Independence Day Program Planned

Mackay—Members of the committee appointed to assist the lecturer in planning a program for the July meeting of the Mackay grange are busy making plans for an Independence day program. Members of the committee are H. E. Martin, Mrs. Albert Mader, J. P. C. Teckenburg and Frank Bowers. The program will include songs and readings and report by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jones on the state grange meeting. It is planned to have a speaker for the remainder of the time.

BUELL PREPARES CELEBRATION

Dallas—With a varied list of attractions to offer those who attend the committee in charge of the Buell Fourth of July celebration are confidently anticipating a large turnout.

The morning program, slated to begin at 10 a. m., will be presided over by S. M. Johnson, editor of the Sheridan Sun. It will include talks by Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson and Lyle Smith on historical events around Buell and in Oregon generally, numbers by the Pomona grange quartet, readings and the main address of the day by Senator Peter Zimmerman, independent candidate for governor.

Coffee and cream will be furnished free of charge by the community at the picnic dinner at noon. A sports program comprising three events for the women, three for the men, two for the girls and two for the boys will begin at 1:30 o'clock. Prizes for the events will be provided by the merchants of Dallas and Sheridan.

The sports program will conclude with a double header football game between teams from Sheridan and Dallas. For those who enjoy dancing simple arrangements have been made. An outdoor dancing platform has been erected and a dance will be given in the evening with a five piece orchestra in attendance. Handling the local end of the affair is a joint Kiwanis-Chamber of Commerce committee composed of N. L. Guy and W. Blackley.

Normal School Has Painting Projects

Monmouth—Painting is in progress now on the renewal work at the Oregon Normal school. East house, west house, the music hall and the Monmouth training school have all been treated to fresh paint. The painting of the training school is the first that building has had for a long time. The training school sign and the inscription "Who Dares to Teach Must Never Cease to Learn" shine forth now resplendent in fresh color. The painting is being done by the state crew from Salem. Shingling left undone last year is to be finished this year, the Monmouth Lumber & Fuel company being the bidder. They expect to lay a carload of shingles, covering half the training school, half the gymnasium roof and all the covering of senior cottage.

Turner Lodge Meets

Turner—A large attendance of members of Turner Victoria chapter of Eastern Star gathered Wednesday night in the Masonic building for the regular meeting. Mrs. Monnie Hauser, past worthy grand matron, made an interesting report on the grand chapter held in Portland and other Turner delegates represented giving their reports were Miss Alice Peterson, worthy matron of Victoria chapter; Mrs. J. C. Peterson, Mrs. Charles Colvin and Mrs. Mary Kelly.

Fortnighters Club

West Salem—The Fortnighters club met with Mrs. E. A. Lake on Wednesday afternoon and from there motored to the Hollywood theatre and took eleven children with them for a treat to see "Alice in Wonderland." The club is planning a picnic for early in July.

CASEYS TO SEAT NEW OFFICIALS

Mt. Angel—A meeting of the Knights of Columbus will be held Tuesday evening in its club rooms at St. Mary's school. Meetings during the summer months will be called monthly instead of semi-monthly.

At this meeting the installation of officers who were elected at the last meeting will take place. Lawrence J. Thomas present grand knight, will take charge of the installation, and will install the following officers:

Fred J. Swab, grand knight; John Boyer, deputy grand knight; Otto Oswald, chancellor; Edward B. Stolle, recorder; Eugene Hoffer, warden; Joseph D. Hauth, treasurer; Lawrence Rothenfluch, advocate; Valentine Eberle, inside guard; Gerald Zollner, outside guard; P. N. Smith, trustee.

Following the installing, the newly-elected grand knight will take charge of the appointive officers. Cards and luncheon will follow the meeting with the following committee in charge: Louisa Schwab, chairman, Philip J. May and John Hassler.

STATE MISSIONARY BANQUET IS GIVEN

Turner—The annual state missionary banquet was held in the Turner Christian church dining room under the auspices of the Turner Missionary society and Ladies' Aid group. Covers were placed for 125 guests at the long tables attractively decorated with colorful summer flowers. One table was arranged especially for the banquet speakers, Mrs. H. E. Warren of Portland having charge of the program and acting as toastmistress.

Clever place cards in lavender and gold representing the world, with inscriptions of "Hear the Call of the World Through World Call," were used for the banquet. The program in the form of a broadcasting station presented the following numbers: talk, "The Spiritual Message of World Call," Mrs. A. A. Lessie, Portland; "Women Informed Through World Call," Mrs. L. E. George, Eugene; vocal solo, Mrs. O. D. Harris, Portland; talk, "The Last Page," Mrs. K. E. Burke, Dallas; "Seeking Treasures," Mrs. J. R. Howard, Corvallis; U.C.M.S. Broadcasting, Miss Goldie Wells, Mrs. K. F. Hendricks and Dr. Stephen J. Corvey of Indianapolis.

Over $40 was realized from the annual banquet for the local missionary society treasury, with Mrs. Frank Jarr, Mrs. Raymond Titus, Mrs. Susan Giffin, Mrs. Joe Holt and Mrs. Elmore J. Gilstrap heading the committee on arrangements.

Project Is Pushed

Monmouth—A project the chamber of commerce has been pushing is the filling in of the weed littered space between the Odd Fellows building and the Guthrie building with dirt to a level with the sidewalk. This was done by volunteers, taking the dirt which George Cooper had taken from under his house. When the filling is settled and leveled it is to be planted to grass seed.

LEAVE FOR IDAHO

Stayton—Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Olmstead left yesterday for their home in Grangeville, Idaho, after spending several weeks visiting relatives and friends in the Willamette valley. Olmstead attended the Oregon state editorial convention at Roseburg last week.

Kingston Memorial Celebration Talked

Stayton—The annual 4th of July celebration of the Kingston Memorial Educational association will be held on the river near the old Snead farm or three miles southwest of Stayton on the Sco-Stayton road. After a basket dinner the remainder of the day will be spent in swimming, races, etc. Ice will be furnished to those bringing filled freeways. The public is cordially invited to participate.

LODGE SOCIAL PUBLIC EVENT

Silverton—More than 150 attended the social night and banquet of the Eagles lodge of which Helmer Anderson served as program chairman and the unmarried men of the group were in charge of the supper which was a no-host affair.

Following the business routine of the lodge the meeting was thrown open to the public with a good program of song and literary numbers and a dance followed by a late supper.

Appearing on the program were J. C. Hassenstab and Miss Anna Dreier in a marimba and piano duet; a reading, "The Old Fashioned Literary Society," by Ernest Mott; several banjo solos by Oliver Carpenter, Elvin Almqvist, Silverton's yodel singer playing his own guitar accompaniments; dance music by Helmer Anderson and Jack Dick violinists, H. J. Leach, guitar, Oliver Carpenter, banjo, and Mrs. P. M. Powell, piano.

BAND CONCERT AT WOODBURN PLEASES MANY

Woodburn—Approximately 1200 people were in attendance at the first weekly concert of the season which was given by the Woodburn band Thursday evening on the lawn at the Lincoln school and was one of the most enjoyable events held in Woodburn for many years.

Long before the scheduled hour of 8:15 the streets were thronged with people and all available parking space near the school was occupied. The members of the band made a splendid appearance in their snappy new uniforms which consist of bright red coats, blue shoulder caps, white trousers and black caps and the music was greatly appreciated by the audience.

Special mention should be given the splendid rendition of the serenade "A Night in June," which was given with splendid expression and harmony. The performers, many of whom made their first public appearance Thursday night, have made excellent progress under the able direction of Ed Campbell and Woodburn is to be congratulated in having a band of this quality after a few months of instruction. It has been at least 20 years since there has been a Woodburn band and the entire community should take pride in this organization which is a credit to the city and community.

On account of the nearness of the Fourth of July the date of the next weekly concert has been changed to Sunday night, July 8.

Sweet Home Lodge Is Given Reports

Sweet Home—Grace Rebekah lodge No. 238 met in regular session at the I.O.O.F. hall Wednesday. After the regular business was transacted, Mrs. Callie Bigby, district deputy president and delegate to the Rebekah assembly convention, gave her report. After lodge adjourned, R. Mae Putman, noble grand, invited all the members to her home for refreshments.

Lyons—Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hiatt, Mrs. Alex Bodeker and daughter Constance and Mrs. W. H. Weddie of Stayton shopped in Portland on Thursday.
