

BUTTER TRADE APPEARS FIRM ALONG COAST

Portland, Nov. 26 (AP)—Trade in butter appears about steady in spots here although some easiness is suggested elsewhere. Make continues to hold up seasonably liberal. Butterfat is holding steady.

There was considerable carryover of tom turkeys in the dressed poultry trade. Local retailers had not yet secured their requirements and were apparently holding off for more favorable prices to them.

Wholesalers' cards still offered 20c for young toms and hens for Monday delivery but were not inclined to buy anything on the street above that mark. Prices in general to retailers are perhaps 1c lb. lower than last week's final.

There continues a mixture of egg prices here but some interests are beating down values too rapidly.

There is good demand here for ducks and geese. All recent receipts have been cleaned up with demand for more.

Remilled cranberries offering around 32 quarter barrel box are buying the local trade. The wonderful stuff from Coos Bay is comparable with eastern quality at least and is finding more favor.

Owing to the excellent quality and the rather low price and very attractive package, a very good demand is ruling for Florida tangerines here.

While demand appears a trifle quiet, there is no change in onion buying prices. Buyers continue to offer $1.50 per 100 bushels here.

Potatoes are quiet but as yet unchanged in price.

Better quality California tomatoes are being offered around $2.25 lug repacked.

Another carload of Florida grapefruit is arriving but demand at the moment is chiefly for Arizona, which is very low priced.

Country killed meats with the exception of beef, shows a steady tone.

Walla Walla hothouse cucumbers are being offered around 50c dozen.

Hothouse tomatoes are firm at the late advance with supplies short.

MARKET QUOTATIONS

PORTLAND EASTSIDE MARKET
Portland, Nov. 26 (AP)—Demand for fruits and produce was limited considerably during the Monday session of the Eastside market with buyers securing their needs for Thanksgiving.

Domestic apples continue liberal with Bonanza 40c lug and Hubbard 1 1/2-2c lb.

Local apples sold up to $1.25 for the Dalles stock but local and other grades are sold down to 60c.

Spanish continue in supply, selling 90-60c orange box.

No. 1 cauliflower sold 45-50c with 2c discount, few as low as 20c crate. Cabbage fairly steady, best sold down to 10c crate. China cabbage 50-55c crate.

Black radishes were offered at 25c dozen bundles. Parsnips and rutabagas mostly 20c lug.

GRAIN FUTURES LOWER TODAY

Chicago, Nov. 26 (AP)—Both wheat and corn futures ruled lower today, although No. 1 white corn available for immediate use reached $1.02, a new peak since 1930.

Part of the selling of wheat and also of corn today was said to have been based on the advice of an Illinois market forecaster. On the other hand, there was no evidence of any increase of rural offerings of corn to arrive here.

Wheat closed weak, 1/4-1/2c under Saturday's finish, May 97 1/2-5/8, corn 1/4-1/2c off, May 85 1/2-86, oats 1/4-1/2c down, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents decline.

Chicago, Nov. 26 (AP)—Responsive to Liverpool wheat quotations higher than expected, grain values here scored advances today. Enlarged selling on price options, however, led to quick setbacks. Opening unchanged to 1/4 higher, May 85 1/2-86, Chicago wheat went below Saturday's finish. Corn started 1/4 off to 1/2 up, May 85 1/2-86, and held near the initial limits.

DEMAND FOR TOMS REPORTED WEAKER

Portland, Nov. 26 (AP)—Large tom turkeys were showing some weakness in the trade here today with buyers little inclined to pay above 20 cents a pound for them for freezing. There was a considerable carryover of toms in the dressed poultry trade over the week-end.

There was word that liberal lots of hens will arrive tomorrow night. This caused some apprehension among those trying to keep the price from sinking.

Wholesalers' cards still offered 20 cents for young toms and hens for Monday delivery but they were not inclined to buy anything on the street above that mark. Prices in general to retailers were about 1 cent a pound under last week's final. Live birds ranged from 14 to 16 cents. The dressed price, top to retailers, was 15 to 22 cents.

Red Hills Grange To Meet Tuesday

Liberty—The regular meeting of the Red Hills Grange will be held at Liberty hall Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. Mrs. O. J. Baines, lecturer, has arranged a program consisting of local members, Mrs. Oscar Dancer, Mrs. Howard Zimer, Mrs. Victor Ballantyne and Mrs. C. W. Stacey will give short talks on some phase of the fruit industry and there will be one guest speaker to discuss the prune code. Mrs. Harold Pruitt will give a reading and Glen Thomas furnish harmonica music.

A committee consisting of the Beckley family, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Ballantyne, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Clark, Florence and Bill Baines, Mr. Reed Chambers and Newton Abbot will serve refreshments.

Race Films Hurried For Big Reel Scoop

New York (AP)—It is simple for newscasters to show a mountain-side being blasted in one moment and re-assembled in the next. But it is not a matter of camera technique to get a couple of ace aviators to try to beat their own records in a sky race, just to play expression for a newswire and enable it to "scoop" its rivals. In a word, however, that's the fact behind the story of the race back to London of Catharine Jones and Ken Waller, fliers who were fourth in the derby. They were carrying Paramount News' pictures of the race.

UTILITIES AND STEEL LEAD IN STOCK UPTURN

New York, Nov. 26 (AP)—Favorable news for steels and utilities sent these stocks up on the exchange today and aided the entire list which was fractions to more than 2 points higher near the close.

Some profit-taking came in the last hour and leaders had dipped from their highs. Then came an announcement from Albany that Justice Ellis J. Staley had issued an order restraining the public service commission from enforcing reduced rates for Bronx Gas and Electric company, and Yorkers Electric Light and Power company, both subsidiaries of Consolidated Gas company.

Immediately, utilities turned active and strong. Large blocks of Consolidated Gas appeared and it rose toward 25, against a previous close of 23 1/2. Southern California Edison came out in large blocks. North American rose nearly a point. Public more than a point. Peoples Gas was up 1 1/2.

Steel news was again favorable and steel shares were active. U. S. Steel was the most heavily traded stock. It reached 38 1/2, up 1 1/2, and others of the steel group made corresponding gains.

Railroad issues were better than in recent sessions.

General Electric reached 20 1/2, up 1/2 in large block turnover.

A long list of stocks made new highs for the year or longer. Practically all the tobaccos made new tops.

Silvers were firm and so were coppers.
