Roseburg, Ore., June 21 (AP)—A raid by state and county police officers at daybreak today resulted in the arrest of five commercial fishermen at Scottsburg. Those arrested, and charged with fishing in closed waters, were R. G. Andrews of Yonkers, Sylvester Downs of Drain, I. G. Miller of Scottsburg, Harold Ackerman of Scottsburg, and John Malcolm of Drain. Six nets and three boats were seized for evidence and the court will be asked to confiscate the fishing gear.

The officers, leaving Roseburg at 2 a.m. today, reached Scottsburg before daybreak, and, according to their report, were in hiding when the fishermen took their nets from the river above the highway bridge at Scottsburg, this section of the river being six miles above the commercial deadline. The fishermen were arrested as they doctored with their fish.

Interstate Bridge Project Opposed Astoria, Ore., June 21 (AP)—Judge Guy Boyington, now en route home from Washington, D. C., where he has been active in attempting to secure legislation favorable to the proposed interstate bridge across the Columbia river here, has wired Astoria friends that unexpected opposition to the program had developed. Judge Boyington said the house sub-committee was opposed to an amendment which would authorize an Oregon-Washington bridge board of trustees with power to issue project bonds. The senate already has passed the amendment.

KARL K. KITCHEN, COLUMNIST DIES New York, June 21 (AP)—Karl K. Kitchen, newspaper columnist and author, died today of a streptococcal infection and pneumonia.

Born in Cleveland, O., March 2, 1885, Kitchen was educated at Cornell university. His column for many years was a feature of the New York Evening World, and later of the New York Sun. He wrote two books, "The Night Side of Europe" and "After Dark in the War Capitals."

In recent years he traveled much in Europe, writing for magazines. He was with Douglas Fairbanks abroad and acted as an intermediary between the actor and Mary Pickford when their estrangement became public.

Cofferdam Holds DURING FLOOD PERIOD Bonneville, Ore., June 21 (AP)—Engineers said yesterday that the madly-whirling Columbia river, at freshet stage, has left no hint of its power on the main channel cofferdam now more than 10 feet below the surface. Excavation within the cofferdam for the main supply spillway dam was halted when the river began its usual spring rampage. Work on this portion of the project is expected to be resumed in August.

Engineers saw cofferdamming the main channel of the roaring Columbia constitutes the most difficult task of its kind ever attempted.

ORGANIZE FOR TAX PROGRAM

Washington, June 21 (AP)—Senate liberals began a movement today to keep congress in session "all summer, if necessary" to put through President Roosevelt's new wealth tax program. More than 20 senators were said to have signed a declaration to that end. Senator LaFollette (Prog. Wis.) and Borah (R., Idaho), and others were the leaders in the drive. Late in the day they were said to have members on both republican and democratic sides of the aisle lined up behind the move. Democratic leaders have indicated the program, or most of it, would go over until next session. LaFollette lost an attempt in the finance committee yesterday to incorporate some of the new taxes in the house resolution extending for one year about $500,000,000 of nuisance levies expiring June 30. He announced he would renew his efforts on the floor when the resolution comes up, probably tomorrow.

MANAGING EDITOR OF PAPER BEATEN Lorain, O., June 21 (AP)—Frank Malloy, managing editor of the Lorain Journal, where a controversy between editorial employees and the management is in progress, was attacked and beaten as he entered the newspaper plant today. Malloy said he was attacked by a number of men, none of whom he recognized, as he attempted to get past a picket line. Malloy said a number of mechanical employees were intimidated as they entered the plant. Members of the Lorain unit of the American Newspaper Guild said some of their number had been discharged recently from the paper because of Guild activity. Malloy said the discharges were not due to Guild activity but an economy move.

PORTLAND YOUTH HANGED AT FOLSOM Folsom Prison, Cal., June 21 (AP)—Aldrich Welsford Lutz, 19-year-old Portland, Ore., dairy worker, who begged for death, was hanged on the gallows today for the murder of Frank D. Angermeier, 52, of Dunsmuir. The trap was sprung at 10:02 a. m. and the youth was pronounced dead at 10:14. Resigned to his fate and apparently willing to die because he killed a man who befriended him, Lutz made no last-minute plea for clemency. He previously had notified Gov. Frank F. Merriam that he preferred to die and did not want any state of execution. The state supreme court denied his appeal and the governor declined to intervene.

MARTIAL LAW IN OMAHA CALLED OFF Omaha, Neb., June 21 (AP)—Martial law in Omaha was ended officially at 3 p. m. today when Gov. R. L. Cochran signed a proclamation restoring control of the city to civil authorities. The proclamation was signed as the 1,250 troops who had occupied the city since Saturday night, poured out of Omaha in special trains and trucks. Troops were used to prevent violence in a street car strike.

Hearing Demanded On Wood Pulp Bill Washington, June 21 (AP)—Representative Wallgren (D., Wash.), yesterday filed with the house ways and means committee a petition demanding an immediate hearing on a bill by Representative Samuel B. Hill (D., Wash.), providing for a 33 1/3 per cent excise tax on imported chemical wood pulp. Sixty-two members of the house had signed the petition. The issue apparently was brought to a head by the recent announcement of the state department that chemical wood pulp was bound to the free list in the proposed reciprocal trade agreement.

BEHUNKEN HEADS SYNOD Cleveland, June 21 (AP)—The Rev. Dr. J. W. Behnken, Houston, Texas, today replaced the Rev. Dr. Frederick Protenhauer of Chicago, as president of the Missouri Synod of the Lutheran church.

WERNER LEADS FOR DIRECTOR

Envelopes with final returns on the non-high school director election in zone 4 held last Monday came into County Superintendent Fulkerson's office today and she stated she would call a special meeting of the non-high school board for tomorrow or Monday to canvass the votes. As none of the envelopes from the 27 districts voting will be opened until the vote is canvassed there is no official return as to the results, but from unofficial reports of chairmen bringing in the ballots it was indicated that Ernest Werner, incumbent, was leading A. E. Kusan, contesting Werner for the place, but how much Mrs. Fulkerson could not say. She has also just completed her report as secretary of the non-high school board covering the finances for the last school year showing total receipts of $70,413.50. Total expenditures were $51,525.16 with a balance on hand of $18,888.34. Traveling expenses of the board amounted to $180.55, with $185.55 paid out as interest while tuition paid totaled $50,861.42. The total expenses for administration aside from traveling expenses of the board amounted to $64.44.

Mrs. Fulkerson reported today that for the first time since she has been in office, all the high school reports from over the county have been filed with her during the same week as the annual meeting.

Medford, Ore., June 21 (AP)—Melvin Franklin Sallee, 28, former resident of Lane county, was sentenced to seven years and six months in state prison this morning in circuit court, for conviction of a statutory offense, involving a seven year old Central Point girl.

The court denied a stay of execution on commitment to the penitentiary, sought by Sallee's counsel. Basil Petroff, 45, Ashland, who entered plea of guilty to a statutory offense, against a six year old Ashland girl, was sentenced to five years and six months in state prison.

Floyd Sheppard, Roseburg lad and escapee from the state training school at Woodburn, and George L. Roberts, 29, transient youth, were each sentenced to state prison for two years on their pleas of guilty to theft of an auto from the streets of this city.

BEER WINDOWS SMASHED Portland, Ore., June 21 (AP)—Windows in seven beer parlors were broken today as a result of the argument between the Teamsters' Union and Brewery Workers' Union over beer hauling, police said. The vandals hurled bricks through the windows and some beer signs.

JONES RECOVERING PORTLAND HOSPITAL Portland, Ore., June 21 (AP)—Frank Jones, 41, of Hubbard, was recovering in a hospital today from injuries declared to have been suffered when a bearing burst at the Ray-Malling cannery at Woodburn yesterday. Jones' left eye was injured.

SIX VEHICLES IN THIS FREAK WRECK Shoals, Ind. (AP)—Three trucks, an automobile, a passenger train and a lawnmower were the chief actors in a wreck here. Fred Wright was approaching a train crossing with his transport truck, loaded with two trucks and an automobile, when he saw the train coming. He swerved to avoid it and then leaped.

The truck ran through a yard and cut away a lawnmower, which Jack Boyd was pushing, leaving him just the handle to hold. The truck then hit the engine, wrecking it, self and cargo, and springing a leak in the locomotive. Not even minor injuries resulted.

FORCED TO RETURN CHAIN LETTER COIN Butte, Mont., June 21 (AP)—Coming as a backwash to the recent chain letter craze, Butte police held "open house" Thursday for those who lost their dollars to a promoter from Spokane, Wash. It was pay day in every sense of the word. Nearly $100 was passed out to victims, after police forced the promoter to reimburse his customers. It was the second time money had been paid, since the chain letter store operator gave back another $100 several weeks ago. The store operated only a few hours before being closed by police. It called for a payment of $2 and was guaranteed to return $27 "or your money back." The broker collected one dollar from each customer for "expenses."
