Residents Urged To Buy Seals

We all thrill at news of spectacular heroism, such as flights by airplane to bring serum to isolated people in time for plague, but we are short sighted in seeing heroes and heroines in our own communities.

The story of a local public health nurse was brought to light this week and seemed particularly appropriate during the holiday season when everyone is thinking in terms of helping someone else. Through her noble efforts it was made possible for two children in Marion county to obtain proper protection against tuberculosis. These children, now 12 and 14 years of age, were made orphans several years ago by the death of the parents from tuberculosis. They have lived since with grandparents who have done all they could for them with their limited resources.

This family, because of lack of information and from superstition and old time belief about tuberculosis, had been adamant against any offers of enlightenment as to the modern preventive methods used against the disease. They lived in fear and dread of the inevitable outcome for these two children. The public health nurse, now in this district, could see that the children were being handicapped in many ways by the attitude of the family and the fear that their playmates and school teachers showed. She braved severe criticism and opposition from every side in working her way into the confidence of the children to gain their consent to submit to a health examination.

On Monday of this week an appointment was secured for 4 o'clock in Salem. The family lived quite some distance north of Salem and the nurse's regular work schedule showed her at 9 o'clock that morning, with countless duties to perform. This did not hinder her and she faithfully made both drives, about 200 miles in the storming weather. She stated on getting home at 8 o'clock for her own dinner:

"A dark cloud of long standing seemed to lift from that home when the children burst in exclaiming, 'Grandma, we are all right. We are not sick and, if we go like the doctor and the nurse say, we probably will not get tuberculosis at all.'"

The nurse left them excitedly talking about the store windows, the bright lights of the town, the toys and, best of all, the hot cinnamon buns which were purchased for them.

The public health nursing program is helped along each year by Christmas Seal contributions and it is for just this sort of work that your Christmas Seal money is spent. For those of you who want to see the Christmas spirit extend through the whole year, buy Christmas Seals. "Seals Save Lives."

Baptist Women Entertained

The Woman's Society of the First Baptist church held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. E. J. Ayers. Attractive programs were presented the guests as they entered. Mrs. Floyd Miller had charge of the very interesting program.

The social half hour was enjoyed by the following guests: Mrs. E. C. Newberry, Mrs. Kate White, Mrs. W. Morley, Mrs. P. D. VanAusdell, Mrs. W. L. McLaren, Mrs. W. H. Morley, Mrs. L. G. Prescott, Mrs. W. Cunningham, Mrs. F. M. Hoyt, Mrs. Mattie Clark, Mrs. A. Roethlin, Mrs. C. A. Crawford, Mrs. J. F. Chamberlain, Mrs. P. J. Blessing, Mrs. T. C. Mackey, Mrs. Floyd Miller, Mrs. W. Starkey and those who assisted Mrs. Ayers, Mrs. Mark Skiff, Mrs. James Foster, Mrs. Mary Broer and Mrs. H. A. Cross.

The teachers of the Intermediate department of the Sunday school were hostesses for members of the department and their friends, Tuesday evening in the church parlors. Those enjoying the games program and Christmas tree were Frances Mattson, Ellen Morley, Alice Goffier, Marina Hansen, Loretta Roethlin, Phyllis Morley, Betty Clark, Lois Hoyt, Harla Hansen, Dorothy Fox, Nola Cunningham, Addena Winslow, Eleda Dickson, Verneta Bixel, Danny Morley, Mark Hatfield, Junior Bixel, Ralph Hoskins, Bruce Robbins and the hostesses, Mrs. Ruth Engdahl, Mrs. Mae McClellan, Mrs. Beth Van Ausdell, Mrs. Lucile Starkey and Hugh Adams.

The Crescendo club of Salem high school held its Alumni Day meeting Thursday in the school building. Special features were piano solo by Lola Burton; violin solo, Jeanette Scott, and piano number by Doryce Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wade are being felicitated upon the birth of a daughter in Seattle on December 16. Mrs. Wade will be remembered as Miss Bertha Schutz of Pratum.

Zontians Have Smart Luncheon

Salem Zontians met in one of the smaller dining rooms at the Marion hotel Thursday for luncheon. A charming Christmas scene, red and green candles and holly, formed the centerpiece.

Covers were placed for Miss Helen Yockey, Miss Hazel Cook, Miss Dorothy Pearce, Miss Helen Louise Crosby, Miss Helen Barrett, Miss Alene Phillips, Miss Kathryn Gunnell, Miss Nellie Schwab, Miss Barbara Barnes, Mrs. Margaret Rosecrans, Mrs. Ora F. McIntyre, Mrs. Winifred Herrick, Mrs. Roberta Butler, Mrs. La Verne Winkler, and Mrs. Belle Niles Brown.

Mrs. Margaret Rosecrans will entertain the group at its monthly treasury evening next Thursday. A talk and display of madonnas will be a feature of the evening.
