SALEM BOY WANTED FOR MICKEY MOUSE

When one hundred boys and girls sign a petition for a certain entertainer to perform at a Mickey Mouse matinee—well—then he must be in great favor with them. So this Saturday the Elsinore club's program will be headed by George Fowler, a Salem boy, who is a very clever tap dancer.

Others on the well rounded broadcast show are Ildria Beach, Leone Goff, "Freddie" Reynolds, Margaret Jean Southwick, Naomi Lee, "Chuck"

Bier, Marie Lippold, Gwen Gallagher, Agnes Moore, and Jay Teed. These numbers are accompanied by Brad Collins, who, in his recent "debut" as a member of the Mickey Mouse Gang, has grown to be an exceedingly popular addition. The special feature is "S.O.S. Iceberg," a story of the border patrol in the ice lands. The entire show includes chapter eight of "Call of the Savage"—and the regular feature—non-sensical—Wheeler and Woolsey in "The Nitwit."

Aurora—Dr. and Mrs. Merle W. Moore of Portland were recent dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Will.

LAST CHANCE For Utility Investors

Now is your last chance to help prevent a grievous injustice to millions of American citizens. Now is your last chance to protest against the Wheeler-Rayburn utility bill, which if passed by the House of Representatives, will destroy your or your neighbor's investments. The bill, with its drastic provisions to abolish holding companies, was forced through the Senate in spite of strong opposition.

AMERICANS DO NOT WANT THIS BILL

The American people see the unfair, destructive character of this bill. They do not want it.

Senator Neely of West Virginia said he had received 23,000 messages from his constituents. On the basis of a tabulation of the letters he had actually read (a large number), only 69 wanted the bill passed; 22,931 desired that it be defeated.

A poll of the nation's press taken by Newsdom shows that 404 papers are against the Wheeler-Rayburn bill, and 197 for it. A recent count by The United States News shows 83% of the newspapers commenting opposed to the bill. What is more representative of the public than the public press?

Not one representative of utility customers or investors urged that the bill be passed, in hearings before the Senate and House committees. On the other hand, investors' organizations, business groups of all kinds, State public utilities commissioners, insurance companies and savings banks, and thousands of persons like yourself have protested against it. Even the President's own business advisory group, the Roper Council, opposed the destruction of holding companies.

BILL FORCED THROUGH SENATE

Yes, the Senate has voted to wipe out utility holding companies. But an amendment which would have done away with the "death sentence" provision was beaten by the margin of only one vote—45 to 44—and only as the result of most desperate efforts by Administration forces. Says The Wall Street Journal in a report on the voting:

Emil Hurja, patronage distributor for Postmaster General Farley, was seen dashing here and there around the Senate just before the vote was taken. It is an open secret that the Administration's control over $4,880,000,000 was the deciding factor when the final vote was taken on the amendment.

So the money which you pay in taxes to help recovery was used to force Senators to destroy your savings. Do not let this happen when the bill comes up for a vote in the House. Urge your Representatives not to let patronage lead them into forgetting your interests by voting for the Wheeler-Rayburn bill merely because the Administration demands the bill be passed.

One reason why the Administration is so insistent upon having this bill passed, when there is a vast majority of popular sentiment against it, may be found in the statement of Senator Dietrich, himself a Democrat: "This bill, instead of regulating and correcting the evils that exist in holding companies, is an effort to bring about public control of all the utilities in the United States." Government ownership and operation of electric and gas companies means more political bureaus, more political jobs,—and more taxes.

Urge Your Congressman To Heed Your Wishes

You have every right to make your wishes heard. And if your wishes are disregarded you have every right to elect new Congressmen who will represent you more faithfully.

Now is your last chance to help defeat this bill which will wipe out practically all utility holding companies and the savings of millions of utility investors. If you have no utility investments, act for your neighbor who has.

Isn't it worth the price of a telegram or the effort of a letter to let your Representatives in Congress know that you want them to vote against this wanton destruction of the property of good American citizens? Act now. It is your last chance.

78-Year Old Woman Writes Her Representative

DEAR SIR: As your office calls upon you to represent the people and act for their rights, I as a citizen of your district ask you to vote against House Bill No. 5423, as I am opposed to this legislation that puts public utilities under Federal commissions and management by government.

I am 78 years old, and have a small investment in the utilities which brought me my income upon which to live. I don't want old age pension, I only want what I have honestly earned and I expect honest returns from the use of money invested.

If the government taxes and probes utilities all the time, how can they pay their interest? What is the reason for such drastic legislation? I protest and hope you will act against such bills.

Yours respectfully,
Mrs. _____
