Diamond Wedding Evinces Interest

Albany—Seventy-five years ago, September 21, when Mr. and Mrs. John Reed were married in Albany and started off on a wedding trip over primitive roads to Eugene, Mr. Reed's wedding gave to his bride was a side saddle. Mr. and Mrs. Reed rode horseback while on their honeymoon.

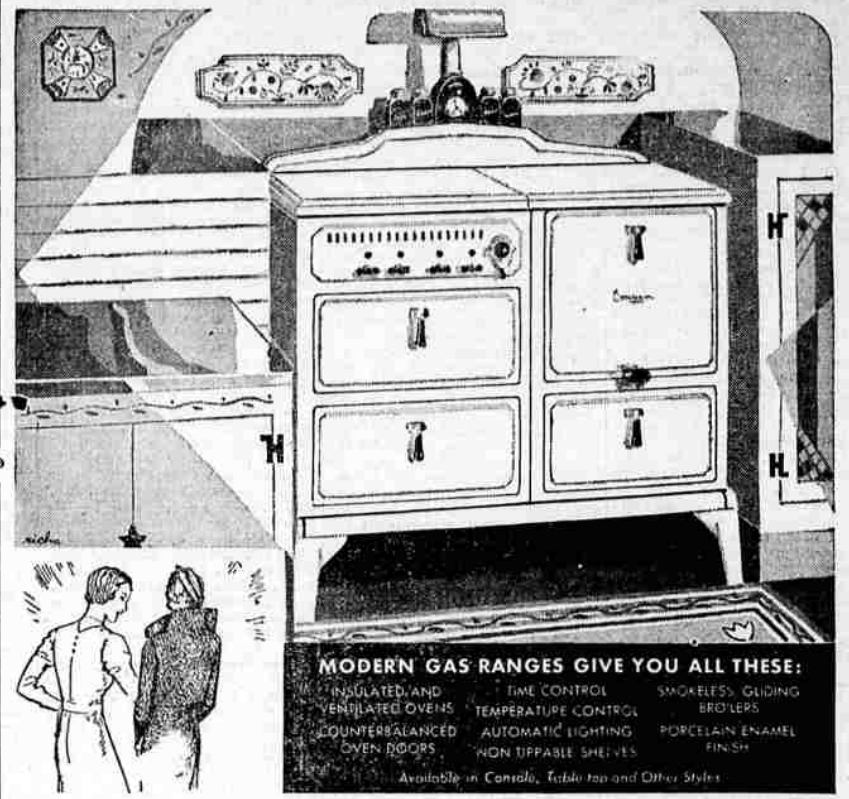

Sunday when the couple celebrate their wedding date at a country-wide celebration at Lebanon, horses, which will be ridden by Mr. and Mrs. Reed's great-great grandchildren will play an active part in the pantomime of the ceremony enacted 75 years ago. Both Mr. and Mrs. Reed are looking forward to Sunday's celebration and are watching eagerly from their Lebanon home the erection of a platform on the Lebanon high school campus, where the scenes of 75 years ago are to be re-enacted. Mr. Reed, who is 96 years of age and Mrs. Reed who is 92 are proud and happy in the fact that they have enjoyed the confines of matrimony for 75 years. Mr. Reed, who is nearing the century mark in age, does the daily chores about their Lebanon residence, keeps a small garden and enjoys good health. Mrs. Reed goes about the house each day doing her own housework and cooking. Willard L. Marks of Albany, is (Additional Society on Page 11)
