

MEN'S PROGRAM CLUB FEATURE TURNER GROUP

Turner—The men's contest program was the feature of the March meeting of the Turner community club held in the high school auditorium Monday night. A short business meeting presided over by President Eddie Ahrens preceded the program. The reading of minutes of the last meeting by the secretary, Mrs. Zella Webb, was followed by a report on the Federated community club meeting at Brush College on March 6, by Mrs. Emily Van Santen. The next meeting of the Federated club will be at Eola on March 30.

It was reported that the boys' placebuilding club is badly in need of a suitable place to meet in which they can carry out their building project. Anyone having a suitable place was asked to communicate with E. J. Harrison of the building committee.

Announcement was made that the April meeting will be entertained by the women's contest program. The committee in charge is composed of Mabel Tucker, Mrs. Hester Crume and Mrs. Zella Webb. A box social sponsored by the 4-H club will be held in the high school on April 5 to help raise money to defray the expenses of two 4-H representatives to the summer school at Corvallis.

Following the close of the business meeting the club was led in several songs by Ivan Hadley with Mrs. Hadley at the piano. A novel idea in announcing programs was brought out by Zep, a huge police dog belonging to Eddie Ahrens, acting as master of ceremonies. Before each number Zep would walk sedately out on the stage, stopping long enough in state center to the audience to read a card printed with the title of the next number, carried on the back. The Haymakers orchestra furnished the music for the evening and the first number of the program was by the orchestra composed of Lawrence Robertson, Ray Myers, Charles Clark, Morris and John Baker. Next a vocal duet by the Baker brothers, banjo accompaniment; The Man on the Flying Trapeze, sung by little Calvin Stavinau in costume and with appropriate gestures with Miss Clara Selbens, piano accompanist; accordion solos by Ray Myers; vocal trio by Lowell Hadley, Stanford Prather and Orley Brock with guitar accompaniment; a humorous skit by Donald Riches, Eddie Ahrens, Carl Booth, Arthur Kunkle, Karl Wipper, Russell Denyer and Henry Ahrens entitled "Three Empties Going South," having to do with three hoboes stealing and eating "hot dogs" which made one of their number ill and an emergency operation brought forth a stuffed dog; a final humorous skit by Carl Booth, Russell Denyer, Henry Ahrens and Eddie Ahrens entitled, "A Thrill from Japan" in which the Japanese magician divulged the records of the women of Turner, one of whom was Russell Denyer in disguise. A very presentable skeleton manufactured from various animal bones furnished one of the thrills and the placing of Denver in a cauldron by two red costumed devils to boil down to the proper size which turned out to be a doll thrust into the fork of one of the devil's sticks, completed the evening's entertainment. A small charge of admission for the ladies netted a satisfactory sum and at the women's program the men will be charged a like sum, to be used to defray incidental expenses of the club. The next meeting will be held on the second Monday in April.

War Prevention Is Handsaker's Topic
Silvertown—J. J. Handsaker of Portland, associate secretary of the national council of war, spoke to the student body of the junior high department Monday forenoon at the Eugene Field auditorium. His subject was world peace. Handsaker was a guest of Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Hall Sunday and Monday. He spoke at a program of the churches of Silvertown in a union service Sunday night at the First Christian church.

LAMBRECHTS ENTERTAIN
Stayton—Mr. and Mrs. Jake Lambrecht entertained with a dinner Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Downing and children, Miss Frances Glize, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schmitz and son Cletus, Miss Eunice Temple and the honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Lambrecht and family.

BUY MEHAMA RANCH
Mehama—J. C. Barrows of Grants Pass has bought the 80-acre ranch owned by J. Yantiss just west of Mehama. Yantiss has made extensive remodeling in the house during the time he has lived there. He sold the furniture and farm equipment also. Mr. and Mrs. Barrows with their three sons and Mrs. Barrows' mother will move there within the next 10 days. Mr. and Mrs. Yantiss will move to their place in West Salem, where they formerly lived.

Jefferson—Mrs. Eva Taylor has arrived home from Newport, where she spent a month as the guest of Mrs. L. H. Conklin of Salem. She reports that the weather has been cold and disagreeable.

Aumsville—Mrs. Robert Mountain returned to her home from Salem General hospital where she was critically ill for several days, but little Donald Allen, who is being kept in an incubator will not be able to come for a while yet.

Silvertown—W. A. Wilcox and his brother-in-law are completing a large chicken house on the Wilcox farm near Bridge Creek, this week. Mrs. Wilcox plans to raise several hundred chicks this summer.

Theatre Remodeling Started This Week

Silvertown—Guss Herr is moving his barber shop from the Oak street entrance of the Adams building to the corner of High and North Water street, also in the Adams building, to make way for the remodeling of the theatre entrance to the Palace show house.

Preliminaries to the construction work on the building were begun Monday, Alfred Adams, proprietor, stated that the show would go on during the reconstruction of the theatre building.

DALLAS GARAGE WILL BE BUILT

Dallas—Actual building operations on the John Toews garage and service station which will be located at the southwest corner of Main and Washington streets will be started within the next few days, according to the owner.

All the preparations necessary for the moving of the two-story house now occupying the corner lot have been completed and the house will be moved to its new location, fronting on Washington street, either Wednesday or Thursday.

The new garage building will be set back 25 feet from the Main street sidewalk. The building proper will be 50 by 28. It will be subdivided into four stalls and an office. Immediately adjoining the office will be modern rest rooms for the convenience of patrons of the station.

Special attention has been paid to the facilities for the greasing and repair of trucks requiring overhead clearance. An auxiliary overhead folding door will be provided in the southern stall where general greasing work is to be done. Double folding doors furnish easy access to the repair shop and ample working space is afforded by the elimination of all partitions.

Two gasoline pumps with a concrete driveway and an overhead covering are set out 20 feet from the building. This feature permits pump service and general service without interruption. The curbs on both Main and Washington will be cut down for a distance of 30 feet for approach driveways. The general area of the station will be gravelled and trellis work will be erected on the western and southern boundaries of the station. White, with no trim color will be used throughout on all metal and woodwork.

Farm Home Burned At Independence

Independence—A fire destroyed the farm home on the J. W. Kelley place west of town Monday afternoon. The home was occupied by Earl Gorsline, a renter and all their household effects were removed from the house, including a piano and furniture.

The fire caught from sparks on the roofs and the timely warning of neighbors made it possible to remove the furniture from the burning building. The house was a total loss and only by heroic efforts was the large barn saved. The large oak trees surrounding the house were badly damaged.

Russells Entertain Friends for Cards

Waconda—A group of Waconda people motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Russell at Keizer Saturday evening and enjoyed an evening of cards and music.

Five tables of progressive "500" were in play with high score awarded to Mrs. Allyn Nason and Pearl Patterson and consolation to Mrs. Pearl Patterson and Arthur Goffin.

At the supper hour Mrs. Russell was assisted by her daughter Miss Lorraine Russell and Mrs. C. C. Russell. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Girod, Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Nason, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Goffin, Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Felton, Mr. and Mrs. Julian De Jardin, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Russell, Miss Lorraine Russell, Ware Russell, Miss Russell and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Russell.

WEINERT PLACE LEASED
Lalish Center—Harlan Pearsall has leased the Walter Weinert place here. It was previously reported that Arthur Miller had rented the place but owing to Mrs. Miller's health which made it necessary for them to leave the community the arrangements were cancelled. Letters from the Millers, who are at Bend now report that Mrs. Miller is still seriously ill. They desire to express their appreciation to the people of the community for the kindness extended them during her illness here.

P. T. A. WILL MEET
Scotts Mills—The monthly Parent-Teachers' association meeting will be held Thursday evening in the high school assembly room. Arrangements have been made to have Mrs. Mary L. Pulkerson, county school superintendent, present for the speaker of the evening. The hospitality committee is planning to serve refreshments.

STAYTON HIGH HAS OPERETTA

Stayton—The operetta, "Tulip Time," will be given March 14 and 15 at 8 o'clock in the Stayton high school auditorium. The cast and staff have been working diligently to prepare this musical comedy in a successful way.

The staff members who show themselves capable, dependable, original and resourceful in finding stage properties are as follows: Lewis McRae, electrician; Margaret Kimbrough, costume and decoration; June Keys, business manager; Jerry Wagner, advertising.

The principals of the play are Katinka and Christina, two charming Dutch girls, Vera Burmeister and Lenore Ingles; Ned and Dick, two young college "chaps," who arrive from America, Earl Wright and Marvin Lacy; McSpindle, the professor of botany from America also, Roe Crabtree; Anna, Christina's aunt, Zephia Smith; the burgomaster, Hendrick Van Ooster, Raymond Berger; Hans and Fritz, two country clowns, Darrel Wright and Harry Stupka.

There are also three choruses which add much to the atmosphere namely, Dutch, sailor and American choruses.

The operetta, "Tulip Time," is one which contains humor as well as pathos.

GIRLS ARE WINNERS IN CLUB CONTESTS

Silvertown—The Waldo Hills community club will honor the unmarried girls of the community at the next session which will be the regular April meeting with a 7 o'clock dinner in honor of the young women furnishing the best program in a four-way contest.

The former entertainers were put on by the bachelor men, the married men and the married women with the girls winning out in Friday's program.

Miss Janet Comstock was mistress of ceremonies and announced the following sections: a whistling solo by Delora Doerflinger; readings by Phyllis Jean Haberly and Janet Comstock; a light-rope comedy by Marjorie Hillman; piano solo, Helen Goodknecht; a play, "New Wives for Old," with the character parts taken by Winnifred Riches as Rirum; Edna Goodknecht as Hiram's wife; Edith Knight as a matchmaker; Martha Goodknecht as a Spanish girl; Lois Riches as a widow and Dorothy Neufanger as a Dutch wife; a pantomime with Lois Riches as soloist, of "Incidents of a Girl's Life."

Frank Bowler and Theodore Riches auctioneered at the sale of pies which made a profit to the club of more than $15.

Members present were Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Charbonan, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Williams.

Talk with Lincoln Has Recollections for Man Living in Monmouth

Monmouth—The following story printed in last week's edition of the Monmouth Herald was taken from the Bloomington, Ill., Daily Pantagraph by George W. Marvel of this city.

Waynesville, Ill.—How Abraham Lincoln, when he was stumping Illinois in 1858, paused to drink cider and eat gingerbread with two small boys in a food stand at Atlanta is related here by Braxton Marvel, now 86, one of the small boys. Marvel was born October 1, 1848 and has resided here since 1882. He has been a farmer, grocer, a grain merchant and lastly until his retirement two or three years ago, janitor of the grade school building.

"As a child he said he looked more or less upon Lincoln as a national hero and learned much of his debates with Stephen A. Douglas through his three brothers and his father who said followed the issues of those debates closely. He continued:

"My brother 15 and I, then 11, were promised we could go to Atlanta to hear Lincoln speak on the Fourth of July if we did certain work. We did the work, won our trip and at 9 a. m. July 4 we were ready to start. Bills had been posted saying Mr. Lincoln would speak at Turner's grove, then about a mile and a half from Atlanta. Each of us rode a large draft horse. My brother had the saddle and I had sheep skin and feed in a sack. We each had 10 cents for our lunch.

"Arriving about noon, we fed our horses and looked for lunch. We saw a sign at a lunch counter which advertised a glass of cider and a piece of gingerbread for five cents. I laid my 10 cents down. After our lunch we took seats in the second row from the front directly in front of where the speaker would stand.

"The time for the program soon came. Sylvester Strawn was the chairman for the day. He and Mr. Lincoln came upon the stand from the rear door. Several of the old persons were already on the platform. There were a few moments of handshaking. Then, after the usual procedure, Mr. Strawn and Mr. Lincoln stepped forward. Mr. Strawn laid his hand on Mr. Lincoln's left shoulder and said: 'I want to introduce to this large audience Honest Abe, the rail-splitter, the next president of this nation of ours.'

"Mr. Lincoln stepped forward to the platform. Everyone was perfectly still for a few minutes. I cannot describe the feeling, that was present among these people. It seemed that there was something on every one's mind. His first words were that 'a divided house can never stand, in union there is strength.'

"After the speaking we still had 10 cents so we went to the same stand and bought two glasses of cider and some gingerbread. We were waited upon and had just taken off our hats when Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Strawn came by the stand.

"Mr. Lincoln said, 'Boys, how is the cider and gingerbread?' My brother answered 'Just fine.' 'We were standing about four or five feet apart. They came up between us. Mr. Lincoln on my left and Mr. Strawn on my brother's right. The waiter asked what they would have and Mr. Lincoln told him, 'The same as these boys.'

"The waiter soon brought the cider and bread. Then Mr. Lincoln began to ask me questions, and my name. He said 'I had my eye on you boys while I was speaking. You paid good attention to what I was saying.'

"That was a relief to me. When he said he had watched us I wondered if I had done something that wasn't right. He seemed to enjoy my company and when we separated he took my hand with one of his and laid the other on my head and said 'Good-by, boy.'

"That day seems but a short time ago."

Scotts Mills—Mrs. R. F. Shoemaker, secretary of the United Christian Missionary society has been away for the past two weeks attending meetings held at various places along the Oregon coast.

Studio Opened

Silvertown—A Priscilla Meisinger music studio has been opened at 108 West Main street with classes and individuals receiving instruction on Thursdays of each week. Assisting instructors to Mrs. Meisinger are Miss Hazel McElroy, supervisor; Elmer Tandy, assistant supervisor; Albert Garrett as field man and formerly of Silvertown as instructor. Students will be accepted at any time for lessons and orchestra work.

Silvertown—Mr. and Mrs. Moss and their daughter, Mrs. Clara Solle drove to Hood River for a visit over the week-end with the family of their son, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Starr and new daughter, Patricia Rae, who arrived at the Starr home Thursday, February 28.

Silvertown—The display of quilts and fancy work at the T. M. Lukens store, sponsored by the Thimble club of the Neighbors of Woodcraft is proving to be so popular that the entries will be given space in the store until Thursday of this week.

The quilts, coverlets and linen pieces of many years are creating the most interest. Since Saturday's account of a cotton bedspread 192 years old and a linen sampler of 107 years, other articles have appeared.

Mrs. A. W. Green entered a salt cellar more than 70 years old presented to Mrs. Green from her grandmother, Sarah Davis of Promise City, Iowa, who in turn had it from her mother. Mrs. Green also entered a spray of flowers fashioned from samples of hair from the members of the family of several generations ago. This was made by an aunt of Mrs. Green, Louisa Kaster of Natoma, Kan.

A Mayflower quilt, exhibited Monday by Mrs. Elzada Binkley, which was 57 years old and made by her mother. Ninety-five entries have been made with near ninety exhibitors. The exhibit was not planned for prizes, just for the pleasure of the public.

BUSINESS UPGRADE SEEN BY MINISTER

Dallas—Rev. George W. Bruce, pastor of the Methodist church, returned Monday evening from a trip to Cincinnati, Ohio, where he was a delegate to the council of cities of the Methodist Episcopal church. The council of cities is a gathering of Methodist men for the purpose of studying social, economic, moral and religious conditions in the cities of the United States in an effort to better apply the program of the church to these various conditions. Methodist ministers were brought to this gathering from every state in the union and sat for three days in council and study.

Enroute Rev. Bruce spent some time in Denver, Kansas City, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Chicago, Sioux City and Omaha. In most of the places visited the merchants reported business on the upgrade and everywhere there seemed an optimistic attitude concerning the economic conditions. The farmers of northwest Iowa where Dr. Bruce visited four days with his brothers and sisters, are getting the best prices for their hogs and cattle that they have received since 1929.

At the services in the Methodist church next Sunday morning Rev. Bruce is going to tell of his experience on this trip and give a report of the council of cities.

Thompson Honored On Birthday Date

Silvertown—The relatives of Cuyler Thompson and Mrs. J. M. Clancy, Thompson's aunt, surprised them with a birthday party Sunday afternoon and evening at the home of Thompson's mother, Mrs. Christine Thompson on West Main street.

Thompson returned home from Seattle Friday having finished his four years of enlistment in the U. S. navy. Sunday was the occasion of his 21st birthday anniversary.

Present were the two honor guests, Thompson and Mrs. Clancy, J. M. Clancy, Mrs. Christine Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Thompson and Marvin and Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Lund, grandparents of Thompson.

Independence—Mrs. Charles Stidd of Portland is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Walker this week. She was formerly Miss Beth Kitchum, a sister of Mrs. Walker and daughter of Dr. E. L. Ketchum, a pioneer doctor of Independence.

Pratum Missionary Society In Session

Central Howell—The members of the Missionary society of the Pratum Mennonite church met at the home of Mrs. H. P. Fallesen for their last meeting. Devotions were led by their pastor, Rev. J. M. Franz, with Mrs. Franz presiding at the business meeting. Sewing occupied the members during the afternoon. Members present were the Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Franz, Mesdames Schroeder, Will Lichty, Kraebill, Will Nafziger, Merryman and son Jerry, Brunner, Will Roth, Sr., John Roth, Jr., Welly, Steffen and Ellen and guests, Mrs. John Tweed and grandson Johnny, Mrs. John Lauderback and the hosts, Mrs. Paulsen and Jay.

LEGION WOMEN SEEKING BOOKS

Silvertown—The women of the American Legion auxiliary are making a campaign during the week for books and magazines to donate to the city library. The subject of the Pacific northwest and the Oregon country is stressed for material as the call for this out-numbers all others among the younger readers.

Mrs. James Search is president of the auxiliary. She urges all residents who have Geographics or other used travel magazines that they would like to donate, to notify Mrs. Lee Austin or herself, and arrangements will be made to collect them.

Mrs. Austin is chairman of the community service committee which is the scheme for the month of March, and the members are specializing on library donations.

The Monday evening, March 18, meeting of the auxiliary is given over to a book shower as a portion of the regular program.

April will be designated as child welfare month.

Musician To Enter Portland Contest

Silvertown—Miss Anna Dreier, Silvertown song writer and orchestra leader will enter a contest at the Paramount theatre in Portland at the Friday matinee in competition for some valuable prizes, among which are a piano and a diamond ring.

A personal letter from the Paramount orchestra leader, Hermie King, received during the week assured Miss Dreier of a place on the program of musicians.

Miss Dreier plans to go to Portland Thursday as a guest at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Schell for several days.

Foreman Of Camp Injured By Log

Silvertown—Leonard W. Graham of Carson, Wash., son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Graham of Silvertown has been in the St. Vincent's hospital at Portland for a week. His mother was with him from Thursday until Monday.

Graham sustained an injury while employed as foreman in a CCC camp by being struck by a log. No bones show fracture. His trouble seems to be severe bruises and internal injuries. He has suffered intensively.

Graham's wife is in Portland at the home of her sister, Mrs. P. O. Hovde. Mrs. Will Graham was also entertained at the Hovde home while she was in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Graham will visit their son Sunday.

JUNIOR CLASS GIVES COMEDY FRIDAY NIGHT

Woodburn—"The Patsy," a three-act comedy by Barry Connors, will be presented in the high school auditorium March 15 by the junior class. This play was produced originally at the Booth theater in New York and was a real success. It is the first junior play given at the high school for some years and if diligent practice coupled with good acting counts for anything, it will be a fine production. Miss Barbara Reed is directing the play.

The play concerns Patricia Harrington, a girl who, as the youngest of the family, receives all the blame when things go wrong, and must remain in the background while her elder sister is shown off to advantage. How Patsy asserts her independence, and how she reaches ultimate happiness, makes an interesting story, with much comedy throughout.

Floris Nelson has the lead, as the Patsy, and Russell Guis as Tony Anderson, a young man, plays opposite her. Other characters are: Pop Harrington, George Racette; Mrs. Harrington, Mary Jane Shaw; Grace Harrington, Hilda Trullinger; Billy Caldwell, Norman Seethoff; Francis Patrick O'Flaherty, Kenneth Gallagher; Sadie Buchanan, Vivian; Trip Busby, Bob Beckman.

Prizes are being offered to the students selling the most tickets. A fountain pen and pencil set, a box of chocolates, a pair of silk hose, a jar of cold cream, a silk necktie, canned goods, and compact are among the awards offered. The tickets sell at 25c for adults, 15c for children and 10c extra for reserved seats which may be secured at the Moore and Beers Drug store. A general admission ticket with 10c may be turned in at the store for the reserved seat tickets.

The newly organized girls' quartet will sing between acts, directed by Howard Miller. Muriel Beckman will accompany on the piano.

Posters have been made by high school students, prizes being awarded for the best. Miss Thelma Stephens is in charge of this part of the publicity.

Vivian Cowan acts as business manager of "The Patsy"; her assistants being Vera Jean Huber and Rosemary Corey. Stage manager is Robert Higgins, with Bob Beckman and Hugh Boyle as assistants. Jack Baldwin is carpenter and Dale Ashland electrician. Other members of the executive staff are: wardrobe mistress, Bonnie Lee Pfaffinger, assisted by Hazel Trullinger, Coralle Higgins, Barbara Jensen; property manager, Ruth Ballweber, assisted by Hubert Seely and Myrtle Martin; prompter, Edna Shrock; poster, Miss Thelma Stephens; makeup, Miss Helen Allen.

Classes Popular

Waconda—Work in the SERA school, held evenings at the Eldridge school house, is reported as progressing nicely with a very good attendance. The dramatic art class has received the books for their new play, "The Time of His Life," and the cast has been selected. The music class is taking chorus work, practicing on several popular songs. A series of debates will be held in the economic problems class for the next three weeks.
