GUMP CREATOR OLD FRIEND OF BOB BOARDMAN

Sidney Smith, creator of "The Gumps" comic strip, who was accidentally killed in an automobile accident yesterday, was a personal friend and former teacher of Bob Boardman, Salem social worker, cartoonist and insurance man.

Boardman took art lessons from Smith when the latter was an instructor in the Academy of Fine Arts in Chicago, and Boardman has a number of Smith's originals. At that time Smith was just beginning his Gumps idea and was uncertain whether it would go across with the publishers and the public.

PASSION PLAY CAST ARRIVES

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the Passion Play Tuesday. The ticket sale has been strong, however, there are still plenty of good and choice seats available for Tuesday at headquarters office. The 2:30 p. m. matinee performance is almost completely sold out, only a very few seats in each price section are available for adults. Salem and surrounding community can little afford to let such an opportunity to see the play pass without a large majority of its residents seeing it.

The professional cast carrying more than eight tons of scenery has arrived in the city and a last rehearsal under the direction of Dr. Alfred Wolff, author of the English version, will be held tonight in the lodge room of the Elks club, local sponsors of the presentation. Sidney E. Irving, musical director of the company will hold final rehearsal this afternoon with the large chorus and orchestra, together with Miss Dorothy Tillman, soprano-soloist of the Passion Play who will sing the Oblivato of the "Inflamatus" from the "Stabat Mater" by Rossini and the "Ave Maria" by Bach-Gounod.

Mill Tillman in the stage play portrays the character of Mary, the mother of Jesus, in which role, according to numerous dramatic critics she looks very much like the "Madonna" portrayed in numerous famous paintings.

The character of Simon Peter, apostle, is portrayed by Creston Wright, who gives a very fine interpretation of this disciple and John the Beloved, another disciple of Jesus, is enacted by Milton Redford, both members being with the company since it first started giving the presentation in English.

SECRETARY DERN TO VISIT NANKING

Shanghai, Oct. 21 (AP)—George H. Dern, American secretary of war, here for a visit while en route to Manila for ceremonies establishing the new Philippine commonwealth, will go to Nanking Tuesday night for conferences with Premier Wang Ching Wei and War Minister Ho Ying Chin.

Landing from the cruiser Chester today, Dern said no problems of state would be discussed at Nanking.

He reiterated no change was contemplated in the status of the American fleet in Asiatic waters as a result of the Philippines' autonomy.

BUSTER KEATON SERIOUSLY SICK

Los Angeles, Oct. 21 (AP)—Buster Keaton, screen comedian of the frozen face, was confined today in the psychopathic ward of the national military home at Sawtelle, hospital authorities disclosed. Suffering from a nervous breakdown, the comedian was taken to the hospital late yesterday in straight jacket.

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 21 (AP)—Apprehension was felt in the screen colony today over the condition of Buster Keaton, somber-faced funmaker, who lies seriously ill in a hospital.

Dr. John Shuman of Santa Monica, the comedian's physician, said he was "suffering from a nervous breakdown brought on by family and financial worries."

An attack of influenza sent Keaton to bed several days ago, Dr. Schuman said and the nervous condition followed.

"His condition is very grave, and it was necessary to remove him from his home to a hospital for complete isolation," the physician added.

ARTHUR HENDERSON DEAD IN LONDON

London, Oct. 21 (AP)—Arthur Henderson, implacable foe of war, died without knowing his great dream of world peace had been shattered by the boom of guns in east Africa.

Attaches of the west and nursing home where the president of the world disarmament conference died last night disclosed today that Henderson—whose indefatigable crusade for peace was inspired by the death of his eldest son in the World war—had not seen a newspaper for six weeks.

Scores of the nation's leaders intent on forging Great Britain's foreign policy where he left off in 1931, when the labor government fell, paid him tribute as a gentle, beloved idealist known as "Uncle Arthur."

Henderson who less than a month ago underwent an operation, won the Nobel peace prize in 1934.

Mytinger then said that he read later in newspapers that Oxman offered to produce this same Ed Rigall as a corroborating witness to Oxman's testimony in the San Francisco bombing.

Mooney's counsel contended that Oxman, who died a few years ago, was a professional perjurer.

with the strenuous objection of Emory Mitchell, assistant attorney general, representing the state of California. Referee Shaw ruled, while sustaining the objection, that the testimony be taken subject to a ruling by the California courts as to ultimate use of the statements.

Tate's testimony concerned Frank V. Woods, of Portland, who was a railroad agent in Durkee at the time Oxman lived there. He said Woods told him shortly after the San Francisco bombing: "I have a man who saw the Mooney bombing and he wants me to tip him off to the authorities for $1,000." Tate said he told Woods to "let it alone; it's blood money." Again, he said, when he learned that Oxman was the man Woods referred to, he warned him to "stay out of it."

Under the same form of sustained objection, testimony of Frank Mytinger, Pendleton dairyman and former Union Pacific railway conductor, was recorded.

Mytinger declared that Oxman appeared as a witness for the railroad in a damage suit against John Spain at a trial in Baker, Ore. Mytinger, who knew Oxman, said the stockman was not on the train with Spain but that Oxman testified he was.

Oxman also volunteered to railroad officials, Mytinger testified, to produce a corroborating witness named Ed Rigall of Illinois. Mytinger

PLAN MODIFICATION OF POTATO CONTROL

Washington, Oct. 21 (AP)—Modification of the compulsory potato control law by the next congress was predicted today by Secretary Wallace.

Speaking over a national broadcasting company hookup, the secretary of agriculture said:

"There is every reason to think if I may judge from comments by congressmen who are close to potato growers, that the potato law will be considerably modified by congress next January."

Wallace urged cooperation between farm and urban residents in solving the nation's economic difficulties, asserting that "farmers need

STATE LEGION CHIEF TELLS OF RED MENACE

Communism versus Americanism and not the adoption of specific offered plans such as the Townsend plan, soldiers' bonus or others, George L. Koehn, of Portland, state commander of the American Legion, told the chamber of commerce Monday noon in presenting the national American Legion program and urging the support of all patriotic citizens. This issue, he said, is the most vital one today before the American people as communism is being taught in schools and colleges.

The divine right to rule comes from the people themselves and not from a group centered in Moscow and recognizes the inherent rights of the individual and not merely the desire of a majority, Koehn said. He pointed out that the constitution has been changed and probably will be changed to permit permanent advantages. The test of the constitution was held to be proved by its survival through the birth pains of a nation, a civil war of four years and depressions. Due to the present financial condition of the nation literally millions of people are listening to the siren call of communism, Koehn declared.

"Constitutional democracy is at cross-roads today and a challenge exists as to whether the ideals upon which the government was formed shall continue to survive," Koehn said. "Necessity of commerce and finance after the Revolutionary war forced the adoption of the Constitution which has stood between the rocks of monarchy on one side and Utopian democracy upon the other. Its liberal principles are based upon liberty, freedom and justice and all other nations in the past which forced through dictatorship or control of a small group their desires upon their peoples have vanished from the earth."

WARNING SENT BY ETHIOPIANS

London, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Ethiopian legion issued a statement today warning Italy that Ethiopia will resort to savage methods of warfare if Italy does.

The statement said that if the Italian forces continue to use poison gas and dum dum bullets "against a simple and un-armed people, notwithstanding the orders of His Majesty Haile Selassie, it will not be possible to restrain the more wild and bereaved section of the Ethiopian army from retaliation by some similar savage methods on Italian soldiers who may happen to fall into their hands."

The statement urged the Italian ambassador therefore, "instead of troubling to deny what is true, to kindly be so good as to advise his people to fight fairly, if they must fight a brave, un-armed people."

The ambassador's denial of the use of poison gas and dum dum bullets is based on incorrect information, the statement said.
