SABIN URGES COOPERATION ON PART OF PEOPLE

Whether the country is to forge ahead and make the depression a matter of history or whether it is to become a permanent slump that has yet been encountered depends to a great extent upon the manner in which the citizens of America assume their responsibilities. Lynn P. Sabin, assistant manager of the Portland chamber of commerce declared in an address to members of the Salem chamber of commerce during their luncheon Monday noon. "We cannot spend ourselves rich," Sabin said in predicting that now was the time for all classes of citizens—Republicans, Democrats, Socialists—to cooperate for a continuation of the program set by the federal government. Sabin said the government cannot go on forever spending money in relief and providing employment as it has in recent months.

There are three underlying fundamentals of a strong government, the speaker pointed out—strong nationalism, idealism and industry. "All others are secondary in importance and without the fundamentals the country is bound to go backward. We have arrived at the point where it is time for us to ask ourselves the question: 'As citizens can we meet the crises ahead, take over the responsibility and put our house in order?'"

"This year is the turning point," Sabin continued, "as to whether we will take advantage of what the government has done for us or set back and fall into a worse slump than we have yet encountered."

In closing his address the speaker urged chambers of commerce, industry, agriculture and other similar groups to plan for coordinated action and relieve the government of its unnatural burden.

GRANGE ASKS RESIGNATION FROM HOLMAN

The demand of the Mackay grange in Marion county that Rufus C. Holman, state treasurer, resign his office immediately since he is a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination for 1936, brought out the remark "I don't see any reason why I should resign now," when the matter was brought to the candidate's attention.

Holman did not indicate he would resign if he were nominated or elected, but he would resign his office at all. He made it plain however, that he had no intention of resigning at the present time.

The grange Saturday passed a resolution asking the immediate retirement of Holman as treasurer, and reported that similar resolutions were to be presented to other granges throughout the state. The resolution stated:

"Whereas the grange is not interested in the ambition of Rufus C. Holman but is interested in securing a public servant to protect the interests of the people, it therefore requests Mr. Holman to resign immediately and thereby vacate the place on the state board of control he now holds so that a servant of the people's choice may be nominated and elected."

Members of the grange declared they favored legislative action to provide that any official would be immediately disqualified for further holding of his office if he sought another public job and at the same time retained the office for which he was elected.

State Treasurer Rufus C. Holman said today he had no statement on a resolution by the Mackay grange asking that he resign his post.

The resolution asked Holman to quit immediately, since he was seeking republican nomination for governor, so the people could nominate and elect his successor.

The treasurer said he would issue a statement on the subject later. He indicated he did not intend to resign his present position before leaving for the primary election. If nominated for governor, he would then consider the matter.

Friends of Holman pointed out the resolution was passed by a single subordinate grange chapter, and expressed doubts that it represented the majority sentiment of grange members. The treasurer was expected to receive strong support from the grange.

It was also considered significant by Holman's friends that the Mackay grange is located in Marion county, where Senator Sam Brown, also seeking the republican nomination, supposedly has his strongest following.

INVITE CHERRIANS TO ROSE CARNIVAL

An invitation to the Salem Cherrians and similar organizations to participate in the annual Rose Festival in Portland, June 11-14, was extended in person Monday by Wilbur K. Hood, chairman of the floral parade, who spoke briefly before members of the Salem chamber of commerce during their luncheon. In extending the invitation Hood predicted this year's festival would eclipse any similar event in many years.

The Canadian Legion zone committee and the committee of the American Rose society which will be held in Portland during the Rose Festival, will bring added thousands to the city, Hood said. Several Canadian cities will enter floats in a section reserved for their exclusive competition while the governor general and premier of Canada will be special guests.

There is a possibility that the Prince of Wales may visit Portland during the festival. In that event, Hood said, a representative from the White House would be present.

WIDE SEARCH ORDERED FOR TEXAS KILLER

(By the United Press)

Search for Clyde Barrow, elusive Texas killer; Bonnie Parker, his woman partner and a companion thought to be Henry Methuen, fugitive convict, was widespread today with the trail more than 24 hours old.

Last definite information placed the bandit trio 17 miles northwest of Ottawa, Kan., sometime before dawn Sunday. There they abandoned the automobile in which they fled from Commerce, Okla., Friday after killing Constable Cal Campbell.

The car had been driven off a country road and headed into a haystack. Only one set of tracks led from the machine to the road and officers felt certain the gang had stolen another car in which flight was continued. Barrow's fingerprints were on the abandoned automobile, which among other articles contained a few coppers, a head of lettuce, a bloody necktie, a pair of women's orchid slippers, a flashlight, some bullets and a woman's belt.

A new Pontiac stolen in Topeka, Kan., Saturday night was thought to be the latest vehicle of the killers. Authorities of several states were on the alert for the next report of their whereabouts.

GERMAN ARMS COSTS PROBED

London, April 9 (AP)—Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, told the house of commons today that the British government is giving "very serious" attention to Germany's contemplated increase of expenditures of her army, navy, and air force.

Sir John was cheered by the legislators as he made the announcement.

"I have instructed our ambassador at Berlin to make inquiries of the German government on the subject."

The commons was reconvening after its Easter recess for the session which will end in July.

The foreign secretary refused to be drawn into a discussion of the possibility of strengthening the British air force to a point at which it would be strong as the air force of any other nation.

He said only that he could not stand by the statement made by Stanley Baldwin in the debate March 8 on air appropriation estimates in which the Marquess of Londonderry, secretary for aviation, and others made plain Great Britain's determination to strengthen her air armaments if other powers persisted in building up theirs.

HOME WANTED FOR AMBITIOUS BOY

What to do with a 16-year-old boy who wants to go to school and be willing to work for board and tuition is perplexing Mayor Douglas McKay, who after trying every place that he could think of Sunday is now making a public appeal.

The young fellow has finished the eighth grade but his father and older sister claim that such much education is sufficient. Mayor McKay stated, "The boy did a man's work in the hopyard last year and has accumulated the sum of $50. An older brother is located in Washington and unless he can make connections here within the next day or so he will be forced to leave school and go to work."

Mayor McKay's attention to the law was the result of interest taken in him by Mrs. LaMotte Clark. Both state that the boy is industrious and a good student and they do not want to see his ambition frustrated.

Kansas City, Mo., April 9 (AP)—Ernest R. Bensch, president of North American Aviation, Inc., General Motors subsidiary, today mailed to stockholders of the three airlines affiliated with General Motors a letter urging them to telegraph their senators and representatives to oppose the M'Kellar-Black bill.

PRESENT PLAN TO REORGANIZE HAWLEY MILLS

Portland, April 9 (AP)—A reorganization plan to preserve the Hawley Pulp and Paper company which is being sold to the semi-annual interest due last July 1 on its first mortgage 6 per cent sinking fund bonds, was placed before stockholders today by the reorganization committee.

The deposit of securities is called for to prevent receivership and foreclosure by selling a default in payment of bond interest, maintenance of sinking funds, and sale of capital assets.

A waiver of accumulated dividends on first preferred $7 cumulative no-par stock from January 1, last, to December 31, 1933, is provided for, as is a waiver of all dividend requirements on second preferred $7 cumulative no-par stock prior to January 1, 1934.

The priority of all securities as they now exist will be retained. Annually, the first $279,404.48 will be used for purchase of bonds, this amount was the 1933 depreciation charge. Funds exceeding this amount will be distributed as interest to bondholders until 4 per cent a year has been distributed. Money above this requirement will be used for purchase of bonds and retirement of the note in the ratio of 81 per cent par value of bonds, and 19 per cent par value of note, until a million dollars par value of bonds shall have been retired, when the remaining money shall be used first, for payment of bond interest, second for payment of note interest, and third, for purchase and retirement of bonds and note principal on a pro rata basis.

Under this plan interest due to January 1, 1934 at the rate of 6 per cent will be paid at maturity of bonds, with interest due on January 1, last to December 31, 1933, to be cumulative at 4 per cent, payable contingently out of available funds after retirement of bonds.

On the note, the interest rate will be 7 per cent and 3 per cent on the same terms. On the first preferred $7 cumulative no-par stock, cumulative dividends to January 1, last will be at the rate of $7 a share, but from January 1 to December 31, 1933, no dividends will be paid. After the latter date the $7 rate will be resumed. All dividends accruing to second preferred stock will be paid at maturity prior to January 1, 1934, are waived.

ASK SHORT CUT ROAD CONSTRUCTED

A petition headed by E. G. Neal and signed by 87 other citizens asks the county board to improve the road from the present Coon Hollow market road to a distance of three miles east and north to the Silver Creek Falls road which runs through the Union Hill district.

The petitioners state that this three mile improvement which they say will not be expensive, will give a short cut of 12 miles between Silverton and Mehama via Silver Falls and will make an ideal entrance for the North Santiam highway from that direction. They state that it would also afford a short cut of four to six miles between the Silver Falls country and Sublimity.

The road to be improved, they say, is now impassable because of washouts, fallen trees and overgrown brush, but even at that they say the road is in such condition that it could be made at a small expenditure.

REED LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN BY BITTER ATTACK

Washington, April 9 (AP)—Senator David A. Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, launching his re-election campaign, today sounded what was expected to be a keynote for the republican election campaign with a strong attack on Roosevelt policies as "futile and fantastic," "poisonous," and "dangerous to American civilization."

Special attention was drawn to Senator Reed's attack on the administration by the likelihood that it would furnish a working text for the republican drive to regain in the November elections much of the ground lost in the 1932 landslide. First test comes in the Illinois primaries this week.

Reed, a leading conservative republican spokesman, pictured grave dangers in continuation of the policies launched under Mr. Roosevelt which he said threaten to "carry us over the brink of inflation to complete chaos."

The charges of Dr. William A. Wirt, Gary, Ind., schoolmaster, were echoed in Reed's statement. Wirt charged the "brain trust" with plotting a revolution.

BONNEVILLE TO BE YARDSTICK ON POWER BILLS

Bonneville power will be a part of a nationwide yardstick by which the federal government will compare power rates over the entire country and should not be made an instrument of petty local politics, Congressman Charles H. Martin, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor of Oregon, declares in a statement issued from Washington.

Pointing out that Oregon's overburdened taxpayers are in no position to assist the federal government in financing this great project and that as a public utility project the uses to which the generated power will be put and the rates to be charged will be determined by the federal government, Congressman Martin suggests that Oregon should not attempt to dictate uses and rates until such time as the state has determined to what extent it can finance distribution of the power.

The "Oregon opportunity" afforded by the federal government by federal construction of the Bonneville project should "not be made a useless political football," said Martin in concluding the following statement:

"Everyone with any understanding whatever of President Roosevelt's policy must know the following facts:

"1. That power will be developed in the four quarters of the nation by the federal government to be used as a yardstick to control the power rates of those respective regions.

"2. That the power at Bonneville, as at each of these other federal developments, is owned solely and wholly by the federal government and the federal authorities will have the final say as to how it will be used and what will be its effect on local rates, local industries and local consumers.

"3. That all who understand the workings of the president's plan believe he will recommend to the congress ultimately some authority such as has been established in the Tennessee valley, which will permit the federal power to be taken to every type and class of user who shows any willingness to receive same and at rates which the federal authorities hold fair to everyone.

"4. That the federal authorities may deal with the state authority as in New York, under which circumstance the state would put up the money or obligate itself to pay the cost of the federal power development, and thereafter the state would be charged with the duty of using this power in whatever way it pleased so long as it was in harmony with the general federal plan.

"It has been so obvious to me since we got into the Bonneville fight and contended that our state could not help build the project that we must approach the federal authority in respect to those uses we thought best. I have felt it futile to make any declaration now as to the exact details and particulars of the Bonneville power use."
