

TAKES POISON IN COURT BUT WILL RECOVER

New York, June 21 (UP)—In keeping with the bizarre slaying of his wife and wounding of the man he believed to be her lover, Peter Christ, 32, ripped two poison tablets from his coat lining in homicide court today and gulped them down.

Christ's spectacular act in court showed the same cunning that he displayed in forcing his way into his wife's apartment, killing her and setting up a home-made electric chair allegedly to torture and kill a man who admitted himself to the apartment later. The intended victim escaped by a desperate dash for the door, but was wounded.

Christ's young son witnessed the killing of his mother. The slayer later walked into the office of a newspaper and announced the crime.

Taken to court today for arraignment, Christ announced: "I've just taken poison."

He fell to the floor writhing in pain.

He was taken to the prison ward of Bellevue hospital where it was believed he would recover. His arraignment was postponed.

Since his arrest, Christ has asked permission to kill himself.

WAR ABOUT OVER IN SOUTH SALEM

All's quiet in the Salem Heights sector. Cease firing orders have been issued. An armistice has been arranged and reparations will be made. Hostilities cease on or about July 10.

Armed over a steady barrage of rocks hurled through blasting operations, Salem Heights people in the vicinity of the Oregon Gravel company's rock crusher on the Dr. Fred Berger place, mobilized in defense of life and property after considerable property damage had been done, several casualties occurred and nerves shattered. To add insult to injury, the denotations continued through most of the nights.

Under terms of the armistice, there will be no more blasting between the hours of 11 p. m. and 5 a. m.

Blasting operations will permanently cease on or about July 10 and the pit shut down.

Residents whose property has been damaged will be reimbursed for any loss sustained and necessary repairs made.

Many Delinquents Pay Up Their Taxes

Publication of a list of some 1100 pieces of Marion county property on which the county was ready to foreclose if delinquent taxes were not paid resulted in something of a rush to the tax collector's office yesterday to pay up. Taxes involved were those of 1926 to 1930 inclusive. Also some delinquents for later years, whose property was not on the list, paid their taxes in part or in full.

The office announced that anyone owing taxes for the 1926-1930 period who pays back interest and penalty and one-tenth of the principal will be accorded a postponement of six months before foreclosure. If another five-tenths is paid within the six months two years will be given to pay the remaining four-tenths.

IDENTIFICATION OF AIRPLANES TAUGHT JIMMIE ALLEN CADETS

Could you "Spot" These Planes or Sight? These well known types are the subjects for model builders in the big Jimmie Allen model building contest. Upper left is a Douglas transport, and immediately below it, a Stinson 4-place cabin ship. Upper right is the Northrop mail plane; below that, a Curtiss-Wright "Baby Bunting." Lower right is a Boeing transport and bottom center, a Kinner 4-place cabin plane.

How many boys and girls can identify the make and model of an airplane on sight? At a recent Jimmie Allen Air Meet, Flying Cadets noted with envy how veteran pilots, standing on the ground, could spot a ship approaching the airport and immediately tell its make, wing spread, power and other characteristics.

On the highway, almost any boy or girl can call out the make and model of an approaching automobile. And because of the Jimmie Allen model building contest, within the next few weeks a half million Flying Cadets will be able to do the same with airplanes.

This is because the official model building plans have been scaled down from the actual working blue prints used in the building of such famous airplanes as the Douglas, Boeing, Northrop, Stinson, Kinner and Curtiss-Wright "Baby Bunting."

Eager boys and girls, building their models from such authentic plans, will quickly learn the differences between the various ships. For instance, shapes of the wings are different in every one of these types. Among the transports the front edge of the Boeing wing presents an almost straight line, while on the Douglas it is the rear edge of the wing that is straight.

Other characteristics become apparent as the plans are studied and work on the models proceeds. A whole new world of interest is opened up by this wonderful contest, and it is a whole lot of daddies do not "horn in" on this fascinating pastime it will be a big surprise to everybody.

As previously announced, these official plans have been printed in a handsome folder, and all Jimmie Allen Flying Cadets desiring to enter the great contest may get a copy from any Richfield service station. The competition and its long list of wonderful prizes is restricted to members of the Jimmie Allen Flying club, but anyone may join the club. Get information from the nearest neighborhood Richfield dealer.

Cadets are also invited to make full use of their local "downtown headquarters" at the Miller Mercantile company, Salem, where help on model building problems may be freely obtained.

Gervais — Mr. and Mrs. Galtely are occupying the Grassman home recently vacated by Wadsworth. Galtely is principal of the high school and after a week spent visiting they will be here for the summer months.

Mt. Angel — Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Cousins and daughter Lorraine returned to their home in Seattle after spending the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Schwab. Mrs. Schwab returned to Seattle with them to spend a few days at their home.

Silverton — Martha Belle Whittiker of the Seattle school was visiting Silverton friends Wednesday. Miss Whittiker was instructor in the science department of the local schools for a number of years.

FIRST AID CAR PROBABLE HERE

Prospects are bright again for Salem to have an emergency first aid car. Of identical type with the Portland car that Captain Fred W. Roberts of the Portland fire department had on exhibition in Salem yesterday.

As a result of Captain Roberts' visit a meeting of the fire committee of the city council was called with Fire Chief Harry Hutton, Captain Roberts, and Senator Douglas McKay, representing the American Legion. The committee will recommend that Mayor V. E. Kuhn appoint a committee to study means of raising the necessary money by public subscription. The car will be named in honor of Floyd McMullen, call fireman who lost his life in the state house fire April 25, and its cost will be about $2300.

Among local agencies that will cooperate in the movement are the Salem General hospital and the Physicians and Surgeons Hospital association. They have agreed to sterilize instruments and supplies and furnish some first aid items.

Captain Roberts left last night for Tillamook and Taft and will visit numerous other cities while on his 60-day tour. Governor Martin, Secretary of State Earl Snell, Mayor Kuhn, Alderman Merrill D. Ohling and Cuyler Van Patten, Fire Chief Hutton, Senator McKay and Captain Roberts were photographed with the car while it was here.
