SUMMONS—were received early in the week to a luncheon given by Mrs. Earl Cousen Flegel (Barbara Steiner Flegel) at Vancouver Barracks. The invitations were quite the trickiest ones we've seen in a long time. As a memorandum they read along like this:

1. It is the urgent desire of the Commanding Officer, Quarters 14, that the Old Guard comply with the following list of calls:

Date: Friday, October 12th, 1934
1:30 p. m. Assembly Quarters 14
1:45 p. m. Mess Call (Luncheon Officers Club)

3:15 Inspection of Buildings
4:10 Guard Mount
4:30 Recall

Apparently everyone had a sweat-giant and wished more than once that they were in the army now!

THE GOLD STANDARD—hasn't been forsown if one is to judge from the frocks which are putting in an appearance here and there. All flecked with gold, whether they be wool, boucles or silk, they are completely ravishing. One of the smartest in this category was the one we glimpsed Gladys Conner wearing at Mrs. John Griffith's dinner for Mrs. Guy Bagley last Saturday afternoon. The frock itself is black, with gold seeping through—and striking gold clips complete the picture.
