POSTOFFICE AT STAYTON GETS FINE QUARTERS

Stayton—Following the announcement last month by the postmistress, Mrs. Grace Nebert of the Stayton postoffice of the consolidation of the two Stayton routes and the plans to move the office into new headquarters, patrons and the general public will be pleased to know that Monday morning, April 15 the office will be open for business in the new quarters of the bank building, Main and Ida streets. A substantial partition has been built separating this room from the quarters occupied by the state banking department's representative, and provides a roomy lobby and office room space of about 25 by 55 feet.

The office will be closed after 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning, thus affording the time necessary to make the move possible. The boxes have all been repaired and reconditioned and the office and all equipment with the added floor space will be far more convenient than in the old quarters. The location is ideal, situated on the Main street with easy access from all points, having front and alley entrances.

After 20 years of service to patrons of Stayton route 2, Leo J. Rock, carrier, is being transferred to Salem route 4. His route here will be consolidated with Stayton route 1 and Floyd C. Crabtree will be the only carrier out of the Stayton postoffice. Monday will be the last day of Rock's service from this office and he will take up his work at the Salem office May 1.

NEW SETTLERS TO RECEIVE WELCOME

Rosedale—So many settlers from the drought stricken areas of the middle west have been pouring into the Red Hills, that the Rosedale church is having "Open house" April 19 at 7:30 o'clock. Every resident of the surrounding territory is invited to attend this get-acquainted program. Those having moved into the district during the past year will be honor guests for the affair.

Albert Brownlee will lead the community singing, Chester A. Hadley, general superintendent of the Preads church in Oregon, Washington and Idaho, will speak on "What We are Doing in the Northwest," a talk, "Our Beliefs," will be given by Edgar D. Sims superintendent of Friends in Marion county, and Milo Clifton Ross, minister to the local congregation, will speak briefly on the significance of Good Friday.

Games and refreshments will follow in the basement, with Mrs. W. B. Hoffnell, Mrs. T. D. Trick, Mrs. Bert L. Hamilton, Paul Cammack and Milton Bing in charge.

HOPS ARE CULTIVATED

Bethany—The hop yards of this section are in need of cultivation. The winter was so mild that weeds grew freely and the recent wet weather has hindered activities. Work will begin as soon as the ground is dry.

Evans Valley—Members of the Silverton Hills community club were program guests of the local club last night. An entertainment was furnished. Supper was in charge of Mrs. Gabriel Herigstad, Mrs. William Balch and Mrs. Oscar Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Welter Hosts At Dinner

Stayton—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Welter were hosts at dinner Sunday honoring Edwin Welter on his birthday anniversary. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ezel and family, Teddy and Barrie Menden, Frank Welter, Louise Beaugard of Monmouth, Esther Ruef, Gus Minden, Herman Claussen, Don Sturdevan and Ray Welter, both of Eugene, Vivian Welter of Salem, Earl Lawrence, Marguerite and Harry Welter, the guest of honor, Edwin Welter and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Welter.

PLAN MADE TO GET UNIFORMS FOR SCOUT LADS

Stayton—Plans for assisting all members of the Stayton Boy Scout troop to obtain uniforms were discussed at the meeting of the troop committee held at the Frey & Ingalls garage Thursday night. Members of the committee present were J. L. Jordan, Ward Inglis, Robert Ross, George Duncan, Dave John and Virgil Turl.

The plan is that the boys will earn the money for the uniforms through doing odd jobs, and the committee is calling upon the local people to provide such jobs as possible. Those having odd jobs are asked to notify any members of the committee. The committee discussed troop finances and selected Dave John and Bob Ross to make a canvass for subscriptions. The funds to be raised are necessary to carry on the scouting program. In order to avoid any misunderstanding it was announced that this campaign is not in any way connected with the trip which two members of the troop will make to the Scout jamboree at Washington, D. C. These boys will pay their own way. They are Mathieu Porrette and Perry Shelton.

THIRD DIVIDEND IS ORDERED PAID

Independence—A third dividend of 10 per cent on original deposits in the commercial department of the now defunct Farmers' State bank of Independence has been ordered paid on April 10, according to notice given this week by A. A. Schramm, state superintendent of banks. This dividend will put in circulation again $13,200 and is being mailed to approximately 500 depositors. Liquidation of the bank which has been in process since February, 1932, now totals 90 per cent on savings deposits and with this payment coming up will total about 40 per cent on commercial deposits.

Assembly Program

Monmouth—The Normal school personnel is looking forward to an entertaining assembly program on Monday morning, April 15, when the Normal school quartet, composed of Frank Adams, Leonard Gustafson, Lewis Douglas and Robert Graham, will sing a group of songs. SOIL EROSION CONTROL WILL BE EXPLAINED

Silverton—The Silverton chamber of commerce speaker for the meeting Wednesday will be Clyde Walker, associate professor of agricultural engineering of the Oregon State college, Corvallis. His theme will be "Erosion Control" and the talk will be illustrated.

This meeting is planned by Warren E. Crabtree, chairman of the agricultural committee of the forum and is especially for the rural people of the Silverton and neighboring communities. Refreshments will be served free to the visitors following the program. This session will be at the Modern Woodman hall and will begin at 8 o'clock. The Four Norsemen, including the three Almqvist brothers and Thorildson, will contribute several vocal selections. Walker will give illustrations by use of film strip showing damage caused by erosion in different parts of the United States and will give a description of the work of the federal soil erosion projects at Athens and at Pullman, Wash. With a group of students, Walker has recently returned from these projects.

Comments on erosion control in the Willamette valley will be made in general with the individual to apply them to his own special problem, and will offer personal observations and ideas on what the probable future development of soil erosion control will be.

SCHOOL CHILDREN GUESTS AT PARTY

Lyons—Mrs. E. D. Crabtree entertained the school children of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades between 4 and 6 o'clock and the seventh and eighth grades between 7 and 10 o'clock Thursday afternoon and evening honoring a birthday anniversary of her daughter, Clea Maria on her eleventh birthday. PTA SESSION AT SCOTTS MILLS

Scotts Mills—A large attendance was present at the Parent Teachers meeting held Thursday evening and called by the president, Mrs. May Dimick. It was decided to have a screen made to use for school purposes. Mrs. E. A. Doolittle volunteered to paint the scene on it. A committee of L. W. Magee, John Buchanan and A. W. Woodward was appointed to get a radio by the next meeting in May, if satisfactory to use in the various school rooms. Officers placed in nomination for the coming year by the committee were Mrs. L. W. Magee, president; Mrs. E. S. Jackson, vice president; Mrs. John Buchanan, secretary, and Mrs. W. C. Mills, treasurer.

Following the business meeting John Buchanan, dressed in female attire, conducted an old fashion school. A number present were dressed in old fashion clothing and some as children and took part in the program. Numbers were called by the teacher, and included: piano solos, W. F. Green; violin solos, Arthur Rich; accordion solos, Albert Rich; harmonica numbers, Young Inel; vocal solo, Mrs. O. H. Brougher; vocal duet, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Shoemaker, and a number of short pieces recited by the old fashioned pupils.

A feature of the program was the singing of "Old Spinning Wheel" by Miss Mildred Rich, while Mrs. J. A. Dale demonstrated the spinning on her spinning wheel brought from Norway several years ago. It was given to her by her grandmother when she was three years old. The exact age of the wheel is not known but dated 1833 when last painted.

Following the program an antique display was held in the intermediate grade room. An admission of five cents was charged, bringing $3.85 for the evening.

Silverton Hills—Rev. H. A. Mills has returned from a several weeks' visit with the family of his brother in Idaho where he assisted with evangelistic services.
