

BUDGET BOARD GETS TOGETHER IN TWO WEEKS

When the city council meets next time, which will be Tuesday night, Sept. 4, on account of the Labor day holiday on Monday, it will have as its guests the citizens budget committee that is to assist in preparing the financial plan for 1935. This was by motion by Alderman David O'Hara, chairman of the ways and means committee.

In the meantime City Recorder Mark Poulsen will tabulate the estimated budget needs of the various departments for the attention of the council and the committee members.

Nedham's Book Store and 37 other signers last night petitioned the council for favorable action on a long-pending ordinance bill providing for stringent regulation and license for dealers in second-hand books and magazines. The petition was received and placed on file and no action was taken on the bill.

The council approved a compromise payment of $200 for damage done to an automobile owned by Shannon Hogue, high school faculty member, when the vehicle collided with a city policeman's car in December, 1933. The bill originally called for a payment of $308.10.

Two other claims appeared before the council. Mrs. John Robins, through her attorney, asked $100 for injuries received when she fell recently on a defective sidewalk. George N. Patterson, through his attorney, asked damages said to have been caused to his property by removal of some trees that changed the course of a mill race.

The council put through three readings and passed an ordinance bill granting the United States geological survey permission to construct a water gauge recorder on the Willamette river bank adjacent to Water street. It is to be permanent, of concrete and six feet square.

An ordinance bill for a change in zone involving lot 5 of Oak Lawn addition was introduced.

E. C. Bushnell, city building inspector, following an investigation requested by the council, recommended the elimination of certain telephone connections of city departments. A recommendation affecting certain telephones in the fire department is to be further checked, but otherwise the recommendations were approved.

SCHOOLS OPEN SEPTEMBER 17

Woodburn—The Woodburn schools will open September 17 with probably the same corps of teachers as last year with the exception of two who have been relieved from service through marriage.

The position of instructor in girls' physical education at the high school, which was filled by Miss Alma Taylor last year and the first grade teacher at the Lincoln school, who was Miss Carol Minkler last year, remain to be filled. Contracts have been mailed to all other members of both the high school and grade school faculty. Whether the positions will be accepted will not be known until replies are received.

An increase of $5 per month in salary has been given to six of the male teachers. Superintendent B. W. Dunn, Coach Gilbert Oddie, T. P. Otto, Howard Miller and Milton Gralapp of the high school and Jack Kennedy of the grades. The salaries of the women teachers remain as they were last year, $85 per month at the high school and $75 per month at the grade schools.

A recent meeting of the budget committee was held and tentative budget outlined which will reduce the school tax for the Woodburn district 10 percent and will enable the warrant indebtedness to be wiped out by the end of the present school year. After publication of the budget in the local paper the annual taxpayers meeting will be held to accept or reject the items therein. The amount to be raised by district tax is set at $17,171.50 for this year as compared with $19,135 last year.

BANKERS' BILL FAILS TO PASS

Relations between the city of Salem and the local banks, which are not neighborly at best these days, became further strained last night when the city council failed to pass the depository ordinance bill which has been prepared at the direction of the banks.

For many years the banks have been paying 2 percent interest on deposits of public funds. Now, on account of numerous federal loan plans, and the difficulty of finding good investments for their money, the banks are paying only a fraction of one per cent. The bill up for consideration last night provided that the city and the banks agree on the interest to be paid.

Alderman O'Hara, chairman of the ways and means committee, said the bill was simply to make a lower rate of interest than 2 per cent legal. "This is a bankers' bill," said

O'Hara. "I don't like it, but I guess we have to take it."

Some other aldermen, notably Townsend, counselled against approval of the bill, while some feared that failure to pass it would militate against the banks cashing city warrants. The measure was overwhelmingly beaten.

Bookworms Approve Code In Washington

Washington (UP)—Bookworms here apparently have adopted a code. Figures released by the Public Library showed a decrease of 7,000 borrowed books in 1933 under 1932. In addition, officials said, fewer persons were seen in reading rooms. However, it was said that reason for the decline possibly may be attributed to an unemployment decrease — assuming people borrow more books when they are out of work.

The population of the Union of South Africa is estimated at 7,750,000.
