

WILLAMETTE SETTLES DOWN FOR CPS GRID BATTLE

BEARCATS PLAY SMART GAME TO BEAT COYOTES

A Willamette university football team, looking every bit as impressive as the one of a year ago which went through its conference season undefeated, settled down today to the serious business of preparing for its second family row—that with College of Puget Sound next Saturday night at Tacoma. Following this contest the Bearcats will rest until Armistice day when they meet Pacific on Sweetland field. If no other game is scheduled in the meantime Willamette will then take a vacation until Thanksgiving day when Whitman is taken on at Walla Walla.

Displaying about everything a smart football team should know, the Bearcats rolled up a 47 to 6 victory over College of Idaho Saturday night. The Coyotes' much publicized forward pass attack proved a boomerang when watchful Bearcats made touchdowns out of three interceptions—one coming after Oravec had snared the ball in mid-field and side-stepped his way through the entire Coyote squad. The dash was one of the most thrilling seen in recent years. At half time Willamette had a 14 to 0 lead.

With a lead of 35 to 0, Coach Keene sent in a string of reserves which promptly put on a show which resulted in two additional scores. A complete change in strategy featured the shift of players. Where the first string had for the most part played straight orthodox football, the reserves engaged in a little slight-of-hand. The result was both profitable and pleasing.

Bill Stone, playing with the first string, gave an excellent exhibition of ball toting as did "Jiggs" Burnett, who played with the reserves. In fact there appeared little difference in the capabilities of the ball carriers or the linemen for that matter. Weisberger made every attempt at conversion while he was in the game.

Willamette came through the game with the minimum number of injuries. Williams, peppy center, received a bruised leg but he will be ready to go against the Loggers. Abbott, Erickson, Brandon and Olson are expected to round into condition by next Saturday.

RAIDING DONS BEAT GONZAGA

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 21 (AP)—The raiding Dons of San Francisco university were homebound today after trouncing Gonzaga's eleven, 20 to 0, Sunday in a football-tossing exhibition to rival a professional juggler's act.

The Dons scored one touchdown through the air and paved the way for one other with a sensational display of forward and lateral passing. Baccharini, Peterson and Gerardin of the San Francisco backfield, were the stars of the aerial show, with the former doing most of the throwing.

The visitors struck for two touchdowns in the second period. Puel, fullback, plunged 11 yards for the first after a 23-yard dash by Baccharini. Captain Blewett, tackle, placed-kicked the extra point.

Three successful passes brought the second touchdown a few minutes later, with Peterson scoring. The try for point failed.

The final touchdown, in the fourth period, followed an 18-yard pass, Peterson to Reid, to the Gonzaga 19. Wells, a substitute halfback, plunged to the touchdown. Reid's placed-kick hit the goal post and bounded over the bar.

Gonzaga's only scoring threats were in the first five minutes and the last five. The Bulldogs were stopped on the 2-yard mark both times.

Phil Sarboe, Card quarterback, ran a punt back 80 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter and Bill Smith converted.

The New York Giants strengthened their hold on first place in the eastern division by whipping Boston, 17-6 scoring all their points in the first five minutes.

The Chicago Bears took over the lead in the western section by defeating Brooklyn, 24 to 14.

Green Bay Packers trimmed the Detroit Lions 13-9.

DUCK SLAUGHTER STARTED TODAY

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—The roar of thousands of guns sounded throughout 29 northern zone states today as the fall duck hunting season began at 7 a. m.

Although this season's sport will be held under the most restricted regulations ever imposed, opportunities for the best sport in years has been predicted by more game birds in America, Inc., a New York foundation which conducted a "duck census" and estimated that perhaps 65,000,000 birds would fly south.

This year's restriction include the limiting of the shooting to the hours between 7 a. m. and 4 p. m., daily; the prohibition of live decoys and baiting duck pens to kill; a bay held to 10 birds per day and the limiting of all firearms to three shots. Sinkboxes, sneak boats and open water shooting also are taboo.

The shooting season, applying to geese, brant, jacksnipe, ducks and coot, will continue until Nov. 19. The season in the southern zone states will open Nov. 20 and run until December 19.

J. N. (Ding) Darling, federal survey chief, figures that 24,000,000 ducks will make the southern flight from Canada and northern United States and that 12,000,000 will be killed by hunting or natural cause.

3 TEAMS TIED IN NORTHWEST BALL CIRCUIT

Portland, Oct. 21 (AP)—End of the third week of play in the Northwest football conference found Willamette, Linfield and College of Puget Sound in a three-way tie for top position.

Spec Keene's Bearcats, after trouncings by teams of the big conference, thrashed soundly their first N.W. conference opponent, College of Idaho, 47-6.

College of Puget Sound, which also has one victory and no defeats, did not play last week. The Loggers are training their big guns for the Willamette clash at Tacoma next Saturday night. Coach Ray Sandberg's team was the last conference eleven to score a win over Willamette—a 6-0 victory in the 1933 opener.

Linfield dropped a 7-6 heartbreaker to University of Portland in a non-conference clash at Portland Saturday. Linfield gets back into conference play next Saturday, meeting Ashland's southern Oregon Normal at Roseburg.

Coach Joey Mack's Albany college team stepped into the national headlines Saturday when it dropped a 14-0 non-conference game to Southern Oregon Normal for the Pirates' 28th straight defeat. It gave Albany unduped possession of the national consecutive defeat record, formerly held jointly by Knox and Hobart. Albany hasn't won a game since Thanksgiving day, 1931, and probably will drop another Saturday when entertaining Pacific.

Only untied and unscored upon major team in the west, the University of California pits its power against the University of Southern California.

Unbeaten Coast Teams Face Stiff Opposition In Next Round of Play

San Francisco, Oct. 21 (AP)—Mid-season football battles along the Pacific slope this week-end will see the three remaining undefeated conference teams defending their positions, two of them against formidable opposition.

Flushed with its 21 to 0 triumph over Washington State college last Saturday, the unbeaten University of Washington eleven takes on Stanford, Pacific coast conference leader the last two years.

The University of California at Los Angeles, which defeated Stanford 7 to 6 a week ago, hopes to keep its record unblemished in its annual game with the University of Oregon.

California, a once mighty foe now fallen to low estate. Among the three league leaders, the Californians of Berkeley have the easiest assignment. Southern California took its second beating in two weeks Saturday by losing 13 to 7 to Oregon State college. California cleared a tough hurdle in winning 6 to 0 from University of Santa Clara in a non-conference affair.

The Southern California supporters who have not given up hope believe Coach Howard Jones had not yet hit upon the proper team combination. At California, Coach "Stub" Allison apparently has fitted together the units necessary to win games.

The victory over Washington State definitely established Coach Jimmy Pielan's Washington crew as a puny contender. Against Stanford, the punting of Elmer Logg may be a decisive factor. Idle last week-end, Stanford will line up against Washington without the services of Frank Alustiza, halfback veteran who suffered a serious eye injury in the game with U.C.L.A.

Washington may go onto its home field the local favorite but few if any observers intend to sell Stanford too short, especially if backfield star Bobby Grayson and Honus Hamilton return to good condition this week.

The UCLA Bruins, defensively an outstanding team, face stiff competition from an Oregon eleven undeniably of powerhouse qualifications. The heat in the Los Angeles collegium, in case of warm weather, may weigh heavily against the northerners.

Jeopardy for conference standings also will be the already once beaten Oregon State and Washington State teams, playing at Portland, while the twice beaten Montana and Idaho squads, will play at Moscow.

Among the strong independents, Loyola entertains Texas Tech Friday night in Los Angeles; the Universities of Portland and Santa Clara meet in San Francisco Saturday, and St. Mary's and University of San Francisco square off Sunday.

Coach Mack Gloomy over Sick Player

Albany, Ore., Oct. 21 (AP)—The grim spectre of tragedy threatened to further blight the Albany college football team which has been afflicted with 28 consecutive football defeats for an unwanted national championship.

Joe Tercher, all northwest conference center who was a 69 minute man until taken ill with pneumonia and blood poison a week ago, was given only a slim chance of recovering.

"We're not thinking of our defeat record or our next game; just hoping our sick man Tercher will pull through," said Coach Joe Mack who inherited part of the defeat string when he came to Albany.

"All members of the team volunteered blood transfusions. One of the three chosen is John Nichols, a senior who has played in all 28 of the defeats over a four year period. (Freshmen may compete with the varsity in the northwest conference.)

"We may postpone next Saturday's game with Pacific university I don't know. We are still practicing, but the boys feel gloomy."

Coach Mack said Tercher was taken ill while returning with the squad from Caldwell, Idaho, last week.

"A bruise on his arm was given prompt medical attention, but blood poison set in," the coach said.
