

WU AND SALEM QUINTS START BASKETBALL SEASON

INELIGIBILITY HITS STANFORD FOOTBALL TEAM ON EVE OF BIG GAME

CRACK SQUAD ALUMNI WILL TEST YOUTHS

Coach Hollis Huntington's high school basketball squad, just in the formative stage, appears to be in for some real experience Friday evening when it meets a crew of pot shots in the annual alumni contest. The affair will be a feature of the some-coming celebration at the high school.

Three members of last year's high school team will perform for Coach Huntington tomorrow evening. They are DeJardin, Engel and Wintermute. A fourth, Phil Brownell, has not sufficiently recovered from an attack of the flu to permit of his playing. Combined with this trio of experienced players, Coach Huntington will use a number of boys who have seen action but who have had little high school competition. This group will include Salstrom, Devers, Peters, Roth, Burrell, Witzel, Gwynn, Sederstrom and Dyer.

Just who will start the game for the old grads has not been determined. However, there are many former wearers of the red and black in the city who can be recruited. They include John Bone, Lorne Kitchen, Mosher, Sachler, Morley, Sanford, Thomas, Jim Burrell and a number of others. Virtually all of these players have kept themselves in good condition by competing in various independent leagues.

TURNER BUYS DUCK CONTROL

Portland, Dec. 21 (AP)—Thomas L. Turner, president of the Portland baseball club of the Pacific Coast league, announced here yesterday upon his return from the major league meeting at Chicago, that he had become sole owner of the club through the purchase of the entire interest of 82 1/2 shares held by John D. Shibe of the Philadelphia Athletics. Consumption of the deal, Turner said, means the Portland club will continue in fact and in name a home-owned club. Turner said he now owns all but 100 shares of the club stock. No "entangling alliances" with other major league clubs will be made, he declared.

The appointment of Walter H. McCredie as manager of the team for 1934 reported sometime ago, was confirmed by Turner.

In addition to the players acquired by Portland and announced at the Chicago meetings, Turner said there will be added "at least two outfielders, the name of one of whom will be a major surprise; three good pitchers, and a catcher of ability—we are after another pennant."

Norgard, Veteran Right End, Counted Out, Due to Two Minutes Play

San Francisco, Dec. 21 (AP)—The bugbear of collegiate athletics and coaches—ineligibility—has reached out to snatch away a star player from Stanford to uphold western football honors against Columbia in the annual Rose Bowl game New Year's day.

Al Norgard, veteran right end and mainstay of the team, was ruled out of further competition because he had played only two minutes as a substitute four years ago.

Norgard, was declared ineligible yesterday by Stanford authorities following an investigation that revealed the star pass catcher had played for a brief time as a substitute, Sept. 28, 1929, for St. Ignatius College, now University of San Francisco.

His appearance in the game for St. Ignatius automatically made Norgard ineligible this season under the three year varsity play rule of the Pacific Coast conference.

Briefly the 23-year-old athlete's collegiate career is as follows: Registered at St. Ignatius college in August 1929; substituted in one game; withdrew from St. Ignatius and entered Menlo Junior college where he played during the 1929 and 1930 seasons; entered Stanford and played there in 1931; dropped out in 1932 and returned to Stanford this year.

Actually Norgard was not eligible to play this year. He did, however, and was one of the stars of the season. He caught the pass that beat California November 25 when Stanford clinched a tie for the conference championship and received the invitation to represent the west in the rose bowl game.

Professor William B. Owen, faculty athletic representative who handled the case for Stanford, expressed regrets over the matter. He pointed out the ineligibility of Norgard was not retroactive to the extent it would affect the games already played this year by Stanford. Conference rules do not provide for such cases.

PARKER'S BEAT FROSH, 52-26

Mack Celebrates With Plane Ride

Philadelphia, Dec. 21 (AP)—Always adventurous in baseball, Connie Mack, veteran pilot of the Philadelphia Athletics, plans his first airplane flight as part of his celebration of his 71st birthday.

With high hopes and many plans for the future, Mack winds up his first "extra inning year" next Saturday and his family intends to make it a red letter day.

BEARCATS TO MEET OREGON IN LOCAL GYM

Willamette university will open its basketball season Friday night on the local gym floor when Coach R. S. Keene sends his group of Bearcat cagers against the University of Oregon quint. The Webfoots, after a season or two of sub-normal basketball are reported as coming along in an impressive manner and expect to secure revenge for a number of defeats which were the result of inexperience in recent years. Coach Reinhart, following the lead of most coast schools, has turned to larger men. He will be able to place a team of six footers on the floor against Willamette.

Showing flashes of real basketball, but at time displaying little knowledge of the game, the Bearcats have alternately sent Coach Keene's hopes upward and then down into the basement again. So irregular in fact has been the performance of his regular players that he does not venture a prediction as to the outcome Friday evening. However, he believes his squad will put up a battle which will be well worth witnessing.

Kloostera, playing his third year, will undoubtedly start at center. Burdett, Lemmon, Manning and Oravec will be given an opportunity to show their stuff at forward while Kaiser and Hartley, veteran guards, will probably start in their regular positions. A number of others will be used during the evening's performance.

The main event, which will start around 8 o'clock, will be preceded at 7 by a game between the freshmen and Lebanon high school.

Following Friday evening's game with Oregon, Coach Keene will dismiss his players until the day following Christmas.

Sport Slants

BY ALAN GOULD

The ranking of the nation's leading college football teams for 1933, which can hardly be affected by the outcome of the Rose Bowl game, nevertheless is difficult enough.

Prof. Dickinson of Illinois has a figure system which only the mathematically gifted can dispute. The professor has a very elaborate method, in some respects quite fair enough, but we seem to detect a slight optical enlargement in his view of the nearby Big Ten.

The Big Ten probably is the "toughest league," as Clark Daniel Shaughnessy of Chicago described it, but we doubt if it is tough enough to take three of the first five places or even four of the first ten in a national ranking list. Nor has Michigan the margin over its nearby or distant rivals, on the record, that the professor's final figures would indicate.

many years. Princeton alone of the major teams came through unscathed, and the Tigers had close calls against three outfits they figured to lick easily—Washington & Lee, Navy and Dartmouth. Every other team listed in the first ten either had at least one off-day or ran into opposition it simply could not handle.

FINISHED STRONG

Southern California's record looks the best to us for the reason the Trojans finished more impressively than any other outfit. The Trojans in their last three games against Notre Dame, Georgia and Oregon rolled up 76 points while yielding none.

Princeton, Pittsburgh, Nebraska and Columbia also finished in high gear. So did Stanford. Michigan was not as impressive in November as it was while walloping all opposition in the first half of the season. Ohio State lost only one game. No team stood out in the south as prominently as have some Dixie aggregations of recent years. Duke faltered in the stretch and lost to Georgia Tech. Georgia skidded badly at the finish. Alabama was tied by Mississippi early and lost a two-point decision to Fordham but was undefeated in the south and perhaps the best of the lot. Tulane and Tennessee had good records. So did Biff Jones' Louisiana State team, which was unbeaten but tied by Centenary, Vanderbilt and Tulane.

TEXAS COMPLETES OBSERVATORY PLAN

Austin, Texas (AP)—Construction plans for University of Texas' observatory on Mount Locke, near Fort Davis, call for 450 tons of concrete, 10 tons of reinforcing steel, and 5000 pounds of glass.

The massive piers, requiring the concrete and steel, will be the pivots of the observatory. Offices, chemical kitchen, developing rooms, library and living quarters will be located on the first two floors.

The telescope, second in size only to the 100-inch one on Mount Wilson in California, will be mounted on the third floor. University of Texas chose the reflector type telescope, 26 feet long, its main feature will be the huge mirror, 80 inches in diameter and weighing 5000 lbs. Grinding and polishing the mirror will require nearly two years of work.

Machias, N. Y. (AP)—Isaac Potter claims the consecutive ballot casting record of New York State, at the last election, he cast his 71st consecutive ballot.

GOLF TOURNEY DRAWS CROWD

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 21 (AP)—One of the most impressive fields of professionals and amateurs ever gathered for a Pacific coast golf tournament took aim at par today in the #4000 Pasadena open championship.

Because of the heavy entry list the field of 200 was divided into two sections for the purpose of qualifying for Saturday's second round. The 100 low scorers from the first qualifying round of today and tomorrow were to get together Saturday and battle it out for the 57 places open for Sunday's 36-hole final.

STATE NOSES OUT MULTNOMAH, 25-24

Portland, Dec. 21 (AP)—Oregon State college basketball team defeated Multnomah club by a single point here last night 24-25. The Orangemen were masters of the situation during the first half, leading the Clubbers 19 to 10 at the rest period. Kingman Bailey, Multnomah center, started a parade in the last half that fell short by only one point of tying the score. Bailey was uncanny with a leaping, one-handed flip to the circle. George Hibbard, veteran forward and Skeet O'Connell, captain and running mate led the scoring spree for the visitors in the first half.

MILL CITY QUINTS TAKE TWO CONTESTS

Mill City—The Mill City Comets played their fourth league game of the season with Stayton's town team Tuesday night in the local high school gym. Mill City was the winner with a score of 24 to 15. Line-up:

MILL CITY 24 15 STAYTON
Kelly 2.....F.....6 Thomas
Moravec 6.....F.....4 Ware
Seims 7.....C.....2 Shelton
Wachter 2.....G.....1 Lesley
Baltimore 8.....G.....1 Smith
Subs: Mill City, Mason (1) for Kelly; Stayton, Darby (2) for Lesley, Lidgerwood for Smith. Referee, Klaisner.

The second teams played after the main game, Mill City winning 27-20.

ROOSEVELT FAVORS WILD GAME AREAS

Washington, Dec. 21 (AP)—Senator Walcott (R., Conn.), chairman of the special senate committee on conservation of wild life resources, said today President Roosevelt was ready to authorize $1,000,000 for purchase of areas which could be worked upon immediately by the civilian conservation corps as sanctuaries for migratory birds.

Walcott, after a conference at the White House, told newsmen details would be worked out by the secretary of agriculture.

Harry Hawes, former senator from Missouri, who went to the White House with the committee, said Mr. Roosevelt "heartily approves a policy to have duck hunters by federal one-dollar stamps to be placed on their state license cards."

Members of the committee who talked with Mr. Roosevelt, included Senators McNary (R., Ore.), Pittman (D., Nev.), Norbeck (R., S. D.), Byrd (D., Va.), and Clark (D., Mo.).

LOUIT TO WORK ROSE BOWL CLASH

San Francisco, Dec. 21 (AP)—Herb Dana, Pacific coast football commissioner, today announced the following officials for the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena: Referee, Tom Loutit, Oregon State; umpire, Ed Thorpe, La Salle; head linesman, W. R. Crowley, Bowdoin, and field judge, Tom Fitzpatrick, Utah.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE

- The professor lists Michigan, Nebraska, Minnesota, Pittsburgh, Ohio State, Southern California, Princeton, Oregon, Army, Purdue and Stanford in that order.
- If our slant means anything, here's how we think the first ten stacks up:
1. Southern California (lost one, tied one)
 2. Michigan (tied one)
 3. Princeton (unbeaten and untied)
 4. Pittsburgh (lost one)
 5. Nebraska (lost one)
 6. Minnesota (tied four)
 7. Stanford (lost one, tied one)
 8. Army (lost one)
 9. Columbia (lost one)
 10. Oregon (lost one)
- This or any other order of ranking is difficult to analyze because 1933 furnished the most frequent form reversals we have known in

Durango, Colo. (AP)—Juan A. Medina, jailer here, is getting lonesome. He hasn't had a prisoner in his jail that he can chat with in a week. It's the first and also the longest time since he's been jailer that he hasn't had at least one prisoner, he said.

Insect Collection Notable for Extent

Paris (AP)—The Zoology Gallery of the Jardin des Plantes has been visited by 100,000 butterflies of 7,000 different species, said to be the largest collection in the world. It is known as the Hans Fruhstorfer collection and compares favorably with that of Lord Rothschild, in London. To secure the aggregation, Herr Fruhstorfer visited India, Brazil, Malasia, Africa, China, Japan, Siam, and North and South America.

Willamina, Dallas Play 3 Hoop Games

Willamina—Willamina high school played a return game of basketball with Dallas here Monday night. Three games were scheduled for the evening, the first between the girls' teams of Willamina high with the first team winning 16 to 8; the second boys' teams of Dallas and Willamina, won by Dallas 44-11. The third game was won by the Dallas first team by a score of 46 to 11.
