

COUP TO SHOW STRENGTH BACK OF PRESIDENT

Washington, Jan. 21 (AP)—A smashing demonstration of administration power was planned by leaders today as a signal to the country that President Roosevelt would have the full backing of congress in his legislative program for the present session.

This strategy, consisting of a series of operations with the house leadership holding a tight rein over its membership, was designed to dispel any feeling that congress might run rampant and enact "wild" or "half-baked" legislation.

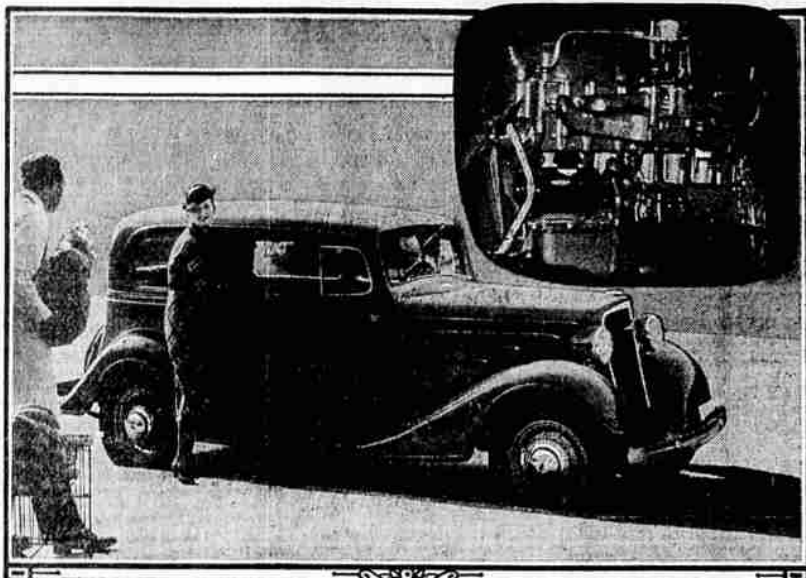

The guiding hand of Vice-President John N. Garner, past master at such parliamentary maneuvering, was seen in the congressional setting for this week. Garner has been active in timing legislation for the newly born congress and his advice and counsel are playing an important part in the legislative planning.

House leaders planned to pass, with a minimum of debate and under a strict ruling prohibiting unwanted amendments, the administration's $4,800,000,000 work relief bill. The administration has insisted this legislation be approved without restricting the use of the money to certain projects.

The desire is to demonstrate to various blocs which have begun agitation for the Townsend plan, silver legislation or wildly inflationary measures that the administration has power and intends to use it.

Coupled with these considerations is a measure of self-protection to members of the house who are pledged to support the proposal for cash payment of the soldiers' bonus. Leaders plan to let the house pass the bonus bill, counting upon the senate to prevent its being enacted over the president's veto.

Public Acclaims New Standard Chevrolet

Incorporating 93 major improvements, the 1935 Standard Chevrolet received a warm reception from the motoring public when it was presented last week. The New Standard is the lowest priced six-cylinder car in the world, offering high powered performance, a gliding ride, economy and the usual Chevrolet quality manufacturing. One of the major improvements in the New Standard is the use of the 1935 Master De Luxe motor for its power-plant, giving the Standard remarkable acceleration and top speed.

PENSION PLAN FORCES GATHER

Advocates of the Townsend old age pension plan were heading for the statehouse today to be heard in an open meeting before the house committee on unemployment as legislators prepared to start the second week's work of the 38th assembly.

The house has before it a memorial urging congress to enact the Townsend plan.

Several hundred persons were reported coming from Portland and around the state to the public hearing, called by Nanny Wood Honeyman, D. Mult., chairman of the unemployment committee.

In the legislature, the administration's program, which failed to pass the first week, although Governor Martin in special messages to both houses accompanying his first four bills urged immediate adoption of the emergency legislation, was to start finding its way out of committee today.

A sub-committee of the administration and reorganization group was to report on House Bill No. 1, which would place the money of all state departments, including self-sustaining agencies, in the general fund.

The ways and means committee was to take up the planning commission bill again tomorrow.

The county unit school bill will have a public hearing Wednesday. Budgetary control for the government was sent back to administration and reorganization by the house Saturday.

RIFLE WOUND FATAL TO COYOTE HUNTER

Oregon City, Ore., Jan. 21 (AP)—E. Arnold Holliday, 38-year-old oil company salesman, died in the Oregon City hospital Sunday from the effects of a rifle wound in his leg and five hours of exposure to the cold.

Holliday was hunting coyotes in company with a friend, Walter S. Gorbett, when the accident occurred. Gorbett reported he saw something move and, thinking it was a coyote, fired. The bullet from his 35-caliber rifle struck Holliday in the left leg.

The wounded man was exposed to the cold for nearly five hours while Gorbett made his way to the nearest settlement and telephoned for aid. Upon his arrival here, Holliday made a statement in which he exonerated Gorbett of all blame in connection with his injury. He declared the shooting was accidental.

FARMERS FACE BETTER TIMES

Montreal (AP)—The Canadian farmer definitely is headed towards better times.

Such is the message just issued here by the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Reviewing the farmer's comeback, the bank declares his income has increased, his costs kept down, he is producing less grain and livestock, and more milk and products of diversified farming.

It emphasized that the drive back to prosperity is a slower process than the slump that struck agriculture such a blow in 1928 and that there was no sign of recovery until 1932.

Covering the period from 1926 to the third quarter of this year, the bank shows graphically how Canadian farm income soared from $410,000,000 in 1926 to about $480,000,000 in 1927, the peak year, then tumbled year by year until, in 1932, it totalled less than $150,000,000.

Last year and this the farmer has taken in more money than since 1931, and may near 1932 totals before the year is over.

GLATT RESIGNS FROM GROWERS

Woodburn—The board of directors of the Woodburn Fruitgrowers Cooperative association met Saturday afternoon at the city hall for organization and election of officers.

Ray Glatt, who has held the office of secretary-manager for the past 12 years, since the organization of the cooperative in 1922, tendered his resignation on account of the pressure of his other business. It was accepted with regret and Tim Bjelland was elected to succeed him as secretary. The position of manager has not been filled.

G. L. Davis was elected president of the association and Ford Kinas was elected vice president. Davis was also chosen to represent the loganberry growers on certain code hearings.

Glatt returned Friday night from Santa Rosa, Calif., where he attended the federal hearing on a proposed hop marketing agreement which was held in that city January 16.

FRENCH ATTIRE IN FULL DRESS FOR U. S. SHOWS

Paris (AP)—The best dressed crowds here today are found at the first nights of American movies.

Invitations to "free" first nights read, "Full dress de rigueur," and it is obeyed to the letter. It is well nigh impossible to force the French into formal attire for the theater, the opera and many other regular formal occasions. However, when it comes to American movies they are more than willing to honor the celebrities, be it Laurel and Hardy, Dietrich or Mae West.

Sacha Guitry recently sent out invitations for his new play, "The New Testament," and made this appeal: "We hope our friends will do for our play what they do regularly for an American movie; namely, put on full dress." A few did. Many did not. The invitations which bear an edict rather than a request seem to get the best results.

This unexpected aid from Hollywood, therefore, has been a great impetus to a movement here which is working for greater elegance in masculine dress.

The leading exponents are Andre de Fouquieres, Jean-Gabriel Domergue and Abel Hermant. The committee does not aim at anything exotic or novel in men's tailoring, but merely wants to encourage men to wear clothing appropriate for the occasion at which they appear.

One of the ideas launched by the organization is that every theater should have a full dress evening once a month and no one should be admitted who does not conform, sartorially, to the request.

TOBOGGAN VICTIM GETS BROKEN HIP

Woodburn—Harian Nelson, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Saren Nelson, a freshman in Woodburn high school, suffered the fracture of his left leg while tobogganing on the Ramage hill east of town Saturday afternoon. He was taken to the Salem general hospital where he will be in a cast for several months.

Woman Robbed of Savings by 3 Men

Hamilton, O. (AP)—The life savings, $5,000, of Miss Mary Gerber, 64, were taken by three bandits who forced their way into her farm home near here by posing as state liquor officers.

Once inside the house the trio tied up Miss Gerber and two cousins, John, 58, and Andrew, 54, and then forced another cousin, Lucy Gerber, 66, to show them the hiding place of the money, which was in a satchel and tin can in Miss Gerber's bedroom.

STATE LOTTERY TO KEEP DOWN NEVADA TAXES

Reno, Nev. (AP)—A state lottery to raise additional income and avoid imposition of extra taxes, may be urged upon the legislature of Nevada, where all types of gambling are permitted except lotteries.

At present, lotteries are forbidden in the state by constitutional prohibition. Amendment of the constitution would be necessary before lotteries could operate here.

Such a proposal already has been made by Ed Lauritzen, newly elected state assemblyman. He proposed a board that would be composed of the governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state controller and state printer, be formed to administer a lottery.

The board would determine the amount of the lottery and the number of tickets to be sold, the date of the drawing and the number of prizes, Lauritzen said.

He proposed that the state take as its share of the lottery receipts 35 per cent and the remaining 65 per cent be used for prizes. The first prize would be 80 per cent of the prize money.

Fate of the lottery in Nevada is doubtful. Some legislators claim that because of the constitutional prohibition, it would be difficult to successfully adopt permissive legislation.

Lauritzen in advocating a lottery said money from other states would be brought into Nevada, thereby aiding residents. He claimed this money was necessary to offset losses from declines in the livestock and mining industries, the two principal activities in the state.

Hunters Are Fined

Albany—Ralph Blair and Loyal W. Wilson, were each fined $25 in justice court Saturday after they had pleaded guilty to charges of hunting without licenses. They were arrested Friday near Ford's sawmill by state police. Both were placed in the Linn county jail when they failed to pay their fines.

Silverton—W. C. Doyle of Chehalis, Wash., returned Saturday from an official visit to Silverton. Doyle is Northern Pacific lumber inspector.

Soviet Russia exported more than $150,000,000 in products into the United Kingdom last year.

IF WE DID HARD, PERSPIRE WORK LIKE THAT, PHIL, WE MIGHT BE GUILTY OF "B.O." BUT "WHITE COLLAR" PEOPLE LIKE US — MOOY!

DON'T BE TOO SURE! YOU AND I PERSPIRE A QUART A DAY, EVEN IN WINTER. IT'S BEST TO PLAY SAFE AND USE LIFEBOUY.

WELL, I TOOK HIS ADVICE AND I SURE LIKE LIFEBOUY! SO MUCH LATHER AND I DO FEEL CLEANER I'LL ALWAYS USE IT NOW

WHAT DO YOU KNOW—A DATE WITH ROSE AT LAST! ... SAY, YOU DON'T SUPPOSE LIFEBOUY COULD HAVE ANYTHING TO DO WITH IT?

OLD FELLOW, I THINK IT HAS EVERYTHING TO DO WITH IT!

"B.O." GONE—now girls say "yes" FOR THE FOURTH TIME I'M ASKING YOU TO HAVE DINNER WITH ME AND DANCE

I'VE FALLEN IN LOVE WITH YOUR SMOOTH CLEAR SKIN

MEN ALWAYS FALL FOR A LIFEBOUY COMPLEXION

CLEVER lady! She knows the easy road to complexion loveliness—Lifebouy. For Lifebouy lather is mild and gentle. The most delicate skin thrives on it. It cleanses deeply; gently washes away pore-clogging impurities that make the complexion look dull and cloudy; brings fresh, healthy radiance.

"B.O." a year-round threat Even on cold days we perspire a quart of odoriferous waste. Bathe regularly with Lifebouy—keep "B.O." (body odor) away. Lifebouy lathers freely in hardest water, purifies pores. Its own clean pleasant scent vanishes as you rinse.

MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS IN CAMELS...

"Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

(Signed) B. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY Winston-Salem, North Carolina

SPEAKING OF THE THRILLING SPORT with which his name has so long been associated, Ray Stevens says: "Streaking through an icy bob run at seventy miles an hour—sometimes climbing eighteen or twenty feet up the perpendicular side walls—demands infinite precision, nerves of steel, and unflinching energy! When the last heat has been run, it's mighty comforting to light a Camel. The fatigue and 'let-down' feeling fade away. As my energy is renewed, I enjoy the pleasure of smoking to the full, knowing that Camels never bother my nerves!" (Signed) RAYMOND F. STEVENS, North American Bob-Sled Champion

"WHEN I WENT TO COLLEGE nearly all the girls smoked Camels. I soon found out why. Smoking a Camel when you are tired makes you feel fresher, more alert." (Signed) MARGUERITE OSMUN

"AS A MASTER BUILDER, I have learned that any real work that requires 'push' just naturally calls for Camels. I smoke them all the time. Camels give me new energy and enthusiasm when I'm feeling tired and listless. They never get on my nerves." (Signed) FRAZIER FORMAN PETERS

"ANY ONE WHO GOES IN FOR SPEED SKATING needs an abundant supply of stamina and energy. Camels restore my 'pop' when I've used up my energy. And Camels taste so good, too. For sheer pleasure, there's nothing like a Camel." (Signed) JACK SHEA

"A FACTORY SUPERINTENDENT has a strenuous job. But a Camel gives me new pep when I'm feeling tired—new interest in my work. I'm a steady smoker." (Signed) GEORGE WEBBER

HOW MUCH DID YOU SAVE DURING 1934?

The balance in your savings account today should show a profit on your work for the past year. Perhaps you have made unusual purchases, bought a home or a business, or invested heavily in insurance which took all your surplus cash. But even aside from such investments as these, every person owes it to himself or herself, if possible, to have some cash left at the end of that year's work.

If you are not satisfied with what you have accomplished financially during the past twelve months, why not resolve now to save some part of every pay check during 1935 and deposit this in a savings account where you will be earning interest.
