children. Both the program and eats will be taken care of by this committee and the chairman will preside during the next meeting when a new committee will be chosen.

Miss Lois Vernon was elected permanent secretary-treasurer for the club. It was decided to hold the December meeting one day earlier than the regular time in order to permit members to attend the North Spring Valley meeting if they wish.

The program for this meeting consisted of a song by all; a vocal trio and encore by three young girls, Verl McKinney, Edrudell Boyd and Daisy Meyers; a humorous dialogue by Misse Ethel and Ida McKinney, Victor Utterback and Kenneth Edward; harp music and singing by Mrs. Hugh Craig; a tenor banjo solo and encore by Miss Irene Windsor accompanied by Mrs. Alvin Madsen at the piano; a comical number by Hugh Craig who first appeared singing "On the Banks of the Habash" as he donned make-up, following with a poem of James Whitcomb Riley, continuation of his song for his first encore and for his second he gave a clever German story assisted by Alvin H. Madsen; the Lincoln old time orchestra, members of which are Claud Smith, C. A. Parks, Leslie Parks and Miss Ruth Shepard, responded to several encores; Mrs. Will R. Edwards read a Thanksgiving poem; and Claud Smith reappeared in a darkie costume and make-up and sang and recited. He was accompanied by Miss Ruth Shepard at the pano.

Refreshments were served to 125 persons. Members of the program and eats committee in charge at this time were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin H. Madsen, Mr. and Mrs. Will R. Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKinney.
