LINCOLN BEACH BOOSTERS WAIT REGATTA DATES

With only a few details remaining to be arranged, the Lincoln county Regatta scheduled to begin at Devil's Lake July 27, is ready to open.

Forty of the fastest speed boats in the country are entered for the races in which drivers will compete for the many cash prizes and trophies that will be presented to the winners.

Boat racers claim that Devil's lake is one of the finest bodies of water in the west for motor boat racing and predict that several records will be broken during the three days of the Regatta. The match between two women racers will be one of the most thrilling events of the show as both are speed demons who can offer stiff competition to any man racer.

Water golf, a new water sport invented by Glen Ripley, chairman of the boat races, canoe jousting, surfboard riding and races, Indian dugout and surf boat races, as well as a number of other aquatic contests complete one of the finest Regatta programs ever to be presented in Oregon.

The Regatta queen contest, being staged under the direction of Sam Slocum, is proving to be a close race. Young women from 12 different districts are competing for places on the Royal Court of the big water sports show. The contest closes July 24 at 11 o'clock. Miss Lucille Anderson of Valley Junction is leading for queen. She is closely followed by eight other girls whose friends are rallying to their support. Votes are obtained by the purchase of admission buttons.

Much new construction has been done on the Regatta grounds and a large amount of additional parking space for cars has been added adjacent to the grandstand.

All of Lincoln county is preparing to entertain Regatta visitors. Reservations for houses, cabins and rooms are rapidly coming in from points all over the state.

Joe Dunne, republican nominee for governor, will be Admiral of the Regatta. Over 150 vice admirals will be on his staff. Berger Underdahl, 1933 admiral, and J. K. Carson Jr., mayor of Portland, will be his personal aides.

It is expected that a crowd of at least 25,000 people will attend the show.

Young Publisher Of Junior Gazette Likes Working and Sports

WILFRED C. HAGEDORN

One of the outstanding citizens of Oregon—and this remark is written advisedly—is a Salem boy 17 years old. He isn't prominent because he has not headed a crusade for reform, or bothered about changing the state's political complexion, or baited any big corporations, but simply because, in his youth, he has gone out on his own and done something worth while and done it well, just for the sheer satisfaction of doing it. And—as does not happen so very often—this outstanding citizen is an editor. Reference herein is made to Wilfred C. Hagedorn.

It was some three years ago that Wilfred first got the idea of publishing a newspaper, which was started as the "Mickey Mouse Advertiser,' but which was shortly changed to the "Junior Gazette." In the issue of yesterday its third anniversary was celebrated, and in a feature story Wilfred tells all about how he started the paper and about his experiences, so these need not be repeated here. Some big newspapers of the east, the New York Sun, for example, have taken note of him and the Boy's World of Elgin, Ill., gave him quite lengthy notice.

The first issue of young Hagedorn's newspaper was a sheet of two columns, and six by nine inches. It had a circulation of 1000. With the issue of April 2 this year, it was increased to three columns nine inches long and its circulation was 2000. The anniversary edition of yesterday was four columns of 12 inches.

The young publisher does all the work connected with the paper, solicits all the advertisements and writes all the news. But he doesn't work all the time. He likes to fish and play golf and puts in quite a bit of time at these sports. In addition to his regular job he is advertising manager for W. T. Rigdon & Son.

Last summer, with his parents, he went to Moscow, Idaho, for a vacation with friends. While there he connected up with the Daily Star-Mirror as assistant advertising manager. When he came away he carried a fine letter of recommendation from his employer.

To get a better word picture of the youthful editor read his own story in the anniversary number of the Junior Gazette, published yesterday. It is very entertaining.

MISS STEWART HAS TOP CONTEST PLACE

Silverton—Miss Evelyn Stewart continues to hald the lead in the bathing beauty contest that is being sponsored by Delbert Reeves post of the American Legion, and backed by the various business houses of town with the different organizations working for their special candidate.

The count for this week is: Evelyn Stewart, 3,524,000; Myrtle Sunde, 3,476,500; Vera Beer, 2,977,500; Eupha Mires, 2,586,750; Gladys Liechty, 616,000.

Miss Mires and Miss Beer shifted positions on this weeks count with the others remaining in the same order of rank.

Miss Stewart is of the Silverton Junior and Adult Woman's clubs, Miss Sunde of the Eagles, Miss Beer of the Rebekahs and Odd Fellows, Miss Mires of the Silverton Hills community and Miss Liechty of the North Howell community.

RETURN FROM WASHINGTON

Turner—Mrs. Albert Given and young son, Ronald Charles, have returned home from a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Barber, at Longview, Wash. Albert Given motored to Longview and his family accompanied him home in the new automobile recently purchased.

UNION CHURCH SERVICES ARE AT SILVERTON

Silverton—The third of the series of union church services of the two-month summer season for Sunday evenings will be at the Congregational church with Rev. C. J. Hall, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church delivering the address in sermon Sunday, July 22. Song program will be furnished from the Congregational church choir. The First Christian, Methodist Episcopal and Congregational churches compose the organizations for the summer union services.

At the Calvary Lutheran church of which Rev. Ernest G. Larson is pastor, the guest speaker at the evening 7:30 o'clock Sunday services will be Rev. Konstarlie, a missionary from the Chinese areas. An offering will be lifted for foreign missions. The Norwegian language will be used at the 11 o'clock Sunday forenoon session with Rev. Larson speaking.

The Methodist services will be as usual in the forenoon Sunday with Rev. C. J. Hall speaking. In date ahead announcements is the concert by the Cotton Blossom singers on Friday, August 10.

Rev. Carl Foss will conduct Norwegian services at 9 o'clock and English at 11 o'clock Sunday forenoon at the Trinity Lutheran church.

Rev. Ralph E. Knight will speak on "Learning How to Pray" at the 11 o'clock services Sunday morning at the Congregational church.

Seven and nine o'clock Sunday masses followed by the benediction with week-day 7 o'clock mass was said by Rev. Father John Dunn, are the announcements for the Catholic congregation of St. Paul's church.

Rev. W. O. Livingstone will talk on "Growing in Sacrifice" at the morning hour with the church elders in charge of communion services preceding the sermon.

Norwegian services will be held at the Immanuel Lutheran church at 10 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. J. M. Jenson with the 11 o'clock sermon in the English language. Sunday school classes convene at 10 o'clock.

NEET TO ASK FOR MODERN SYSTEM

L. E. Neet, in charge of tax collections at the sheriff's office, intends to install a modern system of collecting and accounting for taxes.

The present system,says Neet, is cumbersome, as many as six books being used in entering the payment of taxes for a year. Posting is said to be expensive as well as difficult and turnovers are slow.

Mr. Neet hopes to see installed a ledger sheet for each account on which the cumulative charges and credits can be entered. To record payments he would have a posting machine installed. He is making a study of the matter during the summer months.

Hunger Strike Is Mrs. Gudger's Threat

Mrs. Robert L. Gudger, cigar-smoking Silverton woman, is in the county jail again. This time she is to serve 25 days for disorderly conduct and using profane language, having been sentenced by Justice of the Peace Frank Meidl of Mt. Angel.

When Sheriff A. C. Burk turned the lock on Mrs. Gudger yesterday she said:

"I'm not goin' to eat a bite as long as I am in here."

Dallas—Josiah Wills, county school superintendent, was in Portland this week taking a summer school course for county superintendents.
