neys called the Marion County Relief office yesterday and asked to be given a little girl for whom to buy toys. A junior high school girl is without shoes. She has a 14 year old brother who has a tremendous yen for a chemical set. That's the one thing he wants to be—a chemist. Their father is dead; their mother is working, but for a very low wage. So far they have not taken help from anyone. A kind friend came to the Journal office today and told us about them. Will you help to see that these growing youngsters have the things they want—size 5 shoes, a chemical set—and some cookies and Christmas candies?

Four very small children will be pretty much alone with their mother this holiday. Their father is quartered in a CCC camp. They need toys and sweaters. Their mother is ill and a blanket or so for her would be appreciated.

Fourteen persons, including grandparents, daughters and their husbands and six small children under 12 years old, live in a 5 room house. Without work this family has stood the gaff so far. But Christmas is a different matter. There have to be trinkets for the youngsters. Each and everyone of these children is sweet . . . but the little 12 year old girl, we'll call her Nancy, is a honey.

With a spiritual face and classic features she'd made you want to give until it hurts! Let's get some gadgets for these youngsters.

The children aren't the only ones in want. There's an old couple, trusting and a little doddering, who came to the attention of the relief office not long ago. They never complain, but Grandma needs "shoesies" and Grandpa needs new overalls. We suggest that they have some nuts and candy sent along, too. This old couple gets a childish delight out of living.

An old German couple who live in a spick 'n' span cottage would also stand a remembrance. Speaking very broken English and with a twinkle in her eye, Frau explained that she needed some shoes and a house dress or two—if the size is a 44! And Herr needs overalls. He still wants to work when he can get it.

J. H. Lauterman of the Argo hotel called today asking for 10 youngsters for dinner at 3:30 o'clock Christmas afternoon. A person who labeled himself the "town grouch" but who's really one of the grandest, most public spirited men in town, presented the "Adopt a Kiddie" fund with a sizeable check, as have many more who want to be left out of the picture.

There are only two or three days left for you to adopt a child. And how they need adopting! Let's put the good old "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men" spirit into this Christmas, by being certain that our youngsters are happy, well fed and clothed . . . and confident in their trust in Santa Claus!

16 CHILDREN MADE HAPPY

Sixteen children, all from the homes of unfortunate parents, received clothing sufficient to keep them warm through the winter months, toys, candy and a big turkey dinner Thursday night through the generosity of the Salem Lions club which held its annual Christmas party in the main dining room of the Marlon hotel.

Members of the club were made responsible in the matter of providing presents for the youngsters. The response was all that could be wished for and each boy and girl was taken home shortly after 8 o'clock, accompanied by a huge box filled with a generous assortment of clothing and other gifts. Seven additional children will be taken care of before Christmas, Dr. Carl W. Emmons, chairman of the committee announced.

Following the party for the children which included a visit from Santa Claus, Lions and their wives remained for an evening of cards and dancing.
