

14 SUCCEED IN REACHING TOP OF MOUNTAIN

Woodburn—Of a party of 21 who left here Wednesday evening to climb Mt. Hood by moonlight, 14 succeeded in reaching the top. They report extremely cold weather, so cold that the water in their canteens froze on the way, and a very strong wind. The view by moonlight was superb and they were able to see Portland plainly and could see Beacon lights as far south as Eugene.

Those reaching the top were B. W. Dunn, P. Sidney Johnson, Bob Bonney, Floris Nelson, Mary Jane Shaw, Esther Aline, Jack Guis, Russell Guis, Hollis Ottaway and his cousin from Wacoma, Kenneth Gallagher, Dale Ashland, Justin Hunt and Gerald Nibler.

Those in the party who turned back at the crater on account of the cold were Blaine McCord, Jr., Barbara Jensen, Dick Whitman, John Eddy, Philbert Hunt, Elizabeth Hunt and Mona Segund.

LINN LINES

Albany and county news in brief

RESIDENTS OF SCHOOL TOWN MOURN FRIEND

Monmouth—Mrs. Inez Churchill, wife of J. A. Churchill, president of Oregon Normal school, who died in Good Samaritan hospital Monday, had endeavored herself to Monmouth's citizens during her short residence here of a few years.

Of untiring effort and always ready to cooperate in matters of a benevolent nature, Mrs. Churchill's influence was felt in civic and church affairs. The establishment of Monmouth's public library was largely brought about by her aid. She was prominently affiliated with St. Hilida's Guild and Episcopal church and assisted in financing the building of the latter, erected during the past year. She was a member of the student loan fund committee of the Federated Women's clubs and a member of P.E.O.

All activities at the Oregon Normal school ceased Tuesday, the day of Mrs. Churchill's funeral services. Interment was in Cityview cemetery in Salem. All faculty members, their families and many local people attended the rites held from the Episcopal church.
