Underground Stream Puzzle To Engineers

Los Angeles, (AP)—A large underground stream struck in the sinking of the Potrero shaft of the Colorado river aqueduct project is proving a tough engineering nut to crack. Two deep well turbine pumps have been installed to pump the water out at the rate of 2400 gallons per minute but the stream shows little sign of drying up. Engineers are planning to install a third and larger pump with a capacity of 2600 gallons per minute.

EXPLORER SETS PLANS TO CARRY RELIEF TO BYRD

New York, Aug. 15 (AP)—Lincoln Ellsworth, famous explorer of the polar regions, is changing the plans of his present expedition to the Antarctic to entry aid to the Little America expedition of his old friend, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, the New York Sun said today.

A mid attack of dysentery among the 56 men at the Byrd base in the Antarctic led to the change in plans, according to the newspaper, and Ellsworth, Dr. Francis D. Coman of Johns Hopkins hospital and E. H. Balchen, famous pilot, will sail for Little America as soon as possible.

Many troubles have plagued the second Byrd expedition and at present the leader is isolated 123 miles south of the main base at a weather depot where he spent many weeks alone and where a relief party found him, thin and ill, a few days ago.

Ellsworth's original plan was to go to Deception Island on the opposite side of the continent from Little America and, later, to fly over the west coast of the Weddell sea and over uncharted regions to the Ross sea, not far from the Byrd base.

But while he was in Honolulu, from where he will sail with Mrs. Ellsworth on Aug. 20 for New Zealand, the explorer was advised that there was dysentery at Little America, the Sun said. While the attacks were confined to mild cases, it was felt that the presence of Dr. Coman would be desirable. He spent more than a year at the Byrd base with the first expedition.

As a result, Dr. Coman departed in the ship, and will sail from Los Angeles on Aug. 22 to join the Ellsworths at Honolulu.

HARNEY WELL STRIKES FLOW

Portland, Aug. 15 (AP)—Another well, with the highest flow reported, 20 gallons to the minute, "came in" Tuesday at Egypt, in Harney county, after drilling to a depth of 289 feet, according to the state relief committee which is doing this work in the drought areas of Oregon under the SERA program.

Approximately eight wells have now been drilled and flowing from 10 to 20 gallons per minute. Reservoirs are being constructed and troughs are being built for the convenience of the livestock on the ranges of central Oregon. This last well came in in the Ochoco forest in the northwestern corner of the county. Other wells have been drilled in Grant, Jefferson, Wheeler, Lake and other counties.

The committee announced it had allocated $50,000 to all counties of the state on the basis of need, to be used for the purchase of shoes and clothing for school children of relief families. It also stipulated that all wearing apparel under this SERA program must be made from better materials of the various cities and towns in the counties where such relief is found necessary.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 15 (AP)—All Americans, "Jews and Catholics included," were invited today to cooperate with the re-born Ku Klux Klan in a fight against communism.

"No religious or racial prejudice will be connected with our new program," said M. O. Dunning, appointed chief of staff a few weeks ago to lead the "revival" of the Klan.

BRIEFS FILED IN EDDY APPEAL

With a brief filed now by the attorney general, and another to be filed today in the mandamus proceedings of B. L. Eddy, attempting to have his name placed on the ballot at the general election as candidate for circuit judge in the second judicial district, Judge Lewelling announced today he would hand down his decision after receiving and examining the briefs.

He heard arguments in the case this morning with Custer E. Ross of Salem appearing for Eddy and Ralph Moody for the attorney general. Eddy claims he should be on the ballot as a contender against Carl Wimberly. He takes the position that Wimberly did not receive a majority of all votes cast for circuit judgeship at the non-partisan primaries and that under the law covering such non-partisan elections it is necessary that a candidate receive such majority to be an uncontested candidate at the general election.

WHO WOULDN'T ATTEND CONCLAVE

"I'm not dead, honestly I'm not," Thomas insists. "On Monday I marched in the Legion parade in San Francisco and carried the color of Burlington Post No. 3. My feet hurt a little, but otherwise I feel swell. If it gets around that I'm deceased it's liable to make all sorts of trouble."

CABLE PLACING IS ENGINEERING FEAT

Boulder City, Nev. (AP)—One of the unusual exploits in the construction of the gigantic Boulder Dam is the replacement of the huge cables stretching across the dam site.

The cables are used to convey men, concrete and other materials in building Uncle Sam's most ambitious water and power project. It is necessary to stop all operations for 48 hours to replace the cables.

Wound on huge spools, the cables, each weighing 55,000 pounds, are placed near the head tower of the cableway and one end is strung to and through the top of the tower.

The new cable is dragged across the canyon and fastened to the old steel rope. After the new cable is secured by supports which also hold the old cable, the used steel rope is hauled away.

Each cable is 2,500 feet in length and costs approximately $10,000.

NO AGREEMENT NEAR ON SCHOOL BUS CHARGES

A deadlock over the amount to be charged students from the non-high school districts who usually attend Salem schools apparently has been reached. Notice of the refusal of the non-high school district directors to accept a contract tendered by the local board which contained an item for depreciation, was received Tuesday night. Since the notice of the refusal to sign the contract had not been officially received, the board took no action. It is likely, however, the directors will stand pat on their proposal since they have been assured by legal authorities that the item of depreciation is a far charge.

With the opening of school set for September 17, action looking toward the clearing up of the situation must be started soon, it is said. Shutting off of the more than 400 students from the rural districts of the county would mean a loss of revenue to the district in excess of $40,000 and an excess in the number of teachers.

One of two of the smaller districts have signed contracts with the non-high school district directors which do not include the depreciation charge. However, Silverton, one of the larger districts, has refused to sign the agreement.

Although faced with a possible loss in revenue should the district lose the rural students, the board Tuesday night voted to add a course in agriculture to the high school curriculum. The course will add $1300 to the district budget. The Smith-Hughes people taking care of half of the expense. The decision to add the course was not unanimous. Chairman Wright cast the deciding vote after Directors Pound and Kiser had voted for it and Director Minier and Bradford in the negative.

Earl R. Cooley, supervisor of agriculture in the state vocational department, who did the promotion work for the new course, said that 47 boys had agreed to take the course as the result of visits to 138 farms. He said he felt sure 120 boys would take the course. A room on the lower floor of the high school building will be fitted up for the class. Equipment will cost the district around $300. It is expected additional expense will be necessary after the first two years.

RELIEF WORK FORGES AHEAD

Oregon's emergency educational relief program had an enrollment that totaled 34,410 during the first five months, O. D. Adams, director of the work in Oregon, announced today.

A total of 1517 teachers were employed in the projects, which included a six-point program of rural education, adult illiterate education, vocational education, general adult education and nursery schools. Total expenditures for the work were $166,325.68. The largest item was $125,000 for rural schools.

The education program was a great help to schools in rural areas. Approximately 15,000 boys and girls in country districts were aided in being given schooling. Many of the 650 teachers employed received their first cash of the year in this way. Many had been unemployed and without salaries previously.

Adult illiterates who took advantage of the courses numbered 599. Of these, many were foreigners who could not read nor write English and by the classes were enabled to obtain their citizenship papers.

A total of 1150 parents enrolled in classes in 55 centers. Courses included health, home management, child psychology, feeding and clothing the family.

Vocational rehabilitation work occupied 40 teachers, and 20 nursery school teachers supervised kindergarten work for 230 children. Those enrolled included University graduates as well as those of less academic training and men and women in all types of occupations. Ages ranged from 16 to 71 years.

Beets were grown on 347,000 acres in England last year, as compared with 94,750 in 1925.

Young Conductor Makes Appearance

Chapel Hill, N. C. (AP)—Robert Russell Bennett, one of America's foremost young musicians, is conducting a series of concerts here as guest conductor of the North Carolina Symphony orchestra, featuring his well-known "Abraham Lincoln." Bennett recently conducted the New York Philharmonic Symphony in a performance of his latest composition, "Sketches from an American Theater."

SEATTLE MAYOR RECALL TARGET

Seattle, Aug. 15 (AP)—Another chapter in the brief but turbulent administration of Mayor Charles L. Smith of Seattle was being made today, with petitions on file asking his recall after he had served but 72 days of the regular two-year term as the city's chief executive.

The recall movement, branded by Smith as the work of radical leaders, was an outgrowth of the coalition longshoremen's strike, now being arbitrated. The strike was less than a month old when Smith took office after winning a bitter election contest with his immediate predecessor in office, John F. Dore.

There had been some strife on the waterfront before Smith's inauguration, followed by a period of stagnation, so far as boat movements were concerned. Then a temporary truce was effected when by union longshoremen agreed to work Alaska ships, a truce which was blasted a few days later when Mayor Smith declared his intention of sending police to the waterfront to guard non-union replacement workers in an effort to "open up the port."

Late yesterday Kenneth T. Cullinger, who appeared as the representative of the Seattle Law and Order league, filed petitions with the city controller which he said contained the names of 21,000 voters, the first of other lists he proposed to file later, which he said would bring the total signatures to 45,000. It requires 27,164 to launch a recall election in this city, or 25 per cent of the votes cast for the office at the last election.

CURB BAITING OF WATERFOWL

Washington, Aug. 15 (AP)—The bureau of biological survey recommended to Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace today a plan for eliminating abuses of waterfowl baiting. It was proposed that the plan be incorporated in hunting regulations.

The survey recommended that waterfowl not be shot or otherwise taken on baited premises except under seasonal permits issued free by its chief, Jay N. Darling. Permits would be issued in the name of persons or clubs occupying the baited premises. Many times clubs or individuals put out food to attract ducks. That is called baiting.

The permits would be issued "only after investigation shows that baiting will effectively supplement local natural food supplies that are deficient or will serve to concentrate the birds under conditions conducive to safeguarding them from greater destruction."

Officials said issuance of permits also would be limited to cases where it appears that baiting will result in more nearly equalizing hunting privileges.

The proposed rule further provided that shooting of waterfowl on baited land be prohibited after 3 p. m., daily and that no birds be shot while resting on water or land on any premises where baiting is employed.

BUREAU NOTIFIES VETERAN OF DEATH

Burlingame, Calif., Aug. 15 (AP)—Policeman Charles H. Thomas' feet hurt a bit but otherwise he "feels swell" and is willing to produce affidavits if necessary to convince the United States veterans bureau he is not dead.

Yesterday he received a letter from the veterans bureau, addressed to the "Estate of Charles H. Thomas, deceased," enclosing a check for $1 compensation and asking that he sign and send back to clear up the bureau records.

"I'm not dead, honestly I'm not," Thomas insists. "On Monday I marched in the Legion parade in San Francisco and carried the color of Burlington Post No. 3. My feet hurt a little, but otherwise I feel swell. If it gets around that I'm deceased it's liable to make all sorts of trouble."

MAHONEY ABSENT AT MARTIN MEET

Klamath Falls, Aug. 15 (AP)—General Charles H. Martin today invited the home town defeated primary rival, William Mahoney, to advance his democratic candidacy for the governorship of Oregon. More than 200 persons attended a luncheon in his honor. Mayor Mahoney was not present.

Martin, steering clear of state political issues, discussed the future of the state as the verge of considerable population increase and felt the country was well qualified for immediate growth.

The general praised the Roosevelt policies and said he believed Oregon had received more appropriations from this administration than any other.

Little America, Antarctica, Aug. 15 (Via Mackay Radio to AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd is recovering from an illness which threatened his life in his hut 123 miles out on the Ross ice barrier. Dr. Thomas C. Poulter reported by wireless.
