Judge Lewelling recently handed down an order against the petitioner by holding in right of appeal from a ruling of the state bank superintendent had lapsed by process of time. The government deposited $4750 in the bank, the deposit being insured by the surety company. When the bank failed the government filed claim for preference. This was rejected by the bank superintendent. In the meantime the surety company paid the government and it now asks to be subrogated to the rights of the government. It also asks if the rejection is not reconsidered that its petition be considered as an appeal.

Farley Asks Liberal Votes

Sea Girt, N. J., Aug. 25 (AP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley today urged "liberal republicans" to vote for him in the fall election. He said that the "blind reactionaries" banded together under the banner of the republican party. In his plea for support of democratic party nominees by republican liberals, Farley asserted in a speech here that "the liberal background and liberal history of the democratic party is more than a mere name."

Price Lacking in Mohair Industry

There seem to be no prices for mohair as yet. The Angora Journal, British reports are that not more than one million pounds is held in Bradford, where upon occasion a single firm has held three times that quantity. Only a small quantity of foreign hair is in storage at the English mohair center, and "it is virtually impossible to quote prices," says our authority. Russia and the near east are given as the most promising outlets for raw material from the goats.

End Conference on NRA's Future

Washington, Aug. 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Donald Richberg, chief NRA counsel, today wound up their discussion in connection with NRA reorganization, pending a meeting in Hyde Park, N. Y., in two weeks. Richberg, who insisted the conversations were general—involving all work of the executive council, of which he is the temporary head—said he would have a report ready Monday, which will be a follow-up of an earlier one presented Mr. Roosevelt. He indicated this second report would be an interpretation of the NRA in the light of the anti-trust laws.

Portland Teacher to Retain Her Job

Portland, Aug. 25 (AP)—J. Agnes Dugan, Portland teacher, was retained and all charges against her dismissed as the outcome of a prolonged school board hearing after she invoked the school teachers' tenure law to retain her job. Many complaints against her centered around a shortage of textbooks. Charles A. Rice, public schools superintendent, who ordered her dismissal, today determined to make a special survey of the textbook situation. It was declared at the hearing that there was a surplus in the textbook fund while shortages of books existed in various school rooms.

Illness of Queen Slightly Worse

Aasgaardsgrend, Norway, Aug. 25 (AP)—The condition of Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands, ill five days in a hotel here, became slightly worse today, causing a prolonged telephone consultation between doctors here and at the Hague. Queen Wilhelmina was on a tour of Norway when she became ill.

EMOTIONS LAST ONLY FRACTIONS OF A SECOND

New York, Aug. 25 (AP)—Leo Aarons, the photographer, says he's studied thousands of people over the space of a year and learned that "pure" emotions last just so long—a shock, for instance, one three hundredth of a second. His timing apparatus was the delicate shutter of a camera. By "pure" emotions he means those unmingled with others. Boredom, for instance, standing on its own legs can last up to a second. After that it turns into, or mingles with bewilderment, disgust, hate, or maybe pity. He said, will last 1-200th of a second, while fear is relatively eternal at 1-10th of a second. Terror is a little more fleeting, 1-25th of a second.

A second is so long to Aarons, he calls any emotions of that length "sustained."

Melancholy, sorrow and despair are all sustained. Annoyance and anger are sustained, but real honest-to-goodness fury is just a matter of 1-200th of a second. Pleasure is sustained. So is ecstasy. The common, garden variety of joy is only 1-25th of a second. Affection, devotion, passion—all sustained.

Hysteria—he studied a lot of women for this—never lasts in the "pure" state beyond 1-50th of a second, nervousness, pain and torture are sustained.

Bewilderment and defiance, far apart in character, time together at 1-100th of a second. Sympathy, pity, curiosity, boredom, disgust, and hatred and the gamut as sustained emotions.

Aaron thinks neurotics have the best time in life, feel more. He says women are more fleeting than men emotionally, also more able to fake things.

In his plea for support of democratic party nominees by republican liberals, Farley asserted in a speech here that "the liberal background and liberal history of the democratic party is more than a mere name."

Criticizing republican charges that the new deal recovery program was curbing individual freedom, Farley asserted the critics "apparently mean the kind of freedom that they enjoyed a few years ago—the freedom which resulted in great prosperity for them and in the loss of even the barest necessities for others."

Farley, defending every phase of the new deal, said that in his opinion business "is definitely on the mend."

12TH STREET ROAD ALLOCATION SAFE

The $20,000 for paving the 12th street cutoff to the Pacific highway allocated from federal funds is safe, reports the county court on its return from Portland where a re-allocation of funds was made to meet the government demand that provision be made for the Wilson river road.

There was no cut made in the $20,000 and money was shaved off from other places to meet the demand for the Wilson river road. In addition to paving the cutoff the $20,000 provided for here will also cut down two hills. The work will be done by the state highway commission and how soon work is started is dependent on action of the commission.

LAST DIAMOND GANGSTER SLAIN

New York, Aug. 25 (AP)—The last of the gang headed by the late Jack "Legs" Diamond was found today, his body riddled with machine gun slugs, the legs hacked off and the torso jammed into a trunk placed with grim irony—behind the home of Gen. Louis Stokely, president of the Humane society.

The body was identified from fingerprints as that of Bernard McMahon, 41, whose criminal record extended back two decades. A dabbler in various forms of crime, McMahon was one of the lesser cogs of the Diamond machine but his death was in keeping with the tradition of violence established by his criminal peers.

From the amputated legs the medical examiner extracted more than a dozen machine gun bullets. A cursory examination indicated, however, that the actual cause of death was blood poisoning. This led police to theorize that McMahon had either been shot in a gang feud or gone for treatment to an underworld quack.

The body was in a bad state of preservation but the medical examiner estimated death had taken place only 72 hours earlier. Although this would indicate McMahon died Wednesday the day of the $427,000 armored car hold-up—there was no disposition on the part of police to connect the crimes.

PEN OUTBREAK PUT DOWN BY GUARDS' GUNS

Collegeville, Pa., Aug. 25 (AP)—State police and guards today crushed an outbreak at the eastern state penitentiary at Graterford after 200 convicts had rioted for more than three hours.

The prisoners started fires in cell blocks and outbuildings, destroying a barn and damaging several other structures. Forty state policemen, summoned from barracks in eastern Pennsylvania, armed with machine guns and rifles, subdued them at noon without firing a shot. No one was seriously injured and none escaped.

The convicts, after their destructive rampage, were cowed by the troopers after they had massed on a hill behind the cell blocks and defied the guards to disarm them of the clubs, iron bars and other crude weapons they carried. The penitentiary houses about 1,600.

A member of the board of trustees said the prison kitchen was ruined and thousands of dollars worth of new machinery in the industrial plant was wrecked. Graterford was built with convict labor at a cost of $7,500,000 to relieve the crowded conditions at the Philadelphia prison.

HUEY INVOLVED BY GRAND JURY

New Orleans, Aug. 25 (AP)—A federal grand jury investigating income tax payments of Louisiana politicians, directly involved the Huey P. Long state administration yesterday in its inquiry. It subpoenaed all records of the state highway commission and all members of the commission.

The highway commission has spent more than $60,000,000 since the Long political machine took charge of the state government. Enemies have charged that its records would reveal unprecedented irregularities. Charges of grafting on gravel and road contracts have been made openly innumerable times.

Governor O. K. Allen was chairman before he was pushed up to head the government when Long was elected senator. While Long was governor and Allen was chairman, the Kingfish exercised iron control over it. Since he became senator, Long has exercised control over all branches of state government.

Summons were served on A. P. Turner, chairman; J. S. Nugent, vice chairman; Warren Raggio, secretary; W. H. Norckauer, state highway engineer; J. R. Wendt, state maintenance engineer; L. G. Vidrine, auditor.

Tugwell said in Baton Rouge he would have the commission's records loaded in a moving van and transported to New Orleans. All subpoenas were returnable Monday.

RECEIVER REPORTS WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS

Order has been filed in circuit court approving the report of M. C. Storvick as receiver for the Warehouse Service corporation in the case of George W. Hubbs against the service corporation. The report showed $700.88 total cash received by the receiver for storage, and of this $155.02 was paid to the Southern Pacific company as rental, leaving a balance on hand of $545.86. At the sale of the warehouse properties $500 was realized. The amount of the judgment debt against the defendant owing to the plaintiff was $699.45, or a deficiency of $199.45.

Under the order the receiver is instructed to pay valid claims and to pay himself $35 a month for services rendered. He is also to pay the First National bank of Roseburg $359.37 out of lien thereon to assign to that bank a certain storage lien on hops. Any overplus the receiver is to pay to George W. Hubbs to apply on his judgment against the service corporation.

Housing Shortage In Salem Before Fall Indicated By Demand

A housing shortage may exist in Salem during the early months of fall if the demand for living quarters continues apace with that of recent weeks, it was learned today through a check of concerns which hold a finger on the pulse of the local situation.

Desirable untenanted dwellings have been hard to find for several weeks and with the influx of several families even those houses which deteriorated through lack of improvement are being sought.

The local electric power company reports that their stock of meters has been exhausted while the number of recording instruments listed on their "suspense" sheets are less by two thirds than the number carried a few months back. Part of the meter shortage is due to the fact that some of them are being worked over for installation in connection with water heater jobs.

The "suspense" list of the power company contains meters which are left in dwellings which have been vacated, pending the arrival of a new tenant. A perusal of this list shows entire streets without a vacant house while in most instances where vacancies exist a check up reveals the properties are not at all desirable.

The water company reports virtually no change in the number of connections in recent months, in fact the statistics of July show exactly the same figures in this connection as compared with the preceding month. Just three new connections were made during the past month, indicating an extremely low point in construction work.

An increase in electrical connections is a reflection of better business conditions, it is pointed out since it is possible to get along without this form of service. On the other hand there are few instances where discontinuance of water does not work a hardship.

FIGHT TWIXT SCORPION AND SPIDER BITTER

Long Beach, Cal., Aug. 25 (AP)—The lady grew too confident and erred, and as a result, the grim battle between the deadly Black Widow spider and the venomous Scorpion proceeded today on about even terms, with neither showing signs of weakening.

Each was a prisoner of the other, yet neither could get into position to unleash deadly poison which would end the fight. Hundreds of spectators crowded a garage where the battle raged.

Until late yesterday, the spider held the upper hand. It had won an imprisoning war around its much larger opponent, even to the point of embesoming the stinger on the scorpion's tail.

Betting odds among the spectators increased to five to one as the Black Widow finished tying up her adversary. Resting then for a moment on a silky strand, she swayed too closely to a free forelaw. The scorpion caught her quickly and held her there helplessly. But it could not free its stinger to finish the fight.

The spider already has lost a leg in the grim battle, but her general condition was much better than the scorpion's. The latter seemed groggy and appeared to be losing strength.

DRY CONVENTION SHORT OF MEMBERS

Plans to name an independent "dry" candidate for congress from the first district were under way today, following a meeting here last night of 86 "drys" from Marion, Polk, Lane and Linn counties.

As the number present was 14 short of the nomination provisions of the Oregon law, time of nomination and adoption of a platform was set for Friday night, August 31.

Speakers were J. H. Jenson, secretary of the Christian Federation in Marion county, who called the meeting; J. Lincoln Ellis, chairman of the group; and Frederick C. Heffron, Eugene attorney, who ran for congress on the "dry" ticket in the previous congressional election; and F. G. Franklin, professor at Willamette university.

SEEK SOLUTION OF SOFTBALL CRISIS

In an effort to reach a satisfactory solution of the difficulties which have developed in the Salem Softball league since the playing of the much discussed championship game between Parker's and Pade's last Thursday night, Harry Collins, president of the league, has called a meeting for Saturday night at his office. Managers of the eight clubs will be asked to participate. An amicable settlement of the problem is especially sought in view of the state tournament, which will be played in Salem on five nights beginning next Tuesday.

Withdrawal of Lu Singer, manager of the Parker club, Friday night of the protest lodged during the preceding night, resulted in further complicating an already extremely muddled situation. President Collins expressed the hope that managers and officials would get together in a friendly spirit and work toward the success of the state tournament which will bring 14 out of town clubs to the city.

REUNION SUNDAY FOR ALLEN FAMILY

Dallas—Descendants of Samuel, Solomon and Isaac Allen will hold their reunion at the Dallas city park on Sunday, Sept. 2, according to word received here from Mrs. Florence Ragsdale of Rickreaff, secretary of the group. The three brothers were pioneers of 1845, settling in the Rickreaff district. Efforts are being made to bring the reunion with all the descendants in order to get as many to attend the reunion as possible. W. Lester Allen of Chermawa is president of the group.

LEWIS SILENT ON EXPULSION OF HIS SPOUSE

New York, Aug. 25 (AP)—Sinclair Lewis raised his eye-brows and decided that silence was the better part of husbandly valor when he learned today of the expulsion from Nazi Germany of his wife Dorothy Thompson.

The Nobel prize winner bustled out of the casting office of the Empire theater, where he was found completing the cast for his new play, "Jay Hawk," opening on Broadway next month.

Lewis said he had not heard anything from Miss Thompson since Thursday when he received a cable saying that she was in Berlin and expected to remain there "for several days."

"She did not expect to be in Berlin much more than a week, I believe," Lewis said, puffing nervously on a cigaret. "Her arrangements were to sail home on September 7."

Lewis' only comment on his wife's expulsion was: "Something like Eddie Mower, I guess."

He was referring to Edward Ansell Mower, correspondent for the Chicago Daily News at Berlin and winner of the Pulitzer award for foreign correspondence, whose position became untenable in Berlin. He was transferred to Paris.

Miss Thompson's article on Hitler appeared in a popular monthly magazine about a year and a half ago.

Before that, she was familiar with the German situation as chief of bureau for seven years of the Philadelphia Ledger and New York Post.

Grinning broadly, Lewis said "she was always regarded as a good newspaperman."

Lewis appeared unworried, but asked "keep me advised of any developments."

QUINN INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Assault with intent to kill is charged against Joseph Quinn in one of four indictments returned by the grand jury today. The indictment alleges that on August 12 he assaulted Jesse Baldwin, who headed a revolution. Stories told by two men about the alleged assault differed, according to officers. Quinn claimed he had sold the gun to Baldwin and that when Baldwin tried to hold up two pedestrians on North Liberty street Quinn tried to take the gun away and was shot. Baldwin denied this but said Quinn shot him after Baldwin had been robbed of $30 by Quinn. That amount of money was found in Quinn's possession.

Other true bills were returned as follows: Andrew Jairo, charged with non support of two minor children.

W. B. Cressy, charged with uttering a forged instrument.

Edwin Sink, charged with larceny by bailie, it being alleged he converted $25 to his own use, same alleged to have been the property of Winifred M. Griffin. Sink was tried awhile back on a non-support charge and was acquitted.

A not true bill was returned in favor of David McRae, who was investigated as to charges of assault and battery on the person of Cleo McRae.

FREAKS WILL BE SHOWN AT BIG FAIR

A tomato vine growing on a potato vine, an oddity produced by Ernest Iufer, local landscape artist, will be a high contender for honors in the freak department at the state fair which opens here September 3.

This freak is growing in a large flower pot, with fair sized potatoes in the earth and a number of ripe tomatoes growing from the vines above. The freak has a common stem with both potato and tomato leaves. The largest of the tomatoes is not quite two inches in diameter.

KNIVING FILIPINOS PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Six of the Filipinos who were under arrest yesterday for assaulting Eldon Blaco and Austen Moe with knives in a fight at Maudie's Inn Thursday night were arraigned in justice court today on charges of assault while armed with a dangerous weapon. All pleaded not guilty and are still in
