KING SOREHEAD

London, July 13 (UP)—King George stopped playing golf because he "got so damned mad," the Prince of Wales told the Lucifer Golf society in a speech last night.

this morning and protested to the secretary of state against the remarks reported to have been made by General Hugh S. Johnson in a speech on July 12, 1934 relative to recent events in Germany.

"The secretary of state called the attention of Dr. Leitner to the published statement of General Johnson which appeared in this morning's press to the effect that he 'was speaking as an individual and not for the state department or for the administration.'

"Mr. Hull confirmed the accuracy of this explanation and said it was to be regretted that the position in the government occupied by the speaker made it possible for remarks uttered by him as an individual to be misconstrued as official."

Secretary Hull declined to answer questions asked by newspapermen concerning any other phases of General Johnson's speech or the German government's protest.

He also declined to say whether the state department considered the statement made to Leitner by Hull could be considered as closing the episode, or whether any further action by the German government was anticipated.

Omaha, Neb., July 13 (AP)—General Hugh S. Johnson, "cracking down" verbally on recent executions in Germany, says he expects no rebuke from the state department and will stand on his guns.

Stopping here last night on his way to the Pacific coast in an army airplane, the militant chief of the NRA reiterated the denunciation of the German "purge" which he voiced yesterday in a speech at Waterloo, Ia.

"I was speaking as an individual, not for the state department and not for the administration," Johnson declared.

"I meant everything I said; I will not take anything back, and I do not expect to be called down by the state department."

"A few days ago," Johnson said in his Waterloo speech, "events in Germany occurred which shocked the world. I don't know how they may have affected you, but they made me sick—not figuratively but physically—and very sick. * * *

"I have seen something of the sort in Mexico during the Villa ravages and among the semi-civilized people or savages, half drunk on sotol or marijuana, but that such a thing should happen in a country of some supposed culture passes comprehension."

Johnson said "The normal reaction of this on NRA efforts," is that "if power of any kind can be seized, there is no limit to its application."

"No power exists in this administration that has not been freely granted by the congress and the cool, thoughtful man in the White House seeks nothing more," he said. "Stories about subversive influences in our government are just plain bunk."

Johnson declared the NRA, more than any other agency, is restoring the buying power of the American farmer to the war-time level. At Waterloo he had fired the first gun in his campaign to "sell" the blue eagle to mid-western and western farmers.

Johnson was advised at noon that the army condor plane, which was forced down at Chanute Field, Ill., and again at Burlington, Ia., this morning with motor trouble, had been repaired and is on route here. The administrator and his party expected to board it immediately upon its arrival, expected at 1 p. m., and continue the trip to Portland, Ore.

On the Pacific coast, Johnson said, he expects to delve into the longshoremen's strike which is tieing up shipping at coast ports. He said his assistant Edward F. McGrady, who is on the coast, has kept him advised on the situation.

"The NRA has no particular part to play in the situation there," he said. "The shipping industry is one of the few which is not working under the code.

"I want to make one thing plain—because the industry is not under the code the workmen have no statutory rights protecting them under the NRA.

"There are many obstacles, such as foreign treaties, and the fact that everytime shipping rates are reduced to make it possible to ship wheat to Liverpool at cheaper rates the price of wheat at Chicago drops to a corresponding amount, in the way of placing that industry under the code.

"But I believe that we can be of much assistance in settling things out there, providing employer and employe ask us."

GAS SHORTAGE IN NORTHWEST DUE TO STRIKE

Portland, July 13 (UP)—Half-page advertisements in Portland newspapers today warned the motoring public that strike conditions makes "impossible" the "continuation of deliveries of gasoline" by major oil companies.

The Oregon petroleum emergency committee representing a dozen Portland plants, declared that the city faces a famine of gasoline and other petroleum products "because of the industry's inability to move products from supply points to the consumer."

The newspaper announcement pointed out that the distributing plants, most of them located at suburban Linnton, are "in a state of siege" with pickets effectively preventing truck drivers and train crews from moving supplies into the city.

An appeal to the Oregon State Federation of Labor and the International Seamen's union here by masters of the Oregon and Washington state granges was followed by an announcement from the seamen's strike committee that it would cooperate in releasing 30,000 gallons of gasoline to wheat growers' cooperatives in eastern Oregon and Washington.

Ray Gill, master of the Oregon grange, had said farmers in that territory were virtually without fuel and in immediate need of 35 tank carloads to begin harvesting operations. Only members of co-operatives will receive the gasoline, it was stipulated.

Meanwhile, city service stations apparently had sufficient gasoline supplies on hand to last a few days. Few, if any, station operators were displaying "no gasoline" signs.

PERMIT UNHEEDED FOR STOCK DIVIDENDS

Domestic corporations do not have to qualify and receive a permit to issue as a stock dividend a designated portion of its capital stock, Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle ruled today upon request of the state corporation commissioner.

Van Winkle held that such a dividend was not a sale of stock or security within the provisions of the blue sky law.

The attorney general however, held that such a corporation must qualify an issue of stock and receive a permit when the stock is to be offered only to its present stockholders, even though such stock is not offered for sale outside the stockholders.

ceived by hotels and business places warning that light, heat, power or telephone service would be interrupted. Thus far such utilities have not been affected. Telephone officials believed service would continue uninterrupted. There was uneasiness, however, among some employes of power companies and their officials were watching the situation closely.

In Oakland a band of 250 men visited several cafes and night clubs during the early morning and forced them to close.

Merchants associations held numerous meetings. They made no announcements. But it was known that a proposal to meet the general strike, if it becomes complete, with the declaration of a business holiday to continue as long as does the strike, had been discussed. Such a plan would embody a policy of non-resistance.

It was estimated that 20,000 men were on strike in San Francisco today out of about 45,000 members of unions affiliated with the San Francisco central labor council. Teamsters and longshoremen continued to be the largest striking groups. Chauffeurs were the next largest.

The building trades council of San Francisco announced it would meet with the central labor council representatives today. It was believed it would join in the strike movement.

Prospects of complete local transportation tie-up grew when labor leaders reported that employes of the four important transportation utilities all were answerable to strike orders.

Market street railway employes have voted to join a general strike if one is called formally.

Employes of the Municipal Street railway voted to follow all recommendations of the central labor council.

California street cable car employes were reported to have agreed to join any strike formally called.

The Ferryboatmen's union, embracing most employes of the San Francisco Bay ferries have decided to vote on the strike question.

The Standard Oil company of California announced its 160 stations in the Bay and San Mateo peninsula areas were out of gasoline and that by afternoon all its stations as far away as Tracy, Calif., bout 75 miles from San Francisco—would be exhausted.

Other companies reported they were approaching the same situation. Inability to move gasoline from refineries threatened to cause immediate shutdown of the great Associated, Shell and other plants in the Martinez section, throwing about 8,000 men out of work.

Continuation of—
Locarno Pact

lect alliance with any power," he said.

If the first government statement since the departure of Barthou, Sir John revealed that Britain is urging Germany to enter an eastern pact and return to the league of nations.

He said Britain deems Russia's inclusion in the league a paramount necessity for the peace of Europe.

Sir John emphasized that Britain regards an eastern pact as a peace move, not a war move aimed at any one country. He said he and Barthou were fully agreed there was no intent or thought of "building up one group against another," making it clear that the pact was aimed to aid Germany and not aimed at her.

The chief mission of Barthou, the foreign secretary said, was to outline reasons for the necessity of a pact of mutual assistance embracing the Baltic states, Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Germany.

Sir John especially urged that Germany and Poland fully participate in the pact. He said the British government, as a friendly, non-participating power, was suggesting to all affected countries the necessity of entering a security agreement.

The attitude of Italy toward the pact—in the capacity of a signatory to the Locarno treaty—was similar to that of Britain, he said. Neither Italy nor Britain was undertaking new obligations but both fully sympathized with support of an eastern reciprocity program.

Italy agrees with Britain, he said, that such a pact "offers fresh possibilities in the field of limitation and reduction of armaments and in implicit recognition of equality rights."

Paris, July 13 (AP)—Foreign Minister Louis Barthou began work today on his pet project, an eastern European Locarno Pact, while Sir John Simon, the British foreign secretary, was still speaking in the House of Commons.

He invited Polish Ambassador Chlapowski to the foreign ministry and discussed at length Polish objections to closer relationships with the Soviets and Germany, particularly in the face of Chancellor Hitler's new line up with the formidable Reichswehr, or German army.

He was aided by a British note to Warsaw supporting the pact idea.

French officials frankly admitted it may be a long and troublesome task to pull Germany, Poland, Russia, Czechoslovakia and the Baltic states together, but were encouraged by Simon's statement that Mussolini was favorable to the idea.

Hill Billy Pitches Detroit to Victory

New York, July 13 (UP)—A tall, husky shouldered lad from the Ozark hills, 22 year old Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe, who never saw ball players in uniform until two years ago, stood the New York Yankees on end yesterday afternoon. When he finished with them they were in second place and Detroit was leading the American league.

Rowe's support was flawless. He gave only six hits, walked four—and won, 4-2.
