KINGFISH SEEKS PRESIDENCY IN 1936 ELECTION

time many republicans have felt they could win if Long would run to take "radical" votes away from the democrats.

One western republican senator, whose state has gone democratic in the past two elections, said there was no doubt it would go republican today, if Long should run. He said the Louisianan would easily take enough votes from the democrats to deliver the state's electoral ballots to the republicans, as La Follette did in 1924.

Rivalling the Long reports in capitol attention were denials by Senators Glass and Byrd that they would bolt the democratic ticket next year. Taking notice of published intimations to that effect the Virginians reminded neither "has ever bolted a party nomination, local, state or national."

Long told his senatorial colleagues that he would enter many of the state primaries and give President Roosevelt as much of a battle at the convention as possible. He said if the president was renominated he would then decide whether to run independently or join forces with the republicans.

Though Long's plans excited republicans to high hopes for 1936, they were not counting chickens ahead of time. They realized it was possible for him to change his mind. And some wondered whether his strategy was not entirely designed to influence the republican nomination.

Meanwhile, other developments in the political field engaged the capital's interest. One was a statement by Senator Capper (R., Kans.), that any of a number of republican presidential possibilities could defeat Mr. Roosevelt next year.

Another was word coming from administration circles indicating that Mr. Roosevelt may have something to say on constitutional questions and other matters in his forthcoming trip to the west coast.

Maria Jeritza and Sheehan Honeymoon

Santa Barbara, Calif., Aug. 13 (UP)—Maria Jeritza, former leading dramatic soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company in New York, and Winfield Richard Sheehan, former Fox film executive, prepared today for a European honeymoon.

The stately, golden haired diva, was married to Shehan yesterday in the stucco chapel of the historic mission Santa Barbara. They went to Sheehan's Hidden Valley ranch to prepare for the trip to Europe.
