Chicago, March 21 (AP)—Paper-hangers started plastering a million-dollar worth of headache on the walls of the Union League club today.

Continuation of—Basketball

The follies of 1929 lived again in memory as the workmen peated stocks, bonds, mortgages and a tasty array of insull securities on the club's "million dollar room," dedicated to the insanity of the big boom.

Amid the brushes and paste was paper once thought as good as gold and the only question asked about it was: "Will it wear?"

It would, said a paperhanger. He slaps a large expanse of green insull paper into place after clipping two coupons which wouldn't fit into the pattern.

"If a fellow had all this money . . ." His voice trailed away into mumbled muttering.

Then he slapped paste across the top, where it read: " . . . promises to pay bearer $1,000 and interest at six per cent per annum . . . and then over the bottom."

A companion stepped back and squinted critically.

"How's that for being straight?" the paperhanger asked, his brush ready to swish.

"I guess it's all right." Then he pasted it on, neatly.

"This is a very valuable document," one legend ran. "Keep it in a safe place."

"Safe enough," said the brushman, as he dabbed it in a low corner.

At the windows are curtains of gold cloth, fringed with coins of imitation gold.

One man contributed 17 gold mine shares "worth" $1,000 each. Samuel Insull's autograph is conspicuous.

CHEMEKETANS PLAN ABUQUA FALLS TRIP

An unusual route to the falls of the Abiqua will be taken next Sunday when members of the Chemeketans and others interested in the out-of-door participate in one of the scenic local trips.

The party will leave from the Senior hotel at 9 o'clock Sunday morning and travel by automobile following Silverton and over the Silver falls loop as far as Drake's corner, where the Cedar camp road will be picked up.

The party will take advantage of this opportunity to view and enjoy real art.

Loyal Knights Honored Friday

Mr. and Mrs. L. Reed Chambers entertained the Loyal Knights of the Salem Heights Sunday school class Friday evening.

The party was given by Mrs. Chambers. Present were George Skelton, David Ling, Robert Zinner, Latimer Chambers, Elmer Smith, Raymond Lonsore, Orvan Brown, Jimmie Stewart, Eugene Ressler and Bobbie Woodburn.

Mrs. Hazel Shepard entertained a group of young folk in compliment to her daughter, Dorothy Jean Shepard, whose tenth birthday anniversary it was, at a delightful St. Patrick's party at the Elmore.

The party was given by Mrs. Hazel Shepard. Present were Mrs. George Skelton, Mrs. Helen Jean Wilhelm, Miss Betty Burroughs, Miss Louise Ramage, Miss Patty Plank and Miss Betty Shafer.

War Mothers Meet Tuesday

Thirty-five mothers responded to the invitation for Tuesday, March 20, when a covered dish dinner was enjoyed by Salem chapter, American War Mothers, at the American Lutheran church.

The afternoon was devoted to needlework and a social time. Members are very interested in the Mother's day stamp being issued by the government and are eagerly awaiting further details from Mrs. Oelrich, national president of the organization.

The dinner table was attractive with decorations of Killarney cacti, pipes and shamrocks, all symbolic of St. Patrick's day.

Special guests were Mrs. Sarah Peterson, Mrs. Judith Boock, Mrs. Edmond Mathews and Mrs. Caroline Hixon, who had birthdays during the month. Mr. and Mrs. John Dryland, Mrs. Sadie Hamill of Jefferson, and Mrs. Mary Walling of Portland.

Hostesses were Mrs. Addie Mills, Mrs. Rose Hagendorf, Mrs. Elsie Mudd, Mrs. Jane Evans and Mrs. Bertha Smart.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee O. Smith will motor to Lebanon late Thursday afternoon to be guests at a smart dancing and card party to be given in the Lebanon hotel.

Miss Iona Hansen, popular bride-elect, was the inspiration of a smart shower and evening of bridge Monday when her mother, Mrs. Leon Hansen, invited a group of friends to her home to honor her daughter.

Spring flowers were used as decorations about the rooms and a late supper was served by the hostess. Hidden to honor Miss Hansen were Mrs. Carl Allport, Mrs. Earl Sandifer, Mrs. D. Modley, Mrs. Lewis Lorenz, Mrs. Dan Hammond,

Telescopes And Radio Used In Search For Elusive Sam Insull

Port Said, Egypt, March 21 (AP)—Long range telescopes were trained patiently today in the horizon and radio feelers were sent out intermittently today in Port Said's second afternoon.

Telescopes And Radio Used In Search For Elusive Sam Insull

no longer at Port Said in this vessel in which Insull is seeking a new haven from extradition to the United States failed to put in tonight.

A watch characterized by tense anticipation such as that which might mark wait for some trans-oceanic flyer was started at noon yesterday when it was figured possible the vessel might arrive.

Throughout the night it was continued. Today, many persons—particularly port officials—were heavy-eyed after a sleepless night watching for the freighter on which friends have said Insull would remain indefinitely rather than face the possibility of being returned to Chicago for trial on charges in connection with the fall of his once-vast utilities structure.

There was actually no inkling as to the whereabouts of the Malotta and, as the day wore on, those skeptical that it would come at all began to outnumber those who thought it would.

The American consular staff was watching attentively for the Malotta's arrival, but members of the staff declined to disclose any action which might be taken.

In order to negotiate the Suez canal the Malotta must halt here and be measured, a task requiring hours, and those aboard, including Insull, would have to stand medical inspection.

A trip through the canal takes a ship 12 hours to Suez, after which Insull might hug the African coast seeking an entry to Abyssinia or he might have the captain steer for the Persian Gulf in quest of a haven in Persia.

These are the two favorite surmises here, provided Insull comes to Port Said.

Mrs. Clarence Pike, Mrs. G. Kennen, Mrs. A. Thomas, Mrs. Dow Lovell, Mrs. Tyler Brown, Mrs. Edward Roy, Mrs. Junior Eckley, Mrs. Dorothy Reeves, Mrs. Ray Howard, Mrs. Bob Bloomerstein, Miss Edith Williams and Miss Lucille and Miss Doris Hansen.

Members of the Leslie PTA will entertain next Monday evening at their annual "Jitney Dinner" in the school building at 7:30 o'clock.

The affair will be given for the benefit of the betterment of health and recreation of the school children.

Mrs. V. E. Newcomb is chairman of arrangements.

An interesting program will be given by students of the school and the public is cordially invited to be present.

Due to the art exhibit being shown in the fireplace room of the public library the sketch class of the Salem Arts league will meet Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the studio of Anton Piers, room 5, Steuifels building.

The Westway club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. A. Bernardi, 458 South High street, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

PRISON JOLTS FOR BURGLARS CHANGING PLEAS

John Albin, who was to have come to trial today under a charge of burglary committed in the George E. Waters warehouse, and George Trambitas, whose trial was to have followed Albin's, suddenly changed their pleas from not guilty to guilty this morning.

The respective records of the men, he stated, were the causes of the differences in sentences and the sentences pronounced were in line with recommendations made by District Attorney Trindle.

Albin served a term in Oregon and another term in Walla Walla prison. Trambitas served one term in the Oregon state penitentiary. District Attorney Trindle stated that recommendation was made as to the sentences imposed if pleas of guilty were made to save costs of trials and that under the circumstances he believed such sentences would serve the ends of justice.

Albin was to have come up for trial first, the case of the state against him admittedly being the strongest. Trambitas was largely linked up with the crime by a bit which was found in his room in Portland.

This bit, stated officers, was the one used in making holes in the roof of the Waters warehouse which permitted the men to get into the place and seize about $5000 worth of cigarettes they were attempting to carry away.

The officers stated that rough places on the bit corresponded to marking in the holes in the roof, and also the bit carried tar marks as further corroborative evidence showing it to be the same bit.

in proper development of commercial planes.

"Every other large country is further advanced in aviation than the United States," said the flier, "if we went to war tomorrow we would have to buy our planes in Europe."

The aircraft developed commercially are not proper for their work—commercial lines are not able, nor do they have a desire to equip aircraft properly. They lack proper automatic pilots, safety devices and other equipment which long ago should have been considered necessary.

Mitchell said the government had developed pilots, beacons, weather service and other essentials for private flying lines, but our ships are way behind because development commercially is in the hands of the gang that got the airmal contracts.

"It's a disgrace to the country, this matter of planes," he said. He blamed the air corps record in flying the mail "poor equipment, little flying experience by the pilots and bad weather."

Mitchell followed Chester W. Cotwell, general counsel for the Transcontinental Western Air, who said he opposed subsidies and favored rates based on those under which the railroads carry mail.

Cotwell also advocated that private lines carry first class mail along various routes, and that one federal agency be entrusted with control of all aviation.

Mill City—One of the loveliest of St. Patrick's parties given in Mill City was held Friday evening, March 17 at which time the Junior Woman's club entertained the Silverton Junior Woman's club.

Games were played, with prizes awarded to the winners in each contest. Late in the evening refreshments were served to the members, who were seated at card tables, each table being centered with a bouquet of shamrock and fern, to carry out the St. Patrick motif.

day arrangements will be directed by the following committee: Automobile—Kenneth Wilson, chairman, Dr. O. A. Olson, Joe Hermann, T. A. Windshar and Gardner Knapp; street duty—A. A. Godfrey, chairman, Gus Hixon, Ray Simpson, Walker T. Molloy, Carly Abrams, Walter T. Molloy, Joe Abrams, Dane and E. H. Kennedy; placing of direction signs—R. W. Niles, chairman, James Clark and C. E. Wilson.

There will be no change in the usual route this year. One tour will be across the Marion-Polk county bridge, north on the Wallace road past the Franklin loop and returning by way of the Brush Creek loop. The other route is south into the Pacific highway through the Liberty and Roseade districts, east to the highway and back to Salem. A longer route is available by crossing the highway east to Turner and returning by way of the state tuberculosis hospital. The entire route will be well-marked.

The state hospital grounds and a number of local gardens will also be open for inspection while a general view of the district will probably be obtainable from the dome of the statehouse, elevator service being provided during the past for the convenience of visitors.

WORKERS HELPED

Labor Commissioner C. H. Gram today was given authority by the federal labor department to issue certificates to sub-standard workers.

Sub-standard workers are those physically or mentally unable to do as much work as normal persons. They may be employed at lower wages on permission of the labor department.

All applications must be signed by employers, employees and physicians. They must be filed with Gram not later than May 1.
