MILLAGE TAX REDUCTION IS TALK OBJECT

Monmouth—Robert E. Smith of Portland, regional director of the National Secruity Owners association, and formerly of the Lumber men's Trust company of Portland, addressed a luncheon party in the addressed a luncheon party in the Monmouth hotel dining room at the time of the regular weekly meeting of the Lions club. An invitation had been extended to representative cit-izens and a number of visitors were present. The meeting was prelimin-ary to another held in Dallas that evening.

evening.

Smith opposed the 20 mill tax limitation on the ground that it would result in chaotic conditions in state, counties and municipalities. He said the bill originated with Portland real estate men who had gone out and got the backing and got the Lacking of large property owners. It is on a line with a general move nt throughout the nation to enact similar legislation, although the Oregon proposal is quite a little more Oregon proposal is quite a fittle most other states. The Oregon proposals is for a 50 per cent assessment of the cash value of property. Thus the tax base might shift radically from year to year as property values raised or lowered.

The speaker opposed the grange power bill, chiefly on the ground that it proposes another commission. He admitted that it does not propose to issue any bonds except on vote by the people, but said certificates, similar to warrants might be issued up to 50 per cent of total re-ceipts. He asserted the law would allow the commission to lease or arrange for the operation of private power plants in which case they nower plants in not from taxation. He used in the estapaign. One handbill i was to exempt from taxation nes occupied by owners, rated at $3000 or less. A proposal on one of the booklets was to seize an old political party and use it in a new cause." All campaign literature used by Sinclair was sold. Stickers cost one cent each, Window posters sold for 3 cents each, Window posters sold for 3 cents each, Medings addressed by Sinclair drew large crowds at 25 cents admission and on top of that the contribution plate was passed.

He said Sinclair proposed to put past of the unemploymployed on farms and the remainder in factories now idle, the two divisions to trade products with one another. $3000 or less. A proposal on one of Private business, asserted Smith, depends on profits as its impellius motive and when profits are interfered with privately conducted business languistes. He admitted that changes must be made in the business set up to conform to new conditions, He told of the voque of technocracy in Seattle and of the sweep which the Townsend old are perspectively. which the Townsend old age pen sion plan is making. He was vague in describing what adjustments he thought must be made but thought thought must be made but thought the National Securities act was in the right direction. He told of an interview with a conservative Californian who was supporting Sinclair on this plea: One third of California citizens are unemployed. Another third are hanging on by their eye, brows. Such a situation justifies experimentation and thought the Sinclair plan would do as well as any other experiment. Smith invited citizens present to the Dallas meeting at night.
