Springtime Rules In Bethel Homes Through Winter

Bethel—Small summer roses are blooming, also bridal rose and spirea, at the J. R. Carruthers farm. Orphan Annie Of Silverton Returns Again

Silverton—Silverton's "Little Orphan Annie" and her big police dog are reported to be again taking chances of getting a meager living at the hobo camp. The woman will exceed the proverbial trekker in age, as to all appearances she is between 30 and 35 years of age. The dog is a large police hound and fully understands his role of protector to the woman who writes her name on the police records as Sophia Paetsch.

She has been a voluntary guest of the city several times when she reports some disturbance at the camp. The officers urge her to go to a local rooming house for protection but she refuses to be separated from the dog and insists on the sells at the city hall. She has never been arrested for misdemeanors.

At one time she told local authorities that her home was toward the coast near Toledo, Ore., and that she had been on the road for ten years. She seems to prefer Silverton to other camps as she shows up here very often since the knowledge of her being here was brought to light early last summer.

At her own request she was allowed to return to the camp from the city hall Monday where she had been remaining until investigations could be made concerning trouble that she reported to the local police force. Fifteen men hobos are reported wintering at the Silverton camp.
