sfrength today as the Los Angeles Railway company undertook the huge task of transporting the Monday peak of workers and shoppers. On all sides it was admitted the railway had come to a crucial test of its promise to maintain adequate transportation in the face of the walkout, which was called at 4:10 o'clock Saturday morning.

While railway officials claimed only 492 off the 1904 in the operating personnel had gone on strike, representatives of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway and Motor Coach employes, which had called the strike, said the full effect of the walkout would be felt today. The union officials also charged the places of the strikers had been taken by what they termed "professional strike breakers."

SATURDAY SET FOR CHRISTMAS SHOW

The Salem Ad club, as has been the case for a number of years, is planning full cooperation with merchants, civic clubs and other organizations in connection with the Christmas season. illerating Croatian organization aimed at liberating Croatian from Yugozlav control.

That Prance's demand would be met with a negative reply was a foregone conclusion in view of the fact that France had denied 42 Italian requests for the extradition of political exiles in recent years. However, diplomatic sources said that the Italian decision, coming at this delicate moment, would further complicate the situation and embitter the Italo-Yugoslav relations still more.

The Turn court communique did not state the reasons for the denial of the extradition request but official sources said they were based on legal points of difference between ordinary crime and political crime. The court of appeals decision meant that extradition is definitely denied by Italy since, by the law, the minister of justice who is given the right of final decision must issue the same verdict as the court of appeal when that court decides in favor of a person under arress.

Although investigators saw possibility of connection between the deaths of the three girls and the apparent murder and suicide of a man and woman Saturday at Spring Meadows, 105 miles away, they have been unable to establish a material link between them.

Clothing worn by the woman victim, however, was said to resemble garments found in the black satchel which had been discarded in the South mountains.

Authorities could not even state positively how the children died. They were sure they had not died of natural causes but they did not die from wounds of any sort. Every conceivable cause was eliminated until only asphysisation either by an anaesthesia, or gas (perhaps from the monoxide gas given off by an automobile exhaust) or poison remained.

One thing was definitely established. Life had not been kind to the little girls. Autopsy revealed they had had no food whatever during the 18 hours preceding death. Rare Pheasants Are Planned In Seattle

Seattle (tp) — Pheasants of rare varieties soon will inhabit the Ska-git river wilderness, from which the Seattle municipal power supply

Fourteen ringneck pheasants, three pair of Golden, three of Silver, two of Reeves and two of Multant, have been obtained. The birds will be penned near the Diablo power plant, their offsprings released in the woods nearby.
