

REMOVE FENCE AROUND STATE ROGERS PLEAS

Silverton—Let's not put a fence around Oregon, stated Guy A. Rogers, sales manager of Loose-Wiles Biscuit company of Portland, in his address to the large group who attended the chamber of commerce banquet and program Wednesday night. Rogers' subject was "Let's Sell Oregon to Ourselves" and this seemed a direct paradox to his theme discussion which carried out the idea of "A balance of trade as a basic economic principle is what we want," Rogers emphasized the need of carloads of citrus fruit and other out-of-state products to be shipped into Oregon for home consumption, but he stressed the balance need of a return to the place of production of the out-of-state goods, of Oregon grown strawberries and what-not, and send back not an empty car.

Mrs. Zetta Schlador as vice-president of the forum arranged an all-Oregon program inviting Rogers as a representative of the Oregon Manufacturers' association as the featured speaker. He lauded the hopeful future of the state emphasizing his belief that the state has a dependable future with the Bonneville dam an indirect phase of aid to public utilities and down to the improvement of farm life, schools and the individual.

Auxiliary to the main talk of the program was the appearance of Miss Anna Dreiler, local resident, in presenting her own compositions of song. She played her own accompaniment and sang "When the Golden Sun is Shining" and "I'll Never Be Satisfied." A quartet of vocalists from the Grief male chorus including Ted Rostvold, second bass; Chester Berg, first bass; Ralph Rogan, second tenor and Perry Larson, first tenor were enthusiastically received in rendition of "I Part by Your Window," "Kregerens Dorn," "Heideroren" and "Kentucky Babe," and responded with lighter songs for encore.

Guy W. DeLay assumed the master-of-ceremonies role as substitute for Mrs. Schlador who presided in the absence of W. P. Scarth, president, on account of illness.

Robert Goetz made a report on the membership campaign indicating a plan for the month of January with the business men to be solicited. Present membership has been volunteered. Mrs. Schlador announced a splendid array of subjects and speakers for the coming year's work of the chamber. At a meeting of the board of directors, November 14 at the office of the secretary, George W. Hubbs, who were designated as a membership fee committee, a decision was made to charge as nominal $5 for city members and a special rate of $1 to rural residents. Ronald Hubbs served as secretary in the absence of George W. Hubbs. Among the new ideas for program attraction being advocated by Mrs. Schlador is a group singing of patriotic and Oregon songs.

Special mention was made in respect to three men who had been influential in the work of the Oregon Manufacturers' association, L. G. Clark, responsible for the inspection of the organization, Dan Freeman and George L. Baker.

Property Traded
Hazel Green—The Andrew Shumate's have traded their property here for a 60-acre farm near Prosser, Wash. The Shumates purchased the Royd Hawley place and have lived here about a year. Their nephews, Harold and Charles Rybloom, moved all their furniture in their truck. The Ryblooms and their parents are now located in the Auburn district, having made their home here with the Shumates the past summer.

CASCADE POST OFFICERS ARE GIVEN PLACES

Scio — An open joint meeting of Cascade Post No. 2128, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States and the Auxiliary was held in the post hall in Scio and officers for the ensuing year were installed.

Mrs. Clara Quinn, a department officer was deputized to install for the auxiliary officers for which are as follows: President, Gladys Hoagland; senior vice-president, Charlotte Ernst; junior vice-president, Iola Douglas; secretary-treasurer, Clara Quinn; chaplain, Grace Brunckie; conductress, Sallie J. Perry; patriotic instructor, Martha Enslley; historian, Mary McGowan; guard, Rose Kendie; color bearer, Carrie Blyven; Myrtle Haley; trustee, Carrie Blyven; musician, Dortha McDonald.

Charles Low of Salem officiated as installing officer for the post, the official roster for the following year being as follows: Commander, Hoagland; Hoagland senior vice-commander, Frank S. Perry; junior vice-commander, C. E. Kendie; chaplain, Daniel Cronk; surgeon, Dr. J. C. Booth; officer of the day, Bruce Enslley; historian, Rockefeller White; quartermaster, E. H. Ernst; adjutant, P. W. Schrank.

Richard L. Preston of Roseburg spoke of the merits of the "junior activities program" which was instituted at the recent national convention at Louisville, Ky. Preston is department chairman for Oregon in this movement which has for its basic object the teaching of Americanism and patriotism among the younger people.

Mr. Rank, also of Salem, spoke encouragingly of veterans' interest and characterized Hobart Hoagland, new commander of the Scio post as a "go-getter" who should be loyally supported by all members. Bryan H. Conley, department commander for Oregon gave the keynote address of the evening. He had just returned from a tour of Oregon in company with National Commander James E. Van Zandt, he stated, and has found conditions encouraging from the standpoint of solidarity and determination on the part of various posts. Proposed veterans' legislation was discussed at some length and encouraging progress reported in connection with the adjusted certificate plan. Mrs. Low and Mrs. Ruth Rush of Salem gave brief talks as did also Frank Perry of the Scio community. Both the new commander and the president of the local organizations pledged themselves to work for the best interests of the orders. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Corn Hog Final Check Ups Made

Dallas—Final check-up on the corn-hog association contracts for this county will probably be completed this week, according to J. R. Beck, county agent. This second and last inspection has been comparatively easy, according to Mr. Beck and the men will complete the work very rapidly. As soon as the papers are in, checked and signed, they will be listed and sent to Washington for the final payment. The second payment should be on the way at this time and may be received any day.
